* Sinking Funds were established in connection with these Railways to redeem India 3½ and 3 per Cent. Stock issued in lieu of Annuity or Debenture Stock. These Funds have been applied to the purchase of India Stock of the denomination offering the best yield. The minus figures represent the interest on India 7, 5½ and 2½ per Cent. Stock so purchased, and on India 3 per Cent. Stock purchased in excess of the amount issued.

† The Discount Sinking Fund in redemption of Debt incurred in excess of money raised, in respect of the India 3 per Cent. Stock issued in connection with the purchase of the Oude and Rohilkund Railway, has been partly applied to the redemption of India 7, 5½ and 3½ per Cent. Stock instead of India 3 per Cent. Stock.

INDIA AUDIT OFFICE, 11th January 1926.

W. A. STURDY, Auditor.

No. 3.

REPORT of the AUDITOR upon the ACCOUNTS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, from 1st April 1924 to 31st March 1925; prepared and submitted to the Secretary of State in Council, in pursuance of section 27 (5) of the Government of India Act.

1. This Report is divided into three sections relating respectively to—

I. Receipts and Expenditure on behalf of the Central Government under heads other than those relative to Military Services;

II. Receipts and Expenditure on behalf of the Central Government relating to Military Services; and

III. Expenditure on behalf of Provincial Governments.

The sections will be reviewed as follows: No. I by the Public Accounts Committee set up by the Central Legislative Assembly; No. II by a special Departmental Committee constituted by the Government of India; and No. III, subdivided into separate Reports for each Provincial Government, by the several Provincial Committees of Public Accounts.

SECTION I.—NON-MILITARY SERVICES.

GENERAL.

Increase of work.

2. In previous Reports reference has been made to the prolonged effects of the war on the work of the India Office. This continued during the year under review, and although in certain directions some relief is now being felt, there is, and will continue for some time, a considerable aftermath due to the economic disturbance still resulting as a consequence of the war. Apart from this the work of this Department has considerably increased—more especially as regards the audit of the Accounts of the High Commissioner, to which reference is made in my Report on the Accounts of that Office.

Under present arrangements all questions relating to the Staff of my Department are dealt with by the Secretary of State, and in March 1925 I put forward proposals for an increase of Staff which are still under consideration. The proposals received the support of the Secretary of State, but objections have been raised by the Treasury Department of the Imperial Government to whom they have been submitted. In connection with this matter I am making further representations to the Secretary of State which I hope will result in my being granted the Staff which I consider necessary to carry out the efficient audit of the Accounts submitted to me for that purpose.

Savings resulting from audit questions.

3. The total amount saved to Indian revenues as a result of audit questions relating to the Home Accounts for the year is estimated at about £120,000.

Of this, approximately £35,000 arises in the Accounts of the High Commissioner. The greater proportion of the total saving is attributable to a comparatively small number of questions affecting the allocation of expenditure between Indian and Imperial revenues.

These amounts do not take into consideration sums totalling about £52,000 which would have been reclaimed from the Imperial Government if they had not been included in the settlement referred to in para. 5, nor the amount of £44,000 referred to in para. 25 of Section II, since it is not certain that the claim, even in the absence of the audit objection, would have been admitted.

Expenditure requiring sanction by Imperial Parliament.

4. The sanction of the Imperial Parliament, which is necessary under the Government of India Act, has not yet been obtained for two payments from Indian revenues mentioned in previous Reports, viz. (1) £13,100,000 paid provisionally to the War Office in 1919 in respect of a further additional contribution by India towards the cost of the war, and (2) £200,000 paid to the War Office in 1921 as an advance subject to adjustment on account of the cost of exchange concession on gratuities. The submission for sanction has been deferred pending the settlement of various large claims by the Imperial Government against Indian revenues in respect mainly of non-effective liabilities arising out of the war. The efforts to reach a comprehensive settlement of the claims and counterclaims, which have been proceeding for a considerable time, were apparently nearing conclusion when new factors, favourable to India, emerged, and the negotiations are still incomplete.

5. In addition to the large claims referred to in the preceding paragraph, an attempt is also being made to settle various minor claims in dispute between the War Office and the India Office. A list of such claims, numbering between twenty and thirty, has been prepared, but settlement depends on agreement being reached on the major claims.

Railways.

6. Questions concerning Railway Accounts, whether Revenue or Capital, are, for convenience, dealt with in the following paragraphs, instead of the usual order being followed, viz. that of the Major Headings as shown in the Account.

Railway Revenue Receipts.

Surplus profits, Southern Punjab Railway.

7. The sum of £83,345 14*s.* is the balance of the Government share of the surplus profits of the Southern Punjab Railway Company for the year ended 30th September 1923, making the total amount received for that year £148,942 13*s.* 5*d.*

The instalment of £95,226 19*s.* 3*d.* on account of the year ended 30th September 1924 forms part of a total sum of £203,768 8*s.* 1*d.* received as the Government share of surplus profits for that year.

As mentioned in previous Reports, the Company, as the result of a question raised in audit, agreed to pay interest at Bank rate on the Government share while it remained in their hands. Interest for the year ended 30th September 1924 amounted to £3,981 7*s.* 10*d.*

Railway Capital Receipts.

Lease of premises, East Indian Railway.

8. The receipt of £24,000 is the amount agreed on in 1922 as the purchase price of the unexpired portion of the lease of the premises then occupied by the East Indian Railway Company. The money was placed on deposit in 1922 in the joint names of the purchasers of the lease and the Secretary of State, and was duly paid to the Secretary of State on the winding up of the Company.

Bengal and North Western Railway.

9. The Bengal and North Western Railway Company work a system that, in addition to the lines which are their own property, includes the Tirhut State Railway. The issue of special debenture stock, authorised by clause 3 of a contract dated 15th May 1919, to provide funds for capital expenditure, has been delayed hitherto owing to market conditions. In the meantime, capital expenditure on the Company's own lines has been met from their reserves, and the Secretary of State has provided funds for the Tirhut State Railway. In March 1925 an issue was made of £1,250,000 5 per cent. special debenture stock at 94½, of which £700,000 stock has been allocated to the Tirhut State Railway to provide for recoupment of advances. The receipt of £105,000 represents the amount received on this allocation up to and including allotment.

Railway Revenue Account.

East Indian Railway. Termination of contract.

10. The contract with the East Indian Railway Company terminated on 31st December 1924, after which date the line was transferred to direct State management in India, the purchase of stores and other agency work in this country being taken over by the High Commissioner for India. Amongst the liabilities taken over by the State was Guaranteed Debenture Stock issued by the Company aggregating £18,500,000. As the Company still maintain a staff in connection with the management of the annuity by which the State purchased the line in 1879, they asked to be permitted to continue to manage the Debenture Stock. This procedure being conducive not only to mutual convenience but also to mutual economy, an agreement was entered into from 1st January 1925 for seven years in the first instance. A test audit of the dividends issued to shareholders is carried out by this Department.

East Indian Railway. Compensation to Annuitants.

11. The compensation paid to the Deferred Annuitants of the East Indian Railway Company for the loss of income tax relief on the capital element contained in the ordinary annuity, ceased on their reversion to the status of ordinary annuitants from 1st January 1925. As a result of the reduction made in the standard rate of income tax, it appeared doubtful whether the amounts paid on account of compensation were correct, and as the result of a question raised in audit a sum of £740 was refunded to the Secretary of State in April 1925.

Railway Capital Account.

Payments for advertisements.

12. Questions were raised in audit regarding the expenditure incurred by two companies on advertisements in connection with the annual meetings and the closing of the Transfer Registers. In one case it was decided not to press the point in view of the imminent termination of the Company's contract; but in the other case it was decided to fix for the future a maximum annual amount some £300 less than the expenditure incurred in the year to which the audit question related.

Visits of Directors to India.

13. The Boards of Directors of the Guaranteed Railway Companies depute to India at suitable intervals, and after obtaining the approval of the Secretary of State, one or more of their members to consult with the staff and with the Railway Board. It may and does happen that a Director so deputed has other business interests in India to which he may devote part of his time while there. Questions were raised in audit in two such cases regarding the share of expenses borne by these outside concerns, and as a result it was made clear that in future the total expense incurred must be divided proportionately to the time spent in India for each interest.

Posts and Telegraphs Revenue Account.

Eastern Mail Service.

14. Under the revised arrangements regarding India's contribution to the cost of the Eastern Mail Service, to which reference was made in para. 18 of the last Report, the amount collected for sea postage on parcels sent from India is payable to the General Post Office. Ordinarily credit will be given by India in the London General Account, but the sum of £8,500, arrears on this account in respect of the period 1st April to 31st December 1923, was paid in this country at the request of India. The balance of the amount of £30,500 in the accounts for 1924–5 for payments under the postal arrangement, viz., £22,000, is an advance on account of the contribution for the year 1924–5. The whole of the payments made since 1st April 1923 are provisional and subject to adjustment when full details are available.

Amount due from Turkey.

15. With reference to para. 14 of the 1921–2 Report, and para. 19 of the last Report, the sum of £1,342 12*s.* 2*d.*, due to the Indo-European Telegraph Department, has not yet been recovered, but I understand that the amount has been claimed by the Foreign Office from the Turkish Government under the provisions of the Treaty of Lausanne.

General Administration.

Commission paid to the India Office brokers.

16. The commission of the India Office brokers, as shown in a footnote to the Account, amounted for the year under review to £11,328 11*s.* 9*d.*, but in addition they derived £2,046 17*s.* 6*d.* from commission at ¼ per cent. allowed by the Imperial Government on the conversion of certain Exchequer Bonds, of which there was a large holding in the Gold Standard Reserve. This commission, which was payable only in respect of applications received through a stockbroker or banker, amounted in all to £8,187 10*s.*, but it was stipulated that three-fourths of that amount should be surrendered to the India Office.

The total amount received by the brokers as remuneration for services rendered to the India Office thus amounted to more than £13,000, and but for the reductions in scale of commission effected in consequence of criticisms by this Department as from 1st April 1922 and 1st April 1923 respectively, would have reached £22,000.

The rate of commission has again come under review since the close of the financial year, but it was decided to make no change as the total was expected to be lower in the present year.

Political.

Diplomatic and Consular Establishments.

17. The deduction from the payments under this head of £68,680 4*s.* 8*d.* for receipts from the Foreign Office on account of the excess cost of Diplomatic and Consular Establishments in Persia, includes amounts received in adjustment of the accounts for 1915–6 to 1921–2, and an advance in respect of the year 1922–3. As the result of queries raised in audit it was ascertained that certain expenditure from Indian revenues amounting to Rs. 50,449. 9. 6, a moiety of which was recoverable, had been omitted from the statements received from India. In adjustment of the amount undercharged, £983 1*s.* 2*d.* has been included in the amount claimed in respect of 1922–3, and £702 1*s.* 4*d.* will be claimed in the next account.

Miscellaneous.

League of Nations.

18. £70,526 8*s.* 7*d.* was paid in 1924–5 in respect of India's contribution towards the expenses of the Secretariat of the League of Nations for the year ended 31st December 1924. The amount is approximately 6·9 per cent. of the total expenditure divisible among the members of the League less a share of the surplus from budgets of previous years.

As mentioned in para. 21 of the last Report, India's assessment for the year 1925 was reduced, the proportion being 6·4 per cent. of the total expenditure. For the years 1926, 1927, and 1928, a fresh scheme of assessment will be employed, based on amounts included in respect of certain normal items of expenditure in the budgets of the Member States for 1923. Under this assessment India will pay 56 out of 937 units, or just under 6 per cent. of the total expenditure.

Secret Service.

19. £5,000 was placed at the disposal of the Secretary of State during 1924–5 for Secret Service. The amount actually expended was £5,683, and the balance in hand on 31st March 1925 was £1,014 4*s.* 5*d.*

The Secretary of State has furnished me with a certificate that the expenditure was necessary for the public service.

Repatriation of enemy subjects interned in India.

20. The amount of £31,552 2*s.* 6*d.* included under the head Repatriation of Enemy Subjects interned in India was paid to the Shipping Liquidation Department for the transportation from India to Europe of ex-enemy subjects who were formerly resident in India. Of this amount £25,176 16*s.* in respect of German subjects is, under the provisions of the Treaty of Versailles, recoverable from Germany; and in accordance with the Paris Agreement of January 1925 will, after approval by the Reparations Commission, form a prior charge on the amount of reparations received before 1st September 1924, which is awaiting division. The balance of £6,375 6*s.* 6*d.* is the cost of repatriation of Austrian subjects. In view of the financial situation of that country, no claim for reimbursement has yet been made on the Austrian Government.

Commission on pensions and leave allowances paid abroad.

21. Reference was made in para. 24 of the last Report to the arrangements reached with Colonial Governments regarding commission on pensions paid to Indian pensioners resident in the Colonies.

The negotiations with the Commonwealth of Australia have now been completed, and the commission finally agreed on is 1½ per cent., subject to a maximum of £1 10*s.* on any one payment.

The adoption, as regards pensioners resident in Canada, of the suggestion made by this Department, that payment should be made through the agency of a Bank, will result in an annual saving of several hundred pounds. In the year under review the amount thus saved is about £700.

Loss on voyages of a chartered vessel.

22. An amount of £55,432 13*s.* 5*d.* appears under the subhead "Loss incurred on voyages to and from India of a vessel chartered in 1920 to meet the passage requirements of civilians." The vessel was chartered at a time of great congestion in shipping with the object of providing means of transport, which could not otherwise be obtained, for a large number of civilian and other Government passengers waiting to proceed to India. The management of the vessel was placed in the hands of one of the shipping lines, and arrangements were made to let freight and make the spare accommodation available for private passengers on repayment. The amount referred to is the net charge to Indian revenues of the cost of the double voyage after taking credit for freight and passage money received, and writing off to the service heads concerned the estimated cost under normal conditions of the Government passages. A scrutiny of the passage lists showed that the estimated amount charged to service heads was too small, and a further debit will reduce the loss to about £48,000. This heavy loss appears to be due mainly (1) to inability to utilise fully the accommodation of the vessel for the return voyage from India, and (2) to the fact that the vessel was expensive to run in proportion to its accommodation. The necessity of providing for the early return to duty of a number of Government officials holding return tickets of various lines contributed also in some degree to the loss, as the companies concerned refunded half the value of the return tickets, a smaller amount than the single passage rate fixed for the outward voyage of the chartered vessel. The account of receipts and payments in respect of the voyages has only recently been referred to my Department and is under examination.

Extraordinary Receipts.

Earnings of enemy ships transferred to revenue.

23. The sum of £1,400,000 credited to Revenue under the above head is a portion of the earnings of certain enemy ships which were captured in Indian ports during the war, and employed partly for Government purposes and partly in freight and passenger service under the control first of the Secretary of State and latterly of the High Commissioner.

£250,000 is similarly transferred to revenue in the Accounts of the High Commissioner for 1924–5, making, with the sum of £1,675,000 transferred in 1923–4, a total credit to revenue on this account of £3,325,000.

The balance of the amount earned up to 31st March 1925 remains in suspense under "Deposits and Advances," viz., £309,646 2*s.* 10*d.* in the account of the Secretary of State and £214,756 9*s.* 3*d.* in that of the High Commissioner.

It is anticipated that of this balance about £400,000 will be available for transfer to revenue in 1925-6 under the agreement which has been reached with the Imperial Government regarding the disposal of the sale proceeds and earnings of these ships. Briefly, that agreement was to the effect that India should retain the amount received from the sale of four of the ships which were condemned as "prize," viz., £105,976 4*s.* 7*d.*; the remaining six were classed as reparation ships, and were handed over to the Imperial Government for sale, the proceeds being taken into consideration in connection with reparation repayments by Germany. The earnings of the whole fleet were to be retained by India, but a readjustment of accounts was to be effected whereby the Imperial Government, instead of being charged with hire money at blue book rates for the periods during which some of the fleet were being used as troop transports, were to be charged only with the actual running expenses. £200,000 on this account was paid to the Ministry of Shipping in 1924–5 (see para. 28).

24. A further sum of £208,206 was credited to Revenue in 1924–5 on account of earnings of the fleet of enemy ships during the period of their control by the Director, Royal Indian Marine, prior to their transfer to the control of the Secretary of State.

The amount has been in suspense in the books of the Account Current between India and the Secretary of State, and it was recently decided that the adjustment involved in its transfer to Revenue under the agreement referred to in the preceding paragraph should be made in the Home Accounts.

Share of receipt from the German Government in respect of reparations under the Dawes Scheme.

25. The total annuity payable by Germany in respect of reparations under the Dawes Scheme for the year ending 31st August 1925 was about £50,000,000, of which, after various prior charges have been met, the British share for division among the various parts of the Empire has been calculated to be £6,837,915. Of this sum India is entitled to 1·2 per cent. or £82,054 19*s.* 6*d.*, of which £37,372 8*s.* 7*d.* is credited in the account under review and the balance has since been received.

Deposits and Advances.

26. Details of the suspense accounts under this heading are given in Appendix II to the Account (page 28).

Loans to Persia.

27. During 1924–5 repayments were made in accordance with the amortisation table drawn up in regard to the loans made in 1903 "for the purposes of the Persian Government." The principal outstanding on 31st March 1925 was £82,456 4*s.* 4*d.*

With regard to the later loans the principal outstanding on 31st March 1924, viz., £2,367,270 1*s.* 8*d.*, was transferred to Revenue in 1923–4, vide para. 67 of the last Report.

I am informed that it has not yet been found possible to arrive at any arrangement with the Persian Government for the repayment of these loans.

Enemy ships

28. The balance of £1,909,646 2*s.* 10*d.* at the credit of "Enemy Ships" on 31st March 1924 was reduced to £309,646 2*s.* 10*d.* by the transfer of £1,400.000 to Revenue and by the payment to the Ministry of Shipping of £200,000. This latter amount is an advance in respect of the readjustment of accounts consequent on the agreement regarding the disposal of earnings, &c., of the fleet of enemy ships (see para. 23).

Unrecovered loan.

29. Included in the balance at 31st March 1925 of Miscellaneous Advances is an amount of £2,000 advanced in March 1923 to the proprietor of a film-lecture relating to India, to enable him to undertake its production in this country. The advance was made without security and was to have been repaid within a year with interest. It has not yet been possible to secure repayment.

Remittances.

Sea transport of Indian regiments serving in the Colonies.

30. Most of the expenditure incurred in connection with the loan of Indian regiments for service in the Colonies is recovered from the Imperial Government by means of a Capitation Rate, but certain items, e.g. Sea Transport of units, are excluded from the rate and are claimed from the War Office, on receipt from India of the schedules of the Account Current in which the expenditure is debited. The responsibility for seeing that all amounts due are included in the Account Current devolves primarily on the Indian accounting and audit officers, but a general examination of the claims is made by this Department in the light of such information as may be available. In the course of such examination it was observed that no recovery appeared to have been made in respect of the hire of the R.I.M.S. Dufferin for the period of the voyage to Hong Kong and back in 1922 while conveying the 2/4th Grenadiers in relief of the 2/22nd Punjabis, and as a result of my asking that further information should be obtained from India it was ascertained that the necessary debit had not been raised. The amount due, viz., £26,410 2*s.* 3*d.*, is accordingly being recovered from the War Office.

Iraq transactions.

31. In connection with the transactions referred to as outstanding in para. 74 of the last Report, India has reported that the sum due from the Iraq Administration has been remitted to India. Repayment was accordingly made to the Colonial Office of the sums over-recovered in this country amounting to £304,957 14*s.* 11*d.*, less the amount of £47,687 2*s.* 2*d.*, referred to in para. 75 of the last Report, due to Indian revenues for expenditure on account of the political mission to Central Arabia in 1917–9, the net payment of £257,270 12*s.* 9*d.* being brought to account under the head "Payments to Imperial Government Departments: Miscellaneous Transactions."

Pensions of dependants of lascars killed in the war.

32. In para. 77 of the last Report reference was made to advances of £65,000 and £9,500 received from the Board of Trade in respect of the capitalised value of pensions, &c., paid and to be paid in India to dependants of lascars of British ships who lost their lives through war risks. A further sum of £1,232 3*s.* has recently been received in settlement of the amount due to India.

Appropriation Audit.

Methods of providing for English expenditure in the Indian Budgets.

33. In the Indian Budgets for 1924–5 provision for Home Expenditure continued to be made under grants of both the types described in my last Report, viz.:—

(a) Composite Home Grants—covering English expenditure only on a number of services for each of which there is a separate grant for Indian expenditure.

(b) Combined Subject Grants—covering the entire expenditure, whether English or Indian, on a particular service.

The method of making provision for Home expenditure varied with the different Governments, some of which brought their entire English expenditure under one type or the other, while the remainder, including the Central Government, made use of both types.

The possibility of securing uniformity of procedure for all Governments, to which I referred in the last Report, is still under consideration, together with that of delegating to the Home authorities, with regard to Home expenditure, the powers of reappropriation at present exercised by the Finance Departments of the Governments concerned.

Failure on the part of several Local Governments to notify me of all reappropriations affecting Home expenditure has been brought to the notice of the Finance Department of the Government of India, by whom instructions have now been issued which I hope will secure the prompt communication to me of all such information by the authorities concerned.

Appropriation Account.

34. I have adopted as the basis of the Appropriation Report on the accounts of the Secretary of State the Statement of Comparison of Estimated and Actual Expenditure prepared by the Accountant-General, India Office, copies of which were transmitted to India under cover of Accounts Despatch No. 7, dated 3rd September 1925. I have checked in detail the accuracy of the figures contained in the Statement, and have agreed generally the explanations furnished with regard to variations between estimated and actual expenditure.

35. Provision for voted expenditure in 1924–5 by the Secretary of State was distributed under ten Grants, of which those relating to quasi-commercial Services (Railway, Irrigation, &c.), Interest and Superannuation, were combined subject grants. All other expenditure was brought under a single composite grant (No. 58) covering a number of major heads under each of which there was a separate grant for the corresponding expenditure in India. The final position with regard to this grant was as follows:—

Budget.	Modifications sanctioned.	Final Grant.	Actual Expenditure.	Decrease.
238,800	+13,200	252,000	238,472	13,528

The additional provision of £13,200 for which a supplementary grant was voted by the Assembly proved to be unnecessary. The chief items in the decrease of £13,528 are:—

Office Contingencies - - - - -	2,503
Scientific Departments, sundry items - -	917
Miscellaneous Departments, sundry items - -	1,194
Miscellaneous, miscellaneous expenditure - -	8,616
	£13,230

Against an excess of £539 under Grant 13, Interest on Ordinary Debt, there was a deficiency of £66 in the expenditure by the High Commissioner from the same grant. There was, therefore, a net excess of £473 on the portion of the grant allocated to Home charges, which must be combined with any increase or decrease in the corresponding figures relating to Indian expenditure in order to determine the final position for the grant as a whole.

An excess of £174 under Grant 43, Civil Works, was offset by a deficiency of £802 in the corresponding expenditure by the High Commissioner.

In the case of the Railway Capital Account (Grant 60) the large reduction —approximately 33 per cent. of the original provision—in the revised estimate was presumably mainly due to the inability of the Companies to carry out in full the programme on which the Budget estimates were framed. Similar results were the subject of comment in the Auditor-General's Appropriation Report for 1923–4, and it is understood that the matter has received attention in connection with the separation of the Railway Budget.

36. With regard to the Non-Voted head, "Expenditure not charged to Revenue," provision for £18,500,000 under the sub-heading "East Indian Railway Debenture Stock outstanding on the termination of the Company's Contract" was balanced by an estimated receipt of like amount under "Permanent Debt incurred." It was originally intended to make under these heads book entries indicating the change in the status of this debenture stock consequent on the termination of the East India Company's contract. The Government of India preferred however, that the charge should be recorded in the capital account only, and that no entry should be made in the annual account; the decision on this point was reached too late to enable the provision already made to be withdrawn.

Changes in classification.

37. In connection with the separation of the Railway from the Ordinary Budget certain payments hitherto charged to "Railway Revenue Account" now appear under the head "Reduction or Avoidance of Debt." These are (a) Capital Portion of Annuities created in purchase of Railways, and (b) State Railways—Sinking Funds.

With regard to (a), the whole of the Annuities created in purchase of Railways has hitherto been charged to "Railway Revenue Account." In future the Capital Portion will be charged to "Reduction or Avoidance of Debt," and the Interest Portion to "Interest on Ordinary Debt."

The amount henceforth to be charged in perpetuity to Railway Revenue Account will be the interest on the Capital Portion of the Annuities which was outstanding on 31st March 1924.

With regard to (b), the Sinking Funds in question were formed to purchase and cancel stock created for the purchase of Railways, the interest on which was charged to Railway Revenue Account. As the amounts expended on this account will now be met from General Revenues the stock purchased and cancelled after 31st March 1924 will no longer operate in reduction of interest charged against Railways, which will remain constant at the figure reached on that date.

SECTION II.—MILITARY SERVICES.

Incorrect classification of furlough pay, &c.

1. Attention was called to several cases in which furlough pay, &c., debitable to Departments of the Imperial Government, &c., had been charged to Indian revenues. The more important of these are dealt with in paras. 2 to 7. In the remaining cases about £2,700 was recovered.

2. Furlough pay issued by the India Office to officers of the 2/20 Burma Rifles was being charged finally to Indian revenues. It was pointed out by this Department that the unit was serving abroad and that Malay States revenues were liable for these charges. £2,657 8*s*. 4*d*. was accordingly included in the Remittance Account for recovery in India from the Federated Malay States. A similar question has been raised regarding the leave pay of officers of another regiment serving in Malay and inquiry is being made as to the amount recoverable.

3. An officer of the British Army remained at the Quetta Staff College when his battalion left the Indian Establishment. It was pointed out by this Department that his pay while at the College became an Imperial charge from the date on which his unit embarked from India and £667 has been recovered from the War Office.

Inquiries are being made in India whether there have been other similar cases since the College reopened after the war in which pay is recoverable from the Imperial Government.

4. Three officers of the Indian Army proceeded from India to Iraq on deputation in November 1922, and the Colonial Office agreed to bear their deputation allowance. The question was raised by this Department whether their pay, &c., was not also recoverable from that Department. After correspondence the Colonial Office has agreed to bear all pay and allowances for the period of deputation, and, in addition, travelling expenses and a pension contribution are to be repaid to Indian revenues; the total additional amount recoverable is about £800.

5. A British service officer proceeded on leave from India after service with a depôt in India, the cost of which was an Imperial charge. The question of incidence was raised by this Department and £237 was recovered from the War Office.

6. The 2nd Battalion, Norfolk Regiment was transferred in March 1923 from Iraq to Aden and proceeded thither viâ Bombay. During service in Iraq and, for the period of the voyage to the port of disembarkation officers and men are entitled to pay at British rates. As the unit only transhipped at Bombay, Indian rates should not have been issued until arrival at Aden. Arising out of a question raised by this Department as to the correctness of the issue of pay at Indian rates, as shown on his last pay certificate, to an officer of the battalion who was granted sick leave consequent on an accident which occurred at Bombay at the time of the transfer of the unit from Iraq, it came to notice that Indian rates of pay had been issued to the unit from the date of its arrival at Bombay. I understand that steps are being taken in India to write off the overpayment involved.

7. A battalion of a British Infantry Regiment was detained in India for a month after the arrival of the relieving battalion for the convenience of the Imperial Government, and the War Office agreed to bear its cost for that period. Pay was correctly adjusted, but attention was drawn in audit to certain other consequential charges and a further £187 was recovered.

Non-observance of regulations.

8. Several cases have come under notice recently where extra expense has been thrown on Indian revenues in consequence of the non-observance of the rule laid down in the King's Regulations that retired officers should not be placed on duty with troops on transports proceeding from India to England. The attention of the Government was drawn to the departure from regulations in a despatch in 1923 and further instructions as to the necessity for the adherence thereto have recently been issued.

Marriage allowances and allotments: British troops.

9. The amount of £344,244 2*s.* 5*d.* was paid in 1924–5 to the War Office in respect of marriage allowances and allotments for the 12 months to 30th September 1924. A general examination was made of the claims for this period and sums amounting to £807 10*s.* 2*d.* were disallowed and adjusted. In addition a test audit was carried out at certain pay offices.

Opportunity was taken during the test audit to examine the accounts relating to earlier periods at the pay offices not previously visited. A test of these accounts revealed certain unadjusted overcharges in respect of units not in India, and showed that, as in the cases mentioned in previous Reports, further credits were due to India from these offices in adjustment of overcharges for voyage periods of drafts, &c. These and other points raised are now under consideration by the War Office. A charge of £324 11*s.* 6*d.*, of which no details were furnished with the claim, was ascertained during the test audit to be in respect of troops serving at Aden, and steps were taken to reclaim a moiety of this amount from Imperial revenues.

The questions referred to in para. 36 of the last Report, which were raised in audit regarding the sufficiency of the amounts refunded by the War Office on account of overcharges for voyage periods, &c., are not yet entirely disposed of. As regards voyage periods, and periods subsequent to the voyage home, of drafts and details, and voyage periods of units, further credits amounting to £10,391 in respect of certain items have been offered by the War Office and accepted. Other items are still under investigation.

Marriage allowances and allotments: Indian Army.

10. Payments amounting to £43,496 11*s.* 10*d.* were made at the India Office in respect of marriage allowances and allotments of soldiers on the India Unattached List, &c. Queries raised in audit resulted in recovery from the War Office of £384 17*s.* 4*d.*, mainly in respect of recoveries of allotments which had been credited to Imperial instead of Indian revenues.

Visit to England of the Indian Peace Contingent.

11. The claims by the Shipping Liquidation Department of the Board of Trade on account of the sea transport from and to India in 1919 of the Indian contingent at the Peace Celebrations have now been finally settled by the payment of £5,684 4*s.* 8*d.* included under the head Army Effective—Miscellaneous. The original claims amounted to £92,805, in respect of which advances amounting to £70,460 were made. Reference has been made in previous Reports to correspondence with the Board of Trade, as a result of which that Department submitted an amended claim in March 1925, which, after minor adjustment, was accepted. As the result of the queries raised in audit the amount originally claimed was reduced by over £7,500 (in addition to £6,297, referred to in para. 36 of my Report on the Accounts for 1921–2).

Surplus officers.

12. The questions referred to in para. 39 of the last Report, relating to the incidence of the cost of the concessions granted to officers of the Indian and British Armies declared surplus on reduction of the respective Establishments, will be adjusted in the settlement referred to in para. 4 of Section I.

Pension contributions.

13. When an officer of the Indian Services—Civil or Military—is lent for foreign service one of the conditions is that a contribution is made towards the cost of the pension which may ultimately be granted. The Government of India in drawing up the Fundamental Rules in January 1922 decided that higher rates of contribution should be fixed to apply to officers transferred to foreign service after 1st January 1922, as the rates previously in force had been found to be inadequate. The new rates were promulgated on 27th January 1922.

In August 1923 the Government of India, in order to clear up doubts which had arisen as to the correct interpretation of the rules, stated that an extension of service should be regarded as a fresh transfer, but that terms of extension commencing after 1st January 1922 should not be affected by the new rates unless the foreign employer had been specifically warned.

It was not apparently realised in India that occasionally pension contributions were recovered by the India Office, and neither the new rates nor the ruling of August 1923 was reported to that Department.

A case of a lent officer came under audit in March 1924, and attention was drawn by this Department to Note 6 to Article 1 of the Foreign Service

Manual, which reproduced the ruling of August 1923. Correspondence with India ensued and brought to light the omissions referred to above, which had involved losses to Indian revenues, but warning was given in four cases and increased contributions amounting to about £400 were recovered.

14. In another case, viz., that of a military officer lent for service abroad, which came under audit, it seemed doubtful if contribution had been fully recovered, and it was suggested that enquiry should be made from the Government of India. It transpired that recovery had not been made in respect of the last five months of the officer's service, and it subsequently came to notice that the form of return on which the Government of India reported recoveries to the India Office was out of date, and made no provision for officers lent to Iraq and Palestine. The returns have since been amended to cover cases of officers lent to all foreign Departments.

Increase of small pensions.

15. In 1924 an Act was passed by the British Government amending the Pension Increase Act of 1920 in two respects, viz. increasing the rates of pensions as from 1st July 1923 and abolishing restrictions as to residence. The India Office, in deciding to apply the provisions of the Amending Act with effect from 1st April 1924 to persons in receipt of pensions from Indian revenues, assumed that both alterations became operative from 1st July 1923, but it was pointed out by this Department that retrospective effect was not given to the abolition of the restrictive clause, which consequently only ceased to be operative from the date of the passing of the Act, viz. 7th August 1924.

The matter was reconsidered and it was decided not to make recovery of the amount (about £500) which had been over-issued at the India Office. The removal of the residence qualification in the case of pensioners of the Imperial Government residing in India had raised the question of equality of treatment for military pensioners of the Indian Government residing in that country. The matter was under consideration when the action referred to above was taken by this Department, and instead of the increases being granted from 1st April 1924, as had been proposed by the Government of India on the analogy of the action taken by the India Office, the correct date, viz. 7th August 1924, was substituted.

16. Reference was made in para. 49 of the last Report to questions which had been raised with reference to increases granted in small pensions. At the expiry of the period for which these increases had been temporarily granted, the India Office made a thorough investigation of the means of all pensioners receiving increases under the Act, paying special attention to the points which had been raised by this Department, and as a result a considerable proportion were found to be either partially or entirely disqualified for its benefits. About £2,000 overpaid in the past is being recovered by instalments, and in addition the annual payments have been reduced by about £1,400.

Revision of classification of pensions.

17. Para. 40 of the last Report ran as follows :—

> "Rules made by the Secretary of State in Council in February 1921 provided that pensions granted after 1st April 1921 to Government servants who had been employed partly under the Army Department and partly in civil departments of the Central and Provincial Governments should be classified in the accounts according to the duration of service in the respective departments.
> "As the pensions issued by the India Office to military officers and other ranks continued to be debited, in accordance with previous practice, wholly to the heads of Military and Medical Retired Pay, I enquired why the new procedure had not been applied. Steps have been taken to obtain from India the detailed information necessary, and considerable readjustments of past charges will appear in a future account."

Some difficulty is being experienced in obtaining the detailed information, and it was not possible to make the necessary readjustment of past charges in the year 1924–5.

It is hoped to complete the readjustment during 1925–6, and the various Provincial Governments have been advised that amounts will be included therefor in the Revised Estimates for that year.

The number of cases is large and the amounts involved will be considerable, e.g. in the 22 cases in which adjustment has already taken place the amount transferred from Military Services to Civil Heads of Account is £21,400 (Central, £3,223; Bombay, £6,949; Bengal, £28; United Provinces, £71; Punjab, £130; Burma, £10,907; Central Provinces, £81; Assam, £11), and the annual amount involved is about £8,000.

18. The readjustment referred to in the preceding paragraph affects also the pensions of certain Royal Indian Marine officers who spent part of their service under Provincial Governments.

R.I.M. Pensions debitable to Port Funds.

19. As a result of questions raised in audit about £1,200 is being charged against various Port Funds on account of arrears of the proportion of increased pensions granted to officers of the Royal Indian Marine, vide para. 79 of my last Report. The annual amount involved is about £250.

20. Attention was also drawn in audit to another case where no steps were being taken to debit the proportion of pension of an officer of the Royal Indian Marine to the Port Fund concerned, and as a result £147 per annum is now being recovered.

R.I.M. Pensions recoverable.

21. Attention was drawn in audit to the following cases where a part or the whole of the pensions issued at the India Office was recoverable from the Imperial Government:—

(i) A civilian employee of the Royal Indian Marine was recruited from the Admiralty and on retirement was allowed, under regulations, to count his service under the Imperial Government towards his Indian pension, but the proportion of pension due from Imperial revenues in respect of his service at the Admiralty was not being recovered. Attention was also drawn to other similar cases, and as a result £350 was recovered in respect of arrears, and £85 annually in future will be saved to Indian revenues.

(ii) A pension was awarded to a temporary gunner of the Royal Indian Marine by the India Office, but as the officer had been lent by the Admiralty the issue should have been made by the Ministry of Pensions. £160 on account of back issues was refunded and payment taken over by the Imperial Government.

Incorrect issues of pensions.

22. Attention was drawn in audit to the following cases of incorrect issue of pensions:—

(i) In assessing the pension of an officer acting service was treated as full service for the purpose of arriving at the "rank" element in his pension. The necessary re-assessment involved a reduction of the pension by £12 per annum.

(ii) Certain classes of pensions were susceptible of reduction as from 1st July 1924, on account of the fall in the cost of living figures; in several cases incorrect reduction and in a few no reduction at all had been made. The result was an annual saving of about £60.

(iii) In certain cases officers in receipt of a pension of less than £300 a year receive an addition of 20 per cent. on account of the increased cost of living, provided that the total amount received does not exceed the £300. In two cases the existence of the over-riding maximum had been overlooked; adjustments involving reductions of £96 per annum were effected.

Wound pensions recoverable.

23. Wound pensions granted to officers of the British Service who subsequently enter the Indian Army are chargeable to the War Office. Attention was drawn in audit to a case where a permanent pension of £100 per annum issued in India and subsequently at the India Office, was being charged finally to Indian revenues, and the necessary recovery has now been made from the War Office.

24. The questions raised (including those mentioned in paras. 13 to 23) with regard to various classes of pensions have resulted in the recovery of about £3,000 over-issued and the reduction of recurring payments by approximately £2,000 a year.

Royal Air Force: Voyage pay.

25. The detailed adjustment with the Air Ministry of charges for pay, &c., of officers and men of the Air Force transferred between the Imperial and Indian Establishments is regulated as from 1st April 1924 by the Memorandum of Arrangement referred to in para. 35 of the last Report. For the period prior to that date the Air Ministry submitted a claim amounting to about £77,000, covering voyage pay of airmen en route to and from India, discharge gratuities, unemployment insurance contributions, separation allowances paid to families, and allotments of pay. The claim was examined in the India Office, and in referring it to this Department for observations some doubt was expressed as to the correctness of some of the charges in view of the accounting arrangements adopted in India in connection with certain expenditure on the Air Force, and reference to that country on the subject was suggested. In reply, I pointed out that the incidence of certain items in the claim depended not on the accounting arrangements referred to but on the procedure adopted regarding the termination of various war arrangements with the War Office whereby the liability for a large proportion of the claim had been discharged. On this and other minor grounds the claim was reduced by about £44,000.

Royal Air Force: Sea transport.

26. As a consequence of the cessation as from 1st April 1920 of the Normal Cost arrangement, which was in operation during and after the war, Indian revenues became liable for the cost of sea transport of the Air Force personnel employed in India.

The amount claimed on this account by the Air Ministry for the period 1st April 1920 to 31st March 1924 was £126,667 14*s.* 9*d.* Examination of the claims in the India Office resulted in a reduction of £9,352, and queries raised in audit subsequently effected a further reduction of £3,357. An advance of £80,362 8*s.* 8*d.*, subject to adjustment, was made in 1922-3, and the balance was brought to account in the year under review.

27. The adjustment of the advance of £80,000, which, as mentioned in para. 55 of the last Report, was received from the Air Ministry in March 1923 on account of the equipment of a squadron of the Air Force transferred from India to Iraq in 1921, is now practically complete, but final settlement cannot be reached until agreement has been arrived at on the outstanding question in regard to the rate to be charged for departmental expenses on aviation stores. This question is still the subject of correspondence between the Indian Government, the Treasury, and the Air Ministry.

Payments to Imperial Government.

28. The principal payments made from Indian revenues to Departments of the Imperial Government for services arising out of the maintenance of British troops on the Indian Establishment are dealt with in the following paras. 29 to 35.

29. War Office: Capitation Rate for Effective Services:—

A further advance of £1,455,000 was made, calculated on approximately the same lines as the advances referred to in previous Reports. Payments on this account from 1920-1 onwards have been made on a provisional basis only, subject to adjustment when agreement has been reached as to the principle on which India's annual payment under this head shall be based. I am informed that considerable progress has been made in this direction, and that there are grounds for hoping that a settlement will shortly be reached.

30. War Office, for gratuities on death, discharge, &c.:—

£36,000 was advanced on this account in respect of payments during 1924-5, and £20,245 11*s.* 10*d.* was refunded by the War Office. The refund included £12,054 13*s.* 4*d.* in adjustment of advances made in 1923-4, and £8,190 18*s.* 6*d.* on account of overcharges in 1920-1 and 1921-2 (vide para. 59 of last Report).

As regards the charge for 1920-1, the War Office adhered to their contention that the normal method of division should be followed, and I have agreed that adjustment shall be made on that basis, but

I am not yet satisfied that a further refund is not due to Indian revenues, and correspondence is still proceeding.

A test audit of the actual payments during 1922–3 has been made, and the queries resulting therefrom have been forwarded to the War Office, but no replies have yet been received.

31. War Office, on account of Unemployment Insurance :—

£71,000 was advanced in respect of 1924-5, and £4,560 13*s.* 7*d.* was refunded in adjustment of the advance made in 1923–4.

32. Air Ministry, for Effective Services in respect of personnel of the Air Force serving in India :—

A further advance of £97,600 was made. This is the fifth year in which advances on this account have been made, which are subject to adjustment when the basis of charge for this service has been agreed with the Ministry. The latest information is to the effect that the Department anticipate being able to submit detailed figures for examination before the end of the current financial year.

33. War Office, on account of clothing and necessaries in possession of regiments on their transfer to and from the Indian Establishment :—

The position in regard to the advances referred to in paras. 54 and 63 of my last Report and paras. 35 and 43 of the Report for the year 1922–3 is as follows:

These advances comprise net payments to the War Office of (a) £65,800 in March 1922, representing the estimated balance due to the War Office in respect of clothing allowances, public clothing and clothing stores of British troops moving in the relief season 1920-1 and the first half of the season 1921-2; (b) £61,000 in March 1923 to cover similar transactions up to and including the first half of 1922–3; (c) £10,000 in March 1924 in respect of the second half of the relief reason 1922–3 and the season 1923–4.

As the result of negotiations the original claims have been considerably reduced, and it has been agreed that the sums actually due to the War Office in respect of clothing allowances, public clothing, &c., of British troops transferred to and from Indian stations are £36,037 5*s.* 4*d.* for the 1920-1 trooping season and £58,057 13*s.* 5*d.* for the 1921-2 trooping season and one-half of the 1922–3 season. These sums, however, make no allowance for personal clothing in possession of soldiers so transferred, and adjustment in respect of such clothing is being considered in connection with the revision of the Home Effective Capitation Rate. The question of personal clothing and clothing allowances of personnel transferred from Iraq is also reserved for later discussion.

The Secretary of State for India in Council has agreed that any refund due to this Office of the balance of advances made up to date may be deferred pending a settlement of these outstanding questions and of the charges for subsequent seasons in respect of which no advances have been made.

34. War Office : Sea Transport :—

The cost of the sea transport of officers and troops, apart from the Royal Air Force, to and from India has been provisionally adjusted with the War Office on the same lines as in previous years, the estimated amount payable from Indian revenues being £517,000 for 1924–5 as compared with £610,000 for 1923–4 The difference is accounted for by reductions in passage rates generally and of the average monthly strength of the British Army in India, on which the estimate is based. There appear to be other factors which would tend still further to reduce the amount payable by India for the year, but final adjustment in this respect and of the claim for amounts over-advanced to the War Office for the period 1920–1 to 1922–3, referred to in para. 64 of the last Report, and for 1923–4, will form part of the general settlement referred to in para. 4 of Section I.

Commencing with the trooping season 1925-6 a joint service will be run by the Imperial and Indian Governments, the cost of which will be divided on a proportionate basis. This arrangement should prove to be beneficial to both Governments and should be more economical to India than the maintenance of a separate Indian Trooping Service as in pre-war years.

In connection with the statement prepared for transmission to the War Office of actual expenditure from Indian revenues to be set off against the amount payable for 1924–5, it was pointed out in audit that the cost of certain passages amounting to £646 included in the accounts of the High Commissioner for India had been omitted, and the necessary adjustment was made.

35. War Office: Retired pay, pensions, &c., of British forces for service in India:—

A further advance of £1,284,796 was made. No final agreement has yet been made in respect of the annual payments on this account from 1913–4 onwards pending agreement with the Imperial Government as to Indian liability with regard to non-effective charges arising out of the war (see para. 4 of Section I).

Appropriation Audit.

Expenditure in March.

36. Under "Military Services" there was a considerable deficiency of expenditure compared with Budget provision in a number of items, due to the inclusion of such items in the general settlement with the War Office and referred to in paras. 4 and 5 of Section I.

The only variation of which separate mention need be made occurred under "Marine, Effective: Sundry items," where there was an excess of £9,785, of which it seems desirable to give a more detailed explanation than is furnished in the Statement. The facts are as follows:—

The Royal Indian Marine steamer Elphinstone was wrecked in January 1925, and in connection with the question of its replacement an enquiry was received from India asking that this should be effected, if possible, before 31st March 1925, as surplus funds were available. Negotiations were opened with the Admiralty, but it was found impossible to obtain a suitable vessel before the end of the financial year. The amount of £10,000 was, however, paid to that Department and placed by them to a suspense account, on the understanding that repayment would be made if the negotiations fell through. This payment was treated as a final charge in the accounts of the Secretary of State for 1924–5, under the heading "Marine: Effective," sub-heading "Expenditure in connection with surplus war vessels acquired from the Admiralty." In view of a later decision that replacement was not necessary, the amount has recently been refunded by the Admiralty.

SECTION III.—PROVINCIAL.

APPROPRIATION AUDIT.

All Provincial Governments.

1. In the Indian Budgets for 1924–5 provision for Home expenditure continued to be made under grants of both the types described in my last Report, viz. :— Methods of providing for English expenditure in the Indian Budgets.

(a) Composite Home Grants—covering English expenditure only on a number of services, for each of which there is a separate grant for Indian expenditure.

(b) Combined Subject Grants—covering the entire expenditure, whether English or Indian, on a particular service.

The method of providing for Home expenditure varied with the different Governments, some of which brought the whole of their expenditure under one type or the other, while the remainder, including the Central Government, made use of both types.

The possibility of securing uniformity of procedure for all Governments, to which I referred in the last Report, is still under consideration, together with that of delegating to the Home authorities, with regard to Home expenditure, the powers of reappropriation at present exercised by the Finance Departments of the Governments concerned.

2. I have adopted as the basis of the Appropriation Report the Statement of Comparison of Estimated and Actual Expenditure prepared by the Accountant-General, India Office, copies of which were transmitted to India under cover of Accounts Despatch No. 7, dated 3rd September 1925. I have checked in detail the accuracy of the figures contained in the Statement, and have agreed generally the explanations furnished with regard to variations between estimated and actual expenditure. Appropriation Accounts.

The methods adopted by the various Provincial Governments of making provision for expenditure by the Secretary of State are identical, mutatis mutandis, with those obtaining in the case of corresponding transactions by the High Commissioner. A description of these methods is given in the Report on each Provincial Account of the High Commissioner by whom the bulk of Provincial expenditure in England is incurred.

The relatively large variation between the actual and estimated expenditure shown in the various Statements of Comparison is in many cases due to the fact that £100 is normally the minimum provision made by the Accountant-General, India Office, in respect of expenditure, however small, under any head of account.

Madras.

The following excesses of voted expenditure are counterbalanced by corresponding deficiencies of expenditure in the accounts of the High Commissioner, as noted below :—

Head of Account.	Excess in Secretary of State's Accounts.	Deficiency in High Commissioner's Accounts.
Forest - - -	4	304
Miscellaneous Departments -	1	9,554
Stationery and Printing -	1	364

The excess of £1 under Jails and Convict Settlements (voted) is included in the total excess of £246 over the total allotment for Home expenditure under this grant to which reference is made in the Report on the accounts of the High Commissioner.

There were no other excesses either of voted or non-voted expenditure.

Bombay.

Against a provision of £100 under Administration of Justice, voted, expenditure amounting to £267 was incurred. Objection to the resulting excess of £167 was removed by the Financial Department of the Government of Bombay, after the close of the financial year, since the additional expenditure could have been met from savings in the voted grant under Medical.

Bengal.

Against a provision of £200 under Civil Works, voted, expenditure amounting to £440 was incurred. Objection to the resulting excess of £240 was removed by the Finance Department of the Government of Bengal, after the close of the financial year, since the additional expenditure could have been met from savings in the same grant under General Administration and Medical.

An excess of £5 under Police, non-voted, was similarly dealt with, savings existing under Medical, non-voted.

The payment under Land Revenue for compensation to the Director of Surveys on abolition of his appointment was originally classified as non-voted. As a result of a question raised by this Department this expenditure was transferred to the voted head.

United Provinces.

The only excess on minor heads requiring report to Government was one of £6 under Administration of Justice, sundry items, voted.

Burma.

The following excesses of voted expenditure are offset by deficiencies of expenditure under the corresponding grants in the accounts of the High Commissioner as noted below :—

Head of Account.	Excess in Secretary of State's Accounts.	Deficiency in High Commissioner's Accounts.
Public Health - - -	144	535
Miscellaneous - - - -	67	452

In the non-voted section of the account the excesses requiring report to Government were as follows :—

Irrigation, £2 ; Police, £105 ; Civil Works, £113.

All Provincial Governments.

RE-CLASSIFICATION OF MILITARY PENSIONS.

3. Para. 40 of my last Report on the accounts of the Secretary of State was appended to last year's Report. It ran as follows :—

> "Rules made by the Secretary of State in Council in February 1921 provided that pensions granted after 1st April 1921 to Government servants who had been employed partly under the Army Department and partly in civil departments of the Central and Provincial Governments should be classified in the accounts according to the duration of service in the respective departments.
> "As the pensions issued by the India Office to military officers and other ranks continued to be debited, in accordance with previous practice, wholly to the heads of Military and Medical Retired Pay, I enquired why the new procedure had not been applied. Steps have been taken to obtain from India the detailed information necessary, and considerable readjustments of past charges will appear in a future account."

Some difficulty is being experienced in obtaining the detailed information, and it was not possible to make the necessary readjustment of past charges in the year 1924–5.

It is hoped to complete the readjustment during 1925–6, and the various Provincial Governments have been advised that amounts will be included therefor in the Revised Estimates for that year.

The number of cases is large and the amounts involved will be considerable, e.g. in the 22 cases in which adjustment has already taken place the amount transferred from Military Services to Civil Heads of Account is £21,400 (Central, £3,223; Bombay, £6,949; Bengal, £28; United Provinces, £71; Punjab, £130; Burma, £10,907; Central Provinces, £81; Assam, £11), and the annual amount involved is about £8,000.

INDIA AUDIT OFFICE, 3rd March 1926.

No. 5.

REPORT of the AUDITOR OF INDIAN HOME ACCOUNTS upon the Accounts of the HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR INDIA, for the year ended 31st March 1925; prepared and submitted to the Governor-General in Council, in accordance with clause 9 of the Order in Council dated 13th August 1920.

Order of report.

1. This Report is divided into three sections relating respectively to—

I. Receipts and Expenditure on behalf of the Central Government under heads other than those relating to Military Services;

II. Receipts and Expenditure on behalf of the Central Government relating to Military Services; and

III. Receipts and Expenditure on behalf of Provincial Governments.

The sections will be reviewed as follows: No. I by the Public Accounts Committee set up by the Central Legislative Assembly; No. II by a special Departmental Committee constituted by the Government of India; and No. III, subdivided into separate Reports for each Provincial Government, by the several Provincial Committees of Public Accounts.

SECTION I.—NON-MILITARY SERVICES.

GENERAL.

Increase of work.

2. There has been a considerable increase of work in this Department, partly in connection with the Accounts of the Secretary of State, but more so as regards the audit of the Accounts of the High Commissioner. This is chiefly due to (a) the Appropriation Audit of Home Expenditure undertaken by this Department at the request of the Government of India, (b) the concessions granted as a result of the recommendations of the Lee Commission, e.g. Overseas pay and passage concessions, (c) the transfer of the East Indian and Great Indian Peninsula Railways from Company to State management.

Reference is made in my Report on the Accounts of the Secretary of State to proposals which I have made for the additional Staff which I consider to be necessary for the efficient performance of the audit of the accounts submitted to me.

Outstanding claim for stores lost during the war.

3. The case of the Clan Mackay referred to in para. 3 of the last Report is still undecided.

As mentioned in previous Reports, this vessel was lost at sea in 1918 owing to negligent navigation, and the question of ultimate liability for the stores lost still remains to be determined by arbitration.

The joint case is now ready for submission to Sir L. Worthington-Evans, Secretary of State for War, who has been appointed to act as Arbitrator.

The responsibility for the long delay which has occurred in connection with this matter rests on all the Departments involved, viz. the India Office, the High Commissioner's Office and the Board of Trade.

Foreign tenders.

4. In a Report on the work of the India Store Department recently prepared by the Director-General of Stores information is given regarding the geographical distribution of orders placed during 1924–5. The total purchases amounted to about £5,000,000, and excluding stores, mainly for military purposes, which must be obtained through other Government Departments, the proportion purchased abroad is approximately 12½ per cent., of which the United States of America provided 6½ per cent. and Germany 4 per cent. The Report stresses the fact that the British manufacturer receives no preference of any kind in the allocation of orders, and states that the sole considerations which are allowed to weigh are price, quality and delivery. All contracts placed are checked by this Department to see that the lowest suitable tender, from whatever source, is accepted, and the grounds on which a tender other than the lowest is accepted are investigated.

General Administration—England.

Gross and net cost of the High Commissioner's Establishments.

5. The total cost of the Establishments of the High Commissioner for the year 1924–5 was £200,364 16*s.* 3*d.* This amount is reduced by £65,319 0*s.* 7*d.*, leaving the net cost at £135,045 15*s.* 8*d.*

The items taken in reduction are:—

(i) £26,198 6*s.* 11*d.*, which represents a charge of 2 per cent. for Departmental expenses on stores supplied to quasi-commercial Departments of the Government of India.

(ii) £13,214 9*s.* 1*d.*, which is a similar charge on stores supplied to Provincial Governments.

(iii) £4,200 received from the Inland Revenue Department on account of assessment of British Income Tax. This amount, together with £1,800 received last year, represents payment at £2,000 for the years 1921–2, 1922–3, and 1923–4. A similar amount will in future be received each year.

(iv) £21,694 charged against Provincial Governments in respect of the issue of leave pay and pensions and for work connected with Indian students. This amount comprises £9,991 for the former and £11,703 for the latter service. The Provincial Governments have agreed that the deduction in respect of work connected with students shall be divided proportionately to the average number of students proceeding to England from each province during the preceding three years.

(v) £12 4*s.* 7*d.*, which represents 2 per cent. on amounts received by the High Commissioner as the Official Agent for publications sold in England on behalf of the Central and Provincial Governments.

Miscellaneous Departments.

British Empire Exhibition.

6.—(1) The gross expenditure from Central Revenues in 1924–5 in connection with the British Empire Exhibition, 1924, amounted to £43,921 16*s.* 11*d.*; the receipts, chiefly for space let to exhibitors, amounted to £24,918 13*s.* 10*d.*, and the net sum of £19,003 3*s.* 1*d.* has been brought to account.

Although certain adjustments remain to be made, the accounts of the Exhibition covering the period from 1922 to date are practically complete. The following is a summary of the principal items of expenditure and receipt in this country:—

Indian Pavilion: construction.

(2) The cost of construction of the main fabric of the Indian Pavilion was £68,815, as compared with the estimate, including certain extras, of £55,300, an excess of nearly 25 per cent. As mentioned in para. 8 of the last Report, the contract entered into for the carrying out of this work was based on a schedule of measurement prices and contained a variation clause operating in regard to a table of basic rates of wages and prices of materials. On the 3rd October 1924, in anticipation of the payment of the final instalment on the contract, I called for a copy of the schedule of prices. In reply I was informed that this was a confidential document, being applicable throughout the exhibition, and that a copy could not be furnished. An officer of my Department was, however, permitted to inspect it at the office of the Quantity Surveyors. The final instalment of the contract having been paid on a certificate from the Consulting Architects, I requested, on the 5th January 1925, that a copy of the detailed account should be obtained, and stated that it might be necessary to have also a copy of the schedule. On the 4th December 1925 I was furnished with a copy of the schedule, and on the 20th January 1926 with a copy of the detailed accounts.

The schedule was compiled about the end of 1921, and the estimate of the cost of the construction of the building was made in September 1922 when there had already been a downward tendency in prices and wages. This tendency was still in progress in March 1923, when the contract was signed.

In view of these facts it will be realised that the disparity between the estimate and expenditure on this contract is greater than is indicated by the figures given above.

Under the variation clause of the contract the account, made up at schedule rates, was subject to addition or deduction in respect of 80 per cent. of the amount by which the rates paid by the contractors for wages and materials differed from the corresponding basic schedule rates, the remaining 20 per cent. being for the account of the contractor. The actual amount of such reduction was £9,827, the contractor's share being £1,965. I pointed out that the variation clause did not provide for a corresponding adjustment of the contractor's profit and establishment charges, which were included in the schedule prices.

In reply I was informed that "it may be true that the contractors made a very small extra percentage of profit, but no one could foresee, when the agreement was drafted or signed, whether costs would increase or decrease." In my opinion the probability of a reduction under the variation clause should have been apparent in view of the considerable fall in prices which had already taken place when the contract was signed. The extra amount of profit accruing to the contractors cannot easily be computed, but at a rough estimate it probably amounted to about £2,000.

Indian Pavilion: external plaster-work.

(3) The amount of £6,300 was paid during the year 1924–5 in respect of the balance of the other main contract, that for external plaster-work, &c., bringing the amount paid under this contract up to £42,800, of which £1,310 was on account of architects' fees. The contract for the plaster-work, &c., was for a lump sum of £37,490. The excess of £1,000 was made up of £500, an ex gratia payment to the contractor for extra wages paid to plasterers, a request having been made for an additional amount of £929 in this respect, and £500 added for the decoration of the eastern wall of the building which was necessitated by the extension of the Exhibition area in that direction.

In the last Report I stated that I had been informed that this contract, for which competitive tenders were not invited, was approved by the High Commissioner and the Advisory Committee "on the ground that no other firm could have undertaken in a satisfactory manner the fibrous plaster-work required for the building." In subsequent correspondence with the High Commissioner I expressed doubt whether the inability of other firms was a fact, and in reply it was admitted that the work could have been performed by other firms under adequate supervision, but it was urged that the special circumstances surrounding the inception of the design for the Indian Pavilion rendered the course actually adopted desirable. The principle that large Government works should be thrown open to competition is one of primary importance; I do not think that either the necessity or the advantage of departing from it has been demonstrated in the present case, and I see no reason why competitive designs should not have been obtained, or why in any case it should not have been made a condition of acceptance that tenders would be invited for the execution of the work.

Architects' fees.

(4) The firm of contractors who carried out the external plaster-work acted as architects, not only in relation to the contract for construction, but also to their own contract for fibrous plaster-work. I raised the question whether this arrangement afforded an adequate guarantee of protection to Indian interests. In reply it was stated that the necessary protection had been afforded through the supervision exercised, both over the placing of the contracts and their execution, by the Consulting Architects of the British Empire Exhibition.

Indian Tea House.

(5) The estimated cost of providing and equipping a Tea House where Indian tea and special Indian dishes would be served was £7,250. Of this amount £5,250 was to be provided from the Exhibition grant, an offer having been received from the Indian Tea Association to provide the balance of cost not exceeding £2,000, on condition of receiving a share of the profits and of the sale proceeds of the building. The management of the Tea House had to be placed in the hands of the firm of caterers who held the sole concession of catering at the Exhibition under the terms of their agreement with the Exhibition Authorities. The accounts showed expenditure amounting to £7,231 1*s*., of which £1,981 1*s*. was provided by the Indian Tea Association. The profits received were £1,967 1*s*. 10*d*., of which the Association's share was £538 18*s*. 3*d*. I pointed out that a payment of £500 to a firm of Indian caterers appointed to supply Indian meals in the Tea House had not been taken into account in the division of the profits, and adjustment has been made in dividing the sale proceeds of the building, with the effect of increasing India's share by £137.

Timber exhibit.

(6) £5,000, the balance of the grant of £20,000 sanctioned by the Government of India for the Timber and Forestry Exhibit, was advanced during the year to the firm in charge of the exhibit. Final accounts of the disposal of this sum have not yet been presented; it is estimated, however, that the receipts from sales amount to approximately £3,000, and this sum has been included in the receipts in the above summary under the head "Central Exhibits."

Indian Band.

(7) The sum of £1,355 under Indian Band is the excess of expenditure over receipts from bookings.

The band was brought over in the expectation that receipts from engagements would more than cover its expenses. The estimate of receipts was based on the assumption that the War Office would provide barrack accommodation in provincial towns, and bookings were actually fixed in the belief that the India Office had obtained the necessary assurance from that Department. It transpired that the India Office had obtained no such assurance, and that in fact the War Office were unable to give facilities; consequently a number of engagements had to be cancelled. The total value of the engagements booked amounted to £4,909, on which sum commission at 10 per cent. was paid to the agent entrusted with the engagements; the value of the cancelled bookings for dates not afterwards filled was £1,543.

Entertainment.

(8) The sum of £2,070 for entertainment is exclusive of the entertainment allowance of £3 10*s*. a week issued to the Exhibition Commissioner which is brought to account under "Pay." It includes:—

£446 for expenditure by the Exhibition Commissioner as to which no details or vouchers have been furnished;
£150 for farewell functions given by the Exhibition Commissioner;
£466 in respect of a reception held by the High Commissioner for India at Wembley.

Catalogue.

(9) The largest single item in the total of £5,900 for miscellaneous expenditure is one of £1,481 for the preparation and distribution of a catalogue of the Indian exhibits which was placed on sale at the price of 1*s*., afterwards reduced to 6*d*.; 11,000 copies were printed, but only about 500 were sold, realising about £15. Of the remainder, a large number were distributed gratis or shipped to India for that purpose as a means of popularising the Indian exhibit. Receipts from advertisements, mainly in India, amounted to about £400.

Motor cars.

(10) The net expenditure incurred in connection with the purchase of two motor cars for the use of the Exhibition officials is included under "Miscellaneous." In July 1923 a touring model car was purchased for the use of the Organising Secretary at a cost of about £320. Three months later it was found that this type of car would be unsuitable for use during the winter months, and another car of a closed type, made by the same firm, was purchased for £425, the makers allowing £150 for the open car. On the accounts being examined I drew attention to that canon of financial propriety, contained in the Auditor-General's rules, which requires that every officer shall exercise the same vigilance in respect of State expenditure as a person of ordinary prudence would exercise in respect of his own private expenditure, and I raised the question whether it had been observed in this instance, inasmuch as (1) an open car was bought in July when it was known that it would be required for use during the winter; (2) when found unsuitable no enquiry appears to have been made as to the possibility of adapting the car for "all-weather" work; and (3) a second car was purchased without any attempt being made to obtain a better offer than £150 for a car which three months previously cost £320.

In reply the High Commissioner declined to admit that the canon of financial propriety had been violated, but regretted that it was not foreseen that a different kind of car would be required for use during the winter. He stated that adapting the open car by means of side-curtains would not satisfactorily safeguard from exposure the officers whose business it would be to use the car. He further stated that the first car had, between July and November 1923, become an obsolete model, and that the makers in the meantime had cut the price by about £40; in his opinion no better offer could have been obtained than the one accepted.

I did not regard this reply as altogether convincing and I informed the High Commissioner to that effect, leaving the matter for further investigation when the accounts relating to the disposal of the second car came under examination.

This car was used from November 1923 to March 1925 by the Exhibition officials, about £25 being spent on its overhaul in December 1924. It was then taken over by the High Commissioner and used by him pending the decision of the Government of India of the question whether an official car should be provided for his use. On sanction being given to this proposal, the Exhibition car was sold in November 1925 and the price realised was £132 10*s*.

The net expenditure on the two cars was thus about £500.

Nugatory expenditure.

(11) Nugatory expenditure of £292 15*s*. was incurred in the purchase of diagrams of Provinces and States, which were not used, and £46 was expended in the purchase of a pump for a fountain in the Pavilion garden. Owing to a change of plans this also was not used.

Rent of space.

(12) An area of about 64,500 square feet of space in the Pavilion was let, 2,100 square feet direct to exhibitors and the balance to Provincial Governments and Indian States. The bulk of the receipts for rent was brought to account in India. The amount of £21,990 was received in this country, the principal items being sums of £7,868 and £6,750 received from the Governments of Madras and Punjab respectively. The whole of the rent for the space let appears to have been duly received with the exception of the balance, amounting to about £660, of the amount due from the Bombay Government. This amount has been reduced by the sum of £175, the share of the sale proceeds of the Pavilion allocated to Bombay; the balance is under adjustment in India.

Sale of Pavilion.

(13) When it was decided that the Government of India would not officially participate in the Exhibition of 1925, the Indian Pavilion, with certain of the contents, was disposed of to the British Empire Exhibition Authorities for the inclusive sum of £20,000, payable in instalments, the High Commissioner being relieved from all liability arising out of his original agreement with the British Empire Exhibition Authorities for the removal of the building and the restoration of the site. The accounts for 1924–5 include the sum of £2,000, the first instalment of the sale proceeds, and the balance has since been received.

It was decided to allot to each participating Province and State such portion of the total sum realised on the disposal of the building as might be considered fair by the Government of India, having regard to the extent to which the fixtures remaining in the building might determine the total price obtained. The amount received has been allotted as follows :—

Central Government for Pavilion	15,000
Indian Tea House	1,000
United Provinces	225
Bengal	225
Madras	200
Railways	200
Punjab	175
Bombay	175
Bihar and Orissa	60
Patiala	60
Travancore	40
Mysore	30
Jaipur	30
Kathiawar	30
Cotton Exhibit	20
Bharatpur	15
Khairpur	15

Superannuation Allowances and Pensions.

Increase of small pensions.

7. Further questions have been raised in audit in connection with the increase of small pensions, resulting in an immediate saving of £300 and an annual reduction of about £100 (vide para. 9 in the last Report).

Expenditure not charged to Revenue.

State Railways: Capital Outlay.

Transfer of East Indian Railway.

8. £813,243 1*s.* 4*d.* is included under this head on account of Stores purchased for the East Indian Railway. This amount represents payments made in the three months subsequent to 1st January 1925, on which date the management of the Railway was transferred to Government. The current contracts were taken over by the Director-General of Stores without any appreciable interruption of work.

Deposits and Advances.

9. Details of the Suspense Accounts under this heading are given in Appendix I to the Account (page 60).

Enemy ships under the control of the High Commissioner.

10. Since the date of the last Report the remaining vessels in the fleet have been sold in accordance with the instructions of the Government of India.

The Profit and Loss Account and the Balance Sheet for the year ending 31st March 1925 show that the profit earned during the year was £57,191 7*s.* 10*d.*

A further balance-sheet has been prepared showing the position at the 30th September 1925, and on 31st October 1925 the office of the Director of India Office Shipping was closed and the accounts taken over by the Chief Accounting Officer to the High Commissioner, who will deal with the adjustment of the outstanding items.

After making provision for sundry debits and credits, liquidation expenses, &c., the final profit on the working of the fleet is shown in the balance-sheet as £3,561,170 5*s.* 9*d.*

Reference is made in para. 23 of Section I of my Report on the Accounts of the Secretary of State to the agreement with the Imperial Government in respect of this profit.

Stores supplied for the Iraq Administration.

11. Reference was made in para. 18 of my last Report to a sum of £6,373 18*s.* due from the Imperial Government on account of stores supplied for the Iraq Administration between October 1920 and December 1922.

£6,373 13*s.* still remained outstanding on the 31st March 1925, but £4,834 11*s.* was recovered in April 1925 and £848 8*s.* 6*d.* in December 1925. Correspondence is proceeding with regard to the balance.

Appropriation Audit.

12. I have adopted as the basis of the Appropriation Report the Statement of Comparison of Estimated and Actual Receipts and Disbursements for the year 1924–5, prepared by the Chief Accounting Officer to the High Commissioner, copies of which have been forwarded to the Finance Department of the Government of India.

13. I have checked the Statement in detail and I agree in the explanations furnished with regard to variations between estimated and actual expenditure.

Provision for voted expenditure by the High Commissioner on behalf of the Central Government was distributed under 12 Grants, only one of which —Grant 59—related exclusively to expenditure by the High Commissioner. Under this grant the final position was as follows :—

Budget.	Modifications sanctioned.	Revised Estimate.	Actual.	Decrease.
473,900	—41,700	432,200	387,441	44,759

Under Grant 45 — Superannuation Allowance and Pensions—the expenditure of the High Commissioner exceeded his allotment by £777, but there was a decrease of £923 in the Secretary of State's expenditure. The total of the Home allotment was thus not exceeded.

14. The Budget provision for voted expenditure was, in the majority of cases, considerably in excess of actual requirements, substantial reductions being effected in the Revised Estimates. In a number of instances over-budgeting was due to the inclusion in the Budget of provision for stores for which no indents were subsequently received. Examples in which this factor was operative are :—

Head of Account.	Budget.	Revised Estimate.	Actual.	Decrease.
	£	£	£	£
Scientific Departments, Stores for India.	34,000	20,000	17,591	2,409
Indian Postal and Telegraph Department, Stores for India.	265,000	158,000	152,424	5,576

The Budget Estimates for Capital Outlay on Railways—Stores for India—(Grant 60) furnished by the Government of India, Railway Department, proved to be excessive, the actual expenditure being only 53 per cent. of the original provision. The circumstances in this instance appear to be precisely similar to those in the case of expenditure by the Secretary of State from the same grant to which reference has been made in para. 35 of Section I of the Report on the Accounts of the Secretary of State.

The provision for Sterling Overseas Pay consequent on the adoption in December 1924 of the recommendations of the Lee Commission, which as indicated in Note 2 to the Statement of Comparison was advised by the Finance Department, was in many cases excessive. A closer forecast should be possible in future when experience of the progress of expenditure on this account has been gained.

SECTION II.—MILITARY SERVICES.

ARMY EFFECTIVE.

Provisional payments to Departments of the Imperial Government made subject to adjustment.

1. The examination in my Department of the vouchers relating to the charge of £262,171 4*s.* 1*d.* on account of freight on stores supplied to India, referred to in para. 12 of the last Report, showed that objection might legitimately be raised to a number of items, amounting in the aggregate to about £35,000. The Chief Accounting Officer to the High Commissioner had already drawn attention to overpayments amounting to about £32,000, so that altogether about £67,000 was under suspicion.

As the War Office were still unable to produce detailed vouchers in support of another claim for about £200,000 relating to freight on stores shipped to India on direct demands, referred to in para. 5 below, it was proposed that both claims should be reviewed together.

In view of the endeavour being made to secure a final adjustment of all questions still outstanding between the Imperial and the Indian Governments with reference to war charges, the claims were discussed at a Departmental meeting at which the Secretary of State for India, the High Commissioner for India and the Auditor of Indian Home Accounts were represented. The meeting was of opinion that the freight claims under review might well be treated as coming within the category of "minor claims" between the Imperial and Indian Governments, in regard to which it was proposed to effect an adjustment on broad lines.

To this end a further meeting was held, which was attended by representatives of the War Office and the Shipping Liquidation Department of the Board of Trade. After discussion it was agreed that both claims should be included in the minor claims adjustment, i.e. that if it should be agreed by both Departments to cancel various claims and counter-claims no repayment would be asked for by the High Commissioner of the £67,000 referred to above, and on the other hand the War Office would withdraw the claim of £200,000. The present position regarding the proposed settlement is referred to in para. 5 of Section I of my Report on the Accounts of the Secretary of State.

Equipment for Air Squadrons.

2. Various belated claims were received from the Disposals and Liquidation Commission in respect of issues of initial equipment for certain air squadrons which had proceeded to India in earlier years. The charges related to stores which had been issued on direct demands, and the accounts were accordingly referred to India for examination. As the result of correspondence the Disposals and Liquidation Commission agreed that credits totalling about £13,000 were due to India, and it was proposed to pay the balance of about £118,000.

I was, however, of opinion that considerable suspicion attached to the validity of some of the charges, and I therefore suggested that, as the Disposals and Liquidation Commission was shortly coming to an end, payment should be withheld pending further investigation in my Department.

As the result of this examination, queries were raised pointing out that incorrect rates had been applied in several instances, involving considerable overcharges, and, further, that although all the equipment had been charged at full vocabulary rates, it appeared reasonably certain that a large proportion of the equipment could not have been new at the date of issue, and should therefore, in accordance with accepted principles, have been charged for at reduced rates.

After correspondence had passed between the Departments concerned a conference was arranged at which the Air Ministry, the Treasury, the Surplus Stores Liquidation Department (successors to the Disposals and Liquidation Commission), the Office of the High Commissioner for India, and the India Audit Office, were represented. The conference established the justice of the claims advanced in my Department. It was admitted that in the majority of cases the challenged rates were incorrect, and a reduction of £1,638 was allowed on that account. It was further admitted that a considerable proportion of the issues were part worn, and after some discussion it was agreed that a rebate of 50 per cent. of their value should be allowed, the claim being thereby reduced by £29,500.

A suggestion, advanced by India, that there was a duplicate charge in respect of two aeroplanes was not admitted, but a reduction of 50 per cent. was offered to effect a compromise. As it was desired by all parties that the meeting should result in a final settlement of all outstanding arrear claims, a recent audit query (regarding a claim for gauges) respecting which no communication had yet been made to the Surplus Stores Liquidation Department, involving about £1,000, was withdrawn on condition that the latter Department surrendered the entire claim for these two machines. This was agreed to, the claim being thus reduced by £2,300.

A few lesser adjustments were also effected which brought the total reduction on account of the claims under consideration to £36,762, the final agreed payment being £81,000.

In addition to this reduction the conference resulted in a further £27,550 being credited to service heads in 1924–5 in respect of certain items brought to account in 1921–2 under the heading "Miscellaneous Arrear Charges," credit being given under "Bills Payable." This amount related to claims by the Disposals and Liquidation Commission which were still outstanding at the date of the conference but were withdrawn in consequence of the agreement that the payment of £81,000 should be in final settlement of all arrear stores claims.

Victory Medal ribbon.

3. With reference to the last sentence of para. 14 of my last Report—

(a) the surplus ribbon purchased from the trade still remained in stock at the Royal Army Clothing Department, Pimlico, on the 31st March 1925. It is now suggested by the War Office, in view of there being no outlet for this material, that it should be pulped, in which case the disposal value will be very small; and

(b) the sum of £5,064 15*s.* 1*d.* was refunded by the War Office, representing the cost of 67,000 yards of Victory Medal ribbon originally purchased from them, less the cost of such quantity of the ribbon as, having been issued with medals awarded for service on the Indian Frontiers and at Aden, was correctly chargeable to Indian revenues either wholly or in part.

War Medal ribbon.

4. It came to the notice of this Department that the cost of considerable quantities of ribbon for the British War Medal and for the 1914 and 1914–15 Stars supplied to India had been charged either to Ordnance and Miscellaneous or to Clothing. As the cost of these medals is an Imperial liability—except in so far as they were granted for Indian Frontier operations or for service at Aden—I suggested that it appeared doubtful whether the necessary adjustments had been effected. As the result of inquiry information was received from the Government of India in July 1925 that a sum of £16,693 8*s.* 10*d.* was recoverable from the War Office on this account. The amount has been included in the Minor Claims settlement referred to in para. 1 of this section of the Report.

Deposits and Advances.

Bills payable.

5. The amount of £200,000 referred to in para. 17 of the last Report was still unadjusted on the 31st March 1925, and is included in the balance of the Deposit Account "Bills Payable" at that date, which was £490,474 2*s.*, as compared with £656,707 1*s.* 8*d.* on the 31st March 1924. The present position regarding the claim of £200,000 is dealt with in para. 1 of this section of the Report.

The question of the rate to be paid to the Air Ministry in respect of Departmental expenses on Aviation Stores (referred to in para. 17 of the last Report) is still undecided. Interim payments have been made representing, approximately, 10 per cent. on the value of stores supplied, but pending settlement 15 per cent., which is the rate proposed by the Air Ministry, is being added to the prices of stores in bringing their cost to account under the service heads.

SECTION III.—PROVINCIAL.

APPROPRIATION AUDIT.

All Provincial Governments.

1. I have adopted as the basis of the Appropriation Report the Statement of Comparison of Estimated and Actual Receipts and Disbursements for the year 1924–5 prepared by the Chief Accounting Officer to the High Commissioner, copies of which have been transmitted to the local Government.

2. I have checked the Statement in detail, and I agree in the explanations furnished with regard to variations between estimated and actual expenditure.

Madras.

As provision for all voted expenditure incurred in England in 1924–5 on behalf of the Madras Government was included in combined subject grants, the total Home expenditure in each of the following cases must be combined with the figures relating to Indian expenditure under the corresponding grant in order to determine whether there was any excess on the grant as a whole :—

	Modified Grant for total Home Expenditure.	Total Home Expenditure.	Excess on total Allotment for Home Expenditure.
(1) Land Revenue -	2,650	3,125	475
(2) Excise - -	2,075	2,106	31
(3) Stamps - -	20,000	21,990	1,990
(4) Jails - -	1,088	1,334	246

In cases (1), (2) and (4) the probability of an excess was foreseen by the High Commissioner, whose application for the necessary additional appropriation was not sanctioned by the local Government; the provision under Land Revenue was in fact reduced.

Considerable modifications of the Budget estimates furnished by the local Government on account of Leave and Deputation Salaries were found to be necessary in the light of actual expenditure during the course of the year. The modified grants, however, approximated reasonably closely to the actual requirements on this account.

The provision for Sterling Overseas Pay consequent on the adoption in December 1924 of the recommendations of the Lee Commission, which as indicated in General Note 2 to the Statement was advised by the Finance Department, was generally substantially in excess of the actuals. A closer forecast should be possible in future when experience of the progress of expenditure on this account has been gained.

Bombay.

Provision for voted expenditure chargeable to revenue incurred by the High Commissioner on behalf of the Government of Bombay was made under a single composite grant. In the case of expenditure not chargeable to revenue, provision was made under the appropriate subject grant.

The position as regards the composite grant for High Commissioner's expenditure was as follows :—

Budget.	Modified Grant.	Actual.	Decrease.
£	£	£	£
114,414	114,414	62,378	52,036

The substantial deficiency of actual expenditure is mainly distributed under the following heads of account :—

Stamps—Stores - - - - -	7,233
Administration of Justice, Leave Salaries, &c. -	4,000
Education—Stores - - - - -	2,245
Stationery and Printing—Stores - - -	26,819
	£40,297

In all these cases the Budget provision was based for the most part on information supplied by the local Government.

EXPENDITURE NOT CHARGED TO REVENUE.

	Budget.	Modified Grant.	Actual.	Decrease.
	£	£	£	£
Construction of Irrigation, &c., Works—Stores -	795,660	795,660	316,726	478,934
Bombay Development Scheme—Stores -	67,472	32,907	5,395	27,512

The over-budgeting in both instances appears to be due to the fact that the programme on which the original provision advised by the local Government was based was substantially modified during the course of the year.

Bengal.

Provision for voted expenditure by the High Commissioner in 1924–5 was included in the composite grant for all Home charges.

The final position as regards the High Commissioner's expenditure was as follows:—

Budget.	Modified Grant.	Actual.	Decrease.
82,887	70,187	57,645	12,542

The deficiencies of actual expenditure compared to the Budget and modified grant, which amounted to approximately 30 per cent. and 18 per cent. respectively, indicate a tendency to over-estimate.

In the voted section of the account there were excesses of expenditure under various major heads as noted below:—

Head of Account.	Modified Grant.	Actual.	Excess.
Irrigation, Navigation, &c., Works for which Capital Accounts are kept - - - -	1,000	1,023	23
Superannuation Allowances and Pensions (reserved) - -	8,000	8,362	362
Expenditure not charged to Revenue, Construction of Irrigation, &c., Works - -	100	144	44

Objection to these excesses was removed by the Government of Bengal, as savings existed under General Administration from which the necessary reappropriation could have been made before the close of the financial year.

Objection to the following excesses of non-voted expenditure was similarly removed, savings existing under General Administration:—

Head of Account.	Modified Grant.	Actual.	Excess.
Excise - - - -	1,200	1,239	39
Irrigation, &c.—Works - -	1,000	1,441	441
Public Health - - -	800	932	132

The provision for Sterling Overseas Pay consequent on the adoption in December 1924 of the recommendations of the Lee Commission, which as indicated in Note 2 to the Statement was advised by the Finance Department, was in a number of instances considerably below the actual expenditure. A closer forecast should be possible when further experience of the progress of expenditure on this account has been gained.

With reference to Explanation No. 3 under Miscellaneous Departments, stating that no order had been received sanctioning a reappropriation which had been promised in respect of an honorarium paid for writing a book, I have since been informed that a reappropriation of £75 to this head from General Administration—Cost of High Commissioner's establishments, had actually been effected.

United Provinces.

Provision for the entire voted expenditure in 1924–5 incurred by the High Commissioner on behalf of the Government of the United Provinces was made by means of a single composite grant. The final position was as follows :—

Budget.	Modified Grant.	Actual.	Decrease.

The figures of actual expenditure approximated very closely to the provision in the Budget and Modified Grant, the variation in each case being under 5 per cent.

As stated in Note 2 to the Statement of Comparison a lump sum provision of £45,000 was notified in respect of payments of Sterling Overseas Pay, which were made as a result of the adoption of the recommendations of the Lee Commission. No information has been received in regard to the distribution of this provision amongst the various heads of account, under which payments amounting to £34,388 were incurred.

Burma.

As provision for all voted expenditure incurred in England in 1924–5 on behalf of the Government of Burma was included in combined subject grants, the total Home expenditure under Industries, in which, as noted below, there was an excess of £209, must be combined with the figures relating to Indian expenditure under the corresponding grant in order to determine whether there was any excess on the grant as a whole :—

Head of Account.	Modified Grant.	Actual.	Increase.
Industries - - -	750	959	209

Considerable variations of the Budget provision for Leave and Deputation Salaries, particularly under non-voted, were found to be necessary in the course of the year. The modified grants, however, approximated reasonably closely to the actual expenditure on this account.

The substantial deficiencies of expenditure in the under-mentioned instances were mainly due to the inclusion in the estimates of provision for Stores for which no indents were subsequently received.

Head of Account.	Modified Grant.	Actual Expenditure.	Decrease.
Irrigation, &c., Works -	10,130	830	9,300
Civil Works—Stores -	79,100	53,725	25,375

Under Ports and Pilotage—Stores the actual expenditure amounted to £17,465 against a modified grant of £30,648. The deficiency is due to the local Government having over-estimated the cost of the Stores chargeable to this head.

Punjab.

Provision for voted expenditure incurred in 1924–5 by the High Commissioner on behalf of the Punjab Government was distributed under various combined subject grants.

There was no excess over the modified grant for the High Commissioner's voted expenditure under any subject grant.

Head of Account.	Modified Grant.	Actual.	Decrease.
Construction of Irrigation, &c., Works—Stores - -	247,009	83,444	163,565

The actual expenditure in this instance amounted to approximately 34 per cent. of the Budget provision, which was based for the most part on the forecast supplied by the local Government. Surrenders amounting to £157,000 were offered in various revisions, but since these could not be utilised in India the excess provision was allowed to lapse.

Bihar and Orissa.

Provision for all voted expenditure incurred by the High Commissioner on behalf of the Government of Bihar and Orissa was made under a single composite grant, of which the final figures were as follows:—

Budget.	Modified Grant.	Actual.	Decrease.
34,664	39,550	34,907	4,643

Considerable modifications of the Budget allotment under various heads were found to be necessary in the light of the progress of expenditure during the course of the year. The modified grants, however, approximated reasonably closely to the figures of actual expenditure.

Central Provinces.

Provision for all voted Home charges, both by the Secretary of State and the High Commissioner, in 1924–5, with the exception of those relating to Stores and Irrigation, was made under a single composite grant. The provision for the High Commissioner's expenditure on Stores and Irrigation was included in the various Indian grants for the corresponding services.

As regards the portion of the composite grant allotted to the High Commissioner, the final position was as follows:—

Budget.	Modified Grant.	Actual.	Increase.

Against this increase must be set a decrease of £416 in the Secretary of State's expenditure from the same grant, leaving an excess of £286 on the total grant for Home charges which requires report to the Legislative Council.

The total Home expenditure in the following cases must be combined with the figures relating to Indian expenditure under the corresponding grants in order to determine whether there was any excess on the grant as a whole:—

Head of Account.	Modified Grant.	Actual.	Excess over Allotment for Home Charges.
Industries, Stores - -	270	322	52

The explanations given in the Statement show that the above excesses were chiefly due to—

(a) a misunderstanding which led to the provision for passages being classified as non-voted instead of voted;

(b) the fact that the appropriation asked for by the High Commissioner was not provided by the local Government.

Assam.

Provision for all voted Home charges in 1924–5 was included in a single composite grant comprising a number of major heads, for each of which there is a corresponding Indian subject grant.

The final position in regard to the portion of the grant allotted to the High Commissioner was as follows:—

Budget.	Modified Grant.	Actual.	Decrease.
5,458	3,727	3,118	609

The variation between the Budget and modified grant is largely due to the inclusion in the former of provision for Stores, for which no indents were subsequently received.

Coorg.

The expenditure is entirely non-voted and all increases requiring report to Government are correctly exhibited in the statement.

Hitherto expenditure incurred in England on behalf of the Coorg Administration has not been separately shown in the Home Accounts. With effect from 28th January 1924, the Governor-General in Council extended to Coorg the provisions of the Government of India Act relating to Legislative Councils of Lieutenant-Governors and constituted the Chief Commissioner in Council a local Legislature. Separate accounts of expenditure incurred by the High Commissioner in 1924–5 on behalf of the Coorg Government have therefore been compiled.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION.

Madras.

3. The total cost of the High Commissioner's Establishments is reduced, as explained in para. 5 of section I of the Report on the Central Government's Account for 1924–5, by amounts which represent the local Government's share of the cost of those establishments.

The sum of £2,227 included under the heading "General Administration" covers work done in connection with (a) the issue of leave pay and pensions, and (b) Indian students.

In addition, £1,785 in respect of the surcharge of 2 per cent. on the value of stores supplied, has been included in the amounts charged for stores under the various service headings.

Bombay.

British Empire Exhibition.

Madras, Bombay, Bengal, United Provinces, Punjab, Bihar and Orissa.

British Empire Exhibition, 1924.

4. The accounts of the British Empire Exhibition are now practically complete. The following extract from my Report on the accounts of the Central Government for 1924–5 contains references to matters which relate also to Provincial Governments :—

Rent of space.

An area of about 64,500 square feet of space in the Pavilion was let, 2,100 square feet direct to exhibitors and the balance to Provincial Governments and Indian States. The bulk of the receipts for rent was brought to account in India. The amount of £21,990 was received in this country, the principal items being sums of £7,868 and £6,750 received from the Governments of Madras and Punjab respectively. The whole of the rent for the space let appears to have been duly received with the exception of the balance, amounting to about £660, of the amount due from the Bombay Government. This amount has been reduced by the sum £175, the share of the sale proceeds of the Pavilion allocated to Bombay ; the balance is under adjustment in India.

Sale of Pavilion.

When it was decided that the Government of India would not officially participate in the Exhibition in 1925, the Indian Pavilion with certain of the contents was disposed of to the British Empire Exhibition Authorities for the inclusive sum of £20,000, payable in instalments, the High Commissioner being relieved from all liability arising out of his original agreement with the British Empire Exhibition Authorities for the removal of the building and the restoration of the site. The accounts for 1924–5 include the sum of £2,000, the first instalment of the sale proceeds, and the balance has since been received.

It was decided to allot to each participating Province and State such portion of the total sum realised on the disposal of the building as might be considered fair by the Government of India, having regard to the extent to which the fixtures remaining in the building might determine the total price obtained. The amount received has been allotted as follows :—

* Sinking Funds were established in connection with these Railways to redeem India 3½ and 3 per Cent. Stock issued in lieu of Annuity or Debenture Stock. These Funds have been applied to the purchase of India Stock of the denomination offering the best yield. The minus figures represent the interest on India 7, 5½ and 2½ per Cent. Stock so purchased, and on India 3 per Cent. Stock purchased in excess of the amount issued.

† The Discount Sinking Fund in redemption of Debt incurred in excess of money raised, in respect of the India 3 per Cent. Stock issued in connection with the purchase of the Oude and Rohilkund Railway, has been partly applied to the redemption of India 7, 5½ and 3½ per Cent. Stock instead of India 3 per Cent. Stock.

EXPLANATIONS OF VARIATION BETWEEN EXPENDITURE AND GRANT.

1, 2, 3 The excesses are due to incorrect provision under "Railway Revenue Account" for credits in respect of interest on Stock to be purchased during the year with the Railway Sinking Funds. These credits should have been included under "Interest on Ordinary Debt," as a result of the fixation of the capital at charge of Railways. The adjustments, however, were notified to India too late for inclusion in the Railway Budget.

4 The Grant represented one year's interest at 3·3252 per cent. (the prescribed rate to end of 1916-17) on 55,720,115*l.*, the total expenditure to 31st March 1917, + one year's interest at an estimated rate of 5·3006 per cent. on 19,199,293*l.* (15,017,643*l.*, the total expenditure from 1st April 1917 to 31st March 1924, + 1,899,600*l.*, the Revised Estimate for 1924-25, + 2,282,050*l.*, moiety of the Budget for 1925-26). The actual expenditure during the period 1917-25 proves, however, to be 275,374*l.* less than the figure taken for the Grant, and the moiety for 1925-26, 603,828*l.* less; the rate of interest adopted in the Account is also somewhat lower at 5·29190 per cent. A further decrease arises from an adjustment of 567*l.* in respect of interest at 5·30415 per cent. on an excess of 10,686*l.* in Capital Outlay included in the Account for 1924-25.

5 The expenditure represents interest on 700,000*l.* Debenture Stock allocated as State Stock, from an issue by the Bengal and North-Western Railway Company, in refund of outlay by the Government of India on the Tirhoot State Railway. A re-appropriation of 14,400*l.* from "State Railways—Interest on Debt" was advised in Telegram from Viceroy, dated 30th March 1926 (Railway Department) No. 43.

6 The saving is due to the operation of the rules for assessment of income tax in the closing years of a business whereby the compensation paid by the Secretary of State in 1923-24 escaped taxation.

7 The excess in Voted expenditure is due to several small items which could not be foreseen, the principal of which are 228*l.* in respect of transactions connected with the East Indian and Great Indian Peninsula Railway Companies occurring subsequent to the closing of accounts, and 335*l.* pay and expenses of Officers on leave or on special duty. The excess has been sanctioned by the Secretary of State, the total of the grant not having been exceeded.

8 The excess in Voted expenditure is due to insufficient provision having been made for the pay and expenses of Officers attending the International Telegraph Conference at Paris. Re-appropriation of 300*l.* from the High Commissioner advised in Telegram from Viceroy, dated 16th March 1926, No. D./1437 F.

8a Due to rounding. The excess has been sanctioned by the Secretary of State, the total of the grant not having been exceeded.

9 Expenditure on this account has been met by the High Commissioner Re-appropriation of 4,900*l.* in his favour advised in Telegram from Viceroy, dated 16th March 1926, No. D./1437 F.

10 The increase represents the difference between 20,698*l.*, the net amount by which the sum charged to Railway Revenue Account fell short of the estimate (see Notes Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4), and 12,900*l.*, the amount of the supplementary grant.

11 Due to investment having been made in India 3½ and 3 per cent. Stock instead of in 5½ per cent. Stock as originally contemplated, thereby accelerating the redemption of the discount on the 1909, 1910, and 1911 loans. The Sinking Funds in respect of these loans were discontinued during the year on completion.

12 Of the saving 500*l.* has been utilised in re-appropriation.

13 Due to larger payments in respect of Stamp duty on transfers of Debenture Stock of the East Indian and Great Indian Peninsula Railway Companies than was anticipated. Excess has been partly covered by re-appropriations of 500*l.* from Management of Debt sanctioned by the Secretary of State and 400*l.* from Indian Grant under Reduction and Avoidance of Debt advised in Telegram from Viceroy, dated 24th March 1926, No. D./1541 F., and the remainder has been sanctioned by the Secretary of State, the total of the Grant not having been exceeded.

EXPLANATIONS OF VARIATION BETWEEN EXPENDITURE AND GRANT.

1 The grant to the International Bureau of Public Health was not paid within the year. Of the saving £100 has been utilised in reappropriation.

2 The excess in Voted expenditure, due to heavier expenses at Jeddah in connection with the Indian Pilgrimage, has been covered by reappropriation from sub-head "Grants-in-aid" sanctioned by the Secretary of State.

3 Of the saving £90 has been utilised in reappropriation.

3a Excess covered by reappropriation from "Industries: Miscellaneous" sanctioned by the Secretary of State.

4 There is an excess of £315 owing to the Grant to the Royal Asiatic Society having been estimated for under sub-head "Miscellaneous." The excess has been met by reappropriation of £320 from "Miscellaneous" sanctioned by the Secretary of State. On the other hand, however, a payment of £80 in respect of the "Encyclopædia of Islam" did not fall within the year.

5 Savings in Voted expenditure occur of about £2,900 owing to lower expenditure on the library and records than was anticipated, and of £400 owing to provision under this head for expenditure in connection with the publication of a volume of the Indian Text Series, the charge being correctly debitable under "Remittance." On the other hand, there is an excess of £918 representing the expenses of an officer on deputation to British Guiana in connection with a colonisation scheme for which no provision was made. Of the net saving, £320 has been utilised in reappropriation.

6 The moiety of the renewed grant of £300 to Trinity College, Dublin, was not paid within the year as anticipated.

7 Saving due to delay in the presentation of Stationery Office claims for printing.

8 Saving due to an improvement in the sterling-dollar exchange.

9 The expenses of the delegation proved to be smaller than was expected.

10, 11 The Estimate, which was largely conjectural, proved to be too high.

12, 14 The excesses on Voted expenditure have been sanctioned by the Secretary of State, the total of the grant not having been exceeded.

13 The excess in Voted as well as the saving in Non-Voted expenditure is mainly due to alteration of the Estimate in India in formulating the demand. The excess has been covered by reappropriation from "Loss on Transports" sanctioned by the Secretary of State.

15 Excess is due to a grant-in-aid of the publication of the work "Dome of the Rock, Jerusalem," and is covered by reappropriation of £500 from sub-head "Miscellaneous," sanctioned by the Secretary of State.

16 Excess covered by reappropriation from sub-head "Commission on pensions, &c., paid abroad," sanctioned by the Secretary of State.

17 The saving is mainly due to a reduction in the charges made for payments in the Dominions, particularly in South Africa. Of the saving £100 has been utilised in reappropriation.

18 Expenditure on this account was not incurred within the year. Of the saving £1,900 has been utilised in reappropriation.

19 Savings occur of £527 under "Insignia of Indian Orders," of £490 in Reuter's special telegrams, and of £8,105 in miscellaneous expenditure, due to excessive provision. On the other hand, there is an excess of £1,027 in "Books supplied to India," mainly due to charges for additional copies of the Indian Word Code. Of the net saving £500 has been utilised in reappropriation.

20 An excess of about £6,700 occurs owing to the Foreign Office claim in respect of the Military Commission to Persia being made in 1925–26 instead of in 1924–25 as anticipated. On the other hand, there are savings of £3,500 owing to the contribution on account of Diplomatic, &c., Establishments in Persia, Consulates at Jeddah, Momein, &c., not being paid within the year, and of about £2,700 in miscellaneous expenditure.

21 Due to the payment in 1924–25 of allowances expected to fall in 1925–26.

EXPLANATIONS OF VARIATION BETWEEN EXPENDITURE AND GRANT.

1 The excess is largely due to the increased grants of furlough to non-commissioned officers and men.

2 Partly due to payment of arrears under recent pay concessions, and partly to a greater number of Officers having availed themselves of leave than was anticipated.

3 The provision on these accounts, which was based on the best information available, proved to be too high.

4 Partly due to a reduction in War Office demands, and partly to a refund of an overpayment of £4,945 in respect of 1924–25.

5 The excess is mainly due to payment of the balance of arrear contributions in respect of India Unattached List ranks.

6 Expenditure on this account could not have been foreseen.

7 Insufficient allowance was made for refunds in adjustment of previous overcharges, and provision was not made for the recovery of a moiety of the charges relating to Aden (some £6,000). The balance may be ascribed to less allotments being remitted.

8 The provision, which was based on the experience of previous years, proved to be too high.

9 The number of appointments proved to be smaller than was expected, and advances of pay, to which Officers are entitled, were drawn in fewer cases.

10 Due to readjustment between Clothing and Consolidated Clothing Allowance of advances made to the War Office in 1921–22 and 1922–23, on agreement of claims in respect of period from 1st April 1920 up to and including the first half of trooping season 1923–24 See Note No. 11.

11 Of the excess, £41,934 is due to readjustment of charges in 1921–22 and 1922–23. See Note No. 10. The balance is the result of an agreement with the War Office to regard the capitation rate in respect of Clothing Accounts, on which apparent overpayments have been made since 1920, as a question to be included in the settlement of outstanding war claims.

12 Partly due to the number of Officers on courses being greater than was expected, and partly to the inclusion under this head of the furlough allowances of Educational Officers, provision for which was made under "Furlough Allowances of British Troops."

13 No forecast of this expenditure could be made.

14 An excess of £40,171 occurs owing to the issue of Sterling Overseas Pay for which no provision was made, but, on the other hand, Furlough Pay shows a saving of about £11,000 due partly to the appropriation under "Staff" of payments in respect of certain appointments hitherto classified under this head, and partly to fewer Officers being on leave than was expected.

15 Excesses occur of £17,714 in Furlough Pay owing to a greater number of Officers being on leave than was expected, of £7,597 owing to the issue of Sterling Overseas Pay, and of £7,167 in miscellaneous expenditure mainly owing to War Office claims for the pay and expenses of Military Attachés at Tehran (including arrears). On the other hand, excessive provision was made in respect of Native Orderlies.

16 The expenditure was incurred by Colonel Gordon in connection with the purchase of mules and donkeys in the U.S.A. A re-appropriation of £34,300 from the Indian Grant was advised in letter from Government of India, Army Department, dated 3rd December 1925, No 61.

17 The excess is partly due to the amount of gratuities paid in advance of due date being greater than was expected, and partly to acceleration in the presentation of claims in respect of payments made in the Colonies.

18 Mainly due to heavier payments in respect of medical treatment than was expected, and to a contribution of £3,000 towards the cost of the memorial to Indian Troops at Port Tewfik.

19 There is a saving on the original grant of £587,436 due to the amendment by the War Office of their estimates of the sums due in respect of the years 1919–20 to 1925–26. Of this sum £219,400 has been utilised, viz., £205,000 to cover expenditure of the High Commissioner, and £14,400 for the Indian Grant for Military Engineer Services. Vide Telegram from Viceroy, dated 16th March 1926.

20 Savings occur under all sub-heads except Royal Warrant Pensions, which show an increase of about £3,000.

21 The provision, which was based on the latest information available, proved to be too low.

22 There was an excess of £8,070 in Furlough Pay, largely due to an advance made in respect of arrear claims. On the other hand, a saving of £1,793 occurs under "Voyage Pay."

23 Provision for this item was made under "National Health Insurance —Army."

24 Due to delay in the presentation of claims.

25 Includes an adjustment of £5,776 in respect of the year 1919–20.

26 Due to the presentation in 1925–26 of arrear claims for which provision was made in the Estimates for 1924–25.

27 The transactions with the Air Ministry resulting in a net payment of £1,990, relate to arrear periods from 1920–21, and were too uncertain to be estimated.

28 Due to acceleration of claims.

29 Due to a charge by the Admiralty for hire of an oil barge in the Persian Gulf, an exceptional transaction.

30 A sum of £10,000 advanced in 1924–25 to the Admiralty in connection with the purchase of a vessel to replace the Elphinstone was refunded in the year. On the other hand, however, an excess of £2,445 occurs in miscellaneous expenditure.

1 The Budget was framed in accordance with telegram from the Viceroy, dated 10th February 1925. The excess of £291,748 over the net Budget Allotment is covered to the extent of £278,800 by variations advised in communications from the Railway Board as follows:—

-100	Letter dated 9th June 1925.
44,000	„ 3rd September 1925.
12,000	„ 7th October 1925.
40,000	„ 4th March 1926.
182,900	Telegram dated 7th October 1926.
278,800

For particulars of variations between the expenditure and the gross allotments, see Supplementary Statement below.

2 Due to the renewal instead of replacement by fresh capital of Debentures of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway Company maturing.

3 Entry omitted from Account in accordance with letter from the Government of India dated 13th July 1925, No. D. 2822/F.

4 There is a saving of £1,906 in allowances of architects as compared with estimate furnished in telegram from Viceroy (Department of Industries and Labour), dated 10th September 1925, No. 70. On the other hand, an excess of £238 occurs on account of miscellaneous expenditure, for which a reappropriation of £500 from the High Commissioner was sanctioned in telegram from Viceroy, dated 24th March 1926, No. D./1541 F.

* The excess is due to the payment of £8,018 in respect of Sterling Overseas Pay. Instructions were given in Telegram from the Railway Board, dated 19th February 1926, to include in the Revised Estimates a total of £155,000 for all Railways on this account and payment was made accordingly. No additional allotment was, however, notified, and the original allotment proved insufficient.

INDIA OFFICE,
25th November 1926.

SIDNEY TURNER,
Accountant-General.

I certify that the above Account has been examined under my directions and is, in my opinion, correct.

INDIA AUDIT OFFICE,
25th January 1927.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

No. 3.—REPORT of the AUDITOR upon the ACCOUNTS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN COUNCIL OF INDIA, from 1st April 1925 to 31st March 1926; prepared and submitted to the Secretary of State in Council, in pursuance of section 27 (5) of the Government of India Act.

---

1. This Report, which relates to the Accounts of the Central Government, is divided into two sections relating respectively to—

I. Receipts and Expenditure under heads other than those relative to Military Services;

II. Receipts and Expenditure relating to Military Services.

The sections will be reviewed as follows: No. I by the Public Accounts Committee set up by the Central Legislative Assembly; No. II by a special Departmental Committee constituted by the Government of India. The accounts of the Provincial Governments have already been dealt with in my reports dated 25th January 1927.

SECTION I.—NON-MILITARY SERVICES.

GENERAL.

Savings resulting from audit questions.

2. The total amount saved to Indian revenues as a result of audit questions relating to the Home Accounts for the year is estimated at about £25,000. In addition, a very considerable saving to Central revenues will result from the question raised by this Department regarding re-classification of pensions (vide para. 18 of Section II of this Report). The total amount credited to Central revenues up to date is about £125,000, and the annual amount involved is about £45,000. These figures will be substantially increased when the re-classification is completed.

Increase of work and staff.

3. In this connection I would again refer to the large increase of work in this Department, due partly to post-war conditions, and partly also to accounting methods consequent upon Reforms. Classification of payments as between Central and Provincial revenues—of which the question referred to in para. 2 is an example—has caused a considerable increase in the work of the Accounting Departments and also of my own Department.

In para. 2 of the last Report I referred to proposals which I had made for an increase of my staff. That increase was recently sanctioned, and I am now in a position to make more adequate arrangements for the audit of certain classes of expenditure.

Expenditure requiring sanction by Imperial Parliament.

4. The sanction of the Imperial Parliament, which is necessary under the Government of India Act, has not yet been obtained for two payments from Indian revenues mentioned in previous Reports, viz. (1) £13,100,000 paid provisionally to the War Office in 1919 in respect of a further additional contribution by India towards the cost of the war, and (2) £200,000 paid to the War Office in 1921 as an advance subject to adjustment on account of the cost of exchange concession on gratuities. The submission for sanction has been deferred pending the settlement of various large claims by the Imperial Government against Indian revenues in respect mainly of non-effective liabilities arising out of the war. The efforts to reach a comprehensive settlement of the various claims and counterclaims—major and minor—to which reference was made in paras. 4 and 5 of Section I of the last Report, are still proceeding.

RAILWAYS.

5. Questions concerning Railway Accounts, whether Revenue or Capital, are, for convenience, dealt with in paras. 6 to 11, instead of the usual order being followed, viz. that of the Major Headings as shown in the Account.

Railway Revenue Receipts.

Surplus profits, Southern Punjab Railway.

6. The sum of £108,541 8*s.* 10*d.* is the balance of the Government share of the surplus profits of the Southern Punjab Railway Company for the year ended 30th September 1924, making the total amount received for that year £203,768 8*s.* 1*d.*

The instalment of £109,761 16*s.* 4*d.* on account of the year ended 30th September 1925 forms part of a total sum of £190,631 8*s.* 10*d.*

A question was raised in audit regarding the continued use of the rate of exchange of 1*s.* 4*d.* for converting into rupees the Company's Revenue Expenditure in England and the sterling interest on their debenture stocks, for the purposes of obtaining relief from Indian income tax. As the result of action in India, following the communication of these observations to the Railway Board, average rates of exchange (approximately 1*s.* 6*d.*) were applied in the 1925–6 assessment; the amount exempted was consequently reduced, and some £500 more paid in Indian income tax by the Company.

Railway Capital Receipts.

Bengal and North Western Railway.

7. As mentioned in para. 9 of Section I of the last Report, the Bengal and North-Western Railway Company made an issue of £1,250,000 5 per cent. Special Debenture Stock at 94½, of which £700,000 was allocated to the Tirhoot State Railway, which the Company work as part of their system. The amount due on this allocation up to and including allotment, viz., £105,000, was received and brought to account in the year ended 31st March 1925, and the sum of £556,500 included in the present account is the balance realised from the remaining instalments, making up a total of £661,500. The discount on the £700,000 stock was thus £38,500.

It was pointed out in audit that the stock was definitely redeemable at par not later than 1st November 1960, and that although the interests of the Secretary of State had been safeguarded so far as the discount on the portion allocated to the Company was concerned, no sinking fund had been set up for the redemption of the discount on the State portion; and that the provision of the necessary funds would presumably affect the division of the surplus profits of the Tirhoot Railway.

After consultation with the Railway Board, a sinking fund was established to redeem the discount by 1st November 1945, the earliest redemption date of the stock, but it was held that under clause 4 of the contract dated 23rd June 1925 with the Company, the charges must be excluded from the calculation of the surplus profits and be borne entirely by Indian revenues. If, however, there should be any future issue of Special Debenture Stock at a discount the allocation of sinking fund charges is to be considered further.

Railway Revenue Account.

Great Indian Peninsula Railway. Termination of contract.

8. The contract with the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company terminated on the 30th June 1925, after which date the line was transferred to direct State management in India. The High Commissioner for India took over the purchase of stores and other agency work in this country, and as there were legal difficulties in the way of leaving the management of the £3,500,000 Debenture Stock in the hands of the Annuity Trustees, the work was entrusted to the Bank of England.

An advance of £3,300 was made to the Company to cover the estimated cost of office salaries and various expenses during the clearing-up period following the termination of the contract; £224 11*s.* 7*d.* remained unexpended and was refunded to the Secretary of State.

East Indian Railway. Compensation to annuitants.

9. The final payment of compensation to the deferred annuitants of the East Indian Railway Company for loss of income tax relief was for the three months ended 31st December 1924, the date of termination of the working contract. It amounted to £6,314 15*s.*, and in accordance with the contract was paid on 1st April 1925.

Owing to (1) reduction in the standard rate of income tax and (2) an arrangement between the Company and the Inland Revenue authorities whereby the assessment to income tax for the final period of the Contract was based on the actual profits of that period, the Company had in the aggregate received from the India Office £6,186 14*s.* more than they were required to pay to the Inland Revenue Department, and this amount was refunded to the Secretary of State. The net expenditure therefore amounted to £128 1*s.*

East Indian Railway. Termination of contract.

10. The sum of £452 15*s.* 10*d.* in respect of transactions occurring subsequently to the closing of the accounts of the East Indian Railway Company on termination of the Contract, is the net figure resulting from a payment of £764 13*s.* 5*d.* and two receipts aggregating £311 17*s.* 7*d.*

The payment of £764 13*s.* 5*d.* was in respect of certain bonuses, corresponding to those which, as the result of protracted litigation, had been granted to unmarried Civil Servants while absent on military duty during the war. The benefits of this decision were extended to the home staffs of the various Indian Railway Companies, including the East Indian Railway Company, whose contract had by this time expired.

Questions were raised in audit regarding the amount claimed by the Company, as the result of which the claim, originally for £907 5*s.*—subsequently amended to £959 17.—was reduced to £764 13*s.* 5*d.*

The receipts aggregating £311 17*s.* 7*d.* are the unspent balances of advances amounting to £4,203 made to the Company for the estimated cost of office salaries and various expenses during the clearing-up period following the termination of the contract. The actual savings were £387 5*s.* 3*d.*, but from this sum was provided the contribution of £75 7*s.* 8*d.* to Provident Fund that would have been due from the Undertaking on the bonus payment above.

Railway Capital Account.

Marine insurance rates.

11. At the beginning of 1926 marine insurance rates fell to the general level of 3*s.* 6*d.* per cent. for all normal shipments of stores to India by the Guaranteed Companies. It was observed that one Company continued to pay 4*s.* per cent. on shipments to Madras, and as the result of a question in audit, the Company took the matter up with their agents and obtained a refund of £43 in respect of two months' shipments and the application of the reduced rate to further shipments.

Posts and Telegraphs Revenue Account.

Eastern Mail Service.

12. As stated in para. 14 of Section I of the last Report, the quarterly payments of £5,500 in respect of India's contribution to the cost of the Eastern Mail Service since 1st April 1923 are provisional and subject to adjustment when full details of the actual cost are available. So far details have been furnished for the period 1st April to 31st December 1923 only, but these show that the advances made approximate very closely to India's share of the actual cost. It has been decided, therefore, to continue to make advances at the same rate till adjustment is possible.

Amount due from Turkey.

13. With reference to para. 14 of the 1921–2 Report, and para. 15 of Section I of the last Report, the sum of £1,342 12*s.* 2*d.*, due to the Indo-European Telegraph Department, has not yet been recovered, but I understand that instead of the amount being claimed by the Foreign Office from the Turkish Government under the provisions of the Treaty of Lausanne, recovery will now be made direct by the Director-in-Chief of the Indo-European Telegraph Department.

Miscellaneous (Receipts).

Wheat Scheme, 1920-1.

14. In the audit by my Department of the final statements of account of one of the agent firms appointed in connection with the Wheat Scheme of 1920–1, it was discovered that an amount of £119 4*s.*, advised from India as due by the firm to Indian revenues, had been credited instead of debited to the firm in the accounts. The receipt of £238 8*s.* under Miscellaneous is the amount repaid by the firm to adjust the error.

Miscellaneous (Payments).

League of Nations.

15. £53,288 3*s.* 10*d.* was paid in 1925–6 in respect of India's contribution towards the expenses of the League of Nations for the year ended 31st December 1925. The amount is approximately 6·4 per cent. of the total expenditure. For the year 1926 India's share has been calculated as 56 out of 937 units of the total expenditure, or just under 6 per cent. The contribution payable in future years will be modified by the entry of Germany into the League.

Secret Service.

16. £6,000 was placed at the disposal of the Secretary of State during 1925–6 for Secret Service. The amount actually expended was £5,636, and the balance in hand on 31st March 1926 was £1,378 4*s.* 5*d.*

The Secretary of State has furnished me with a certificate that the expenditure was necessary for the public service.

Relief and repatriation of destitute Indians.

17. Included under this head is the amount of £14,157 10*s.* 11*d.* paid to the Imperial Government for expenditure defrayed from the British Relief Fund, and classified as in respect of the relief of Indian subjects in Turkey, during the war period. In submitting this claim, which was not supported by vouchers, the Foreign Office stated that a further sum of £T.51,355 had been expended from the Fund in Turkey on the relief of civilians in respect of whom no evidence of national status had been furnished. From the names of the persons relieved, however, it appeared that about half of this sum was expended on either Indian or Egyptian subjects. Other expenditure had been incurred also at Constantinople and Mersina in respect of which neither vouchers nor names had been furnished. Information regarding this expenditure was being sought from the neutral Governments which administered the Fund. While it would be reasonable for India to bear a share of the unclassified expenditure of £T.51,355, the evidence in support even of the expenditure of £14,157 10*s.* 11*d.* classified as Indian was not as complete as would be expected under normal conditions. A compromise was effected whereby the payment of the latter sum was regarded as a full settlement of all claims of His Majesty's Government in respect of the relief of Indian subjects in Turkey during the war period, with the exception of any claim which might arise on the information asked for regarding the expenditure at Constantinople and Mersina.

Refunds in respect of unavailable passage tickets by an ex-enemy shipping line.

18. At the outbreak of war a number of military officers and civilians on leave in this country, who were provided with Government passages to India on recall to duty, held return tickets by various shipping lines. It was decided to reimburse these officers half the amount they had paid for their passages and to claim from the shipping companies the surrender value of the unused coupons. Among these coupons were a number issued by an Austrian steamship company, in respect of which recovery was not at the time practicable. In July 1918 a claim for the value of these tickets amounting to Rs. 59,872. 8 was lodged with the Liquidator of Hostile Firms, Bombay, and in respect of this claim a sum of Rs. 35,273. 7 was realised from the proceeds of the liquidation of the company's property in India. The balance of the claim, amounting to Rs. 24,599. 1 was registered with the Public Trustee for recovery from any assets which might become available in this country. I pointed out that the company had re-established business under a new name, and suggested that a claim might be made direct for the balance due to India. A claim was accordingly made for Rs. 37,853. 10. 4, which included interest. The company refunded Rs. 23,941. 0. 2 in India, and later agreed to refund a further sum of Rs. 8,779. 14. 1, leaving a balance of Rs. 5,132. 12. 1, with regard to which correspondence is still proceeding.

Repatriation of enemy subjects interned in India.

19. In para. 20 of Section I of the last Report reference was made to an amount of £25,176 16*s.* expended in connection with the repatriation of German subjects who were interned in India during the war. The expenditure was stated to be recoverable from Germany under the provisions of the Treaty of Versailles, and in accordance with the Paris Agreement of January 1925, would, after approval of the Reparations Commission, form a prior charge on the amount of reparations received before 1st September 1924, which was awaiting division. The amount has recently been received. It appears, however, that the decision of the Reparations Commission that such expenditure entitled an Allied Power to a credit under the terms of the Paris Agreement has been contested, and the question is being submitted to arbitration. Although it seems unlikely that the decision will be reversed, the receipt must, in the meantime, be regarded as provisional.

Extraordinary Receipts.

Earnings of enemy ships transferred to revenue.

20. A further sum of £193,002 8*s.* 2*d.* was credited to Revenue under the above head on account of the earnings of certain enemy ships which, as stated in para. 23 of Section I of my last Report, were captured in Indian ports during the war and employed partly for Government purposes and partly in freight and passenger service under the control first of the Secretary of State and latterly of the High Commissioner.

£200,000 was similarly transferred to Revenue in the accounts of the High Commissioner for 1925–6, making, with the sum of £3,325,000 previously transferred, a total credit to Revenue on this account of £3,718,002 8*s.* 2*d.*

The amount remaining in suspense in the accounts of the High Commissioner (who is winding up the Enemy Ships accounts) under Deposits and Advances on 31st March 1926 was £15,402 15*s.* 5*d.*

Share of receipt from the German Government in respect of reparations under the Dawes Scheme.

21. The Indian share of reparations under the Dawes Scheme for the year ended 31st August 1925, which was stated in para. 25 of Section I of the last Report to be £82,054 19*s.* 6*d.*, has since been adjusted at £79,196 14*s.* 2*d.*, but I have raised a question as to the correctness of the rate of exchange used in converting gold marks into sterling. For the year ending 31st August 1926 the total amount payable by Germany is about £61,000,000, of which, after various prior charges have been met, the share for division among the various parts of the British Empire is estimated to be £8,348,912 13*s.* 10*d.* Of this sum India is entitled to 1·2 per cent. or £100,186 19*s.*, of which £45,643 11*s.* 8*d.* is credited in the account under review and the balance has since been received.

Deposits and Advances.

22. Details of the suspense accounts under this heading are given in Appendix II to the Account (page 26).

Loans to Persia.

23. During 1925–6 repayments were made in accordance with the amortisation table drawn up in regard to the loans made in 1903 "for the purposes of the Persian Government." The principal outstanding on 31st March 1926 was £56,300 8*s.*

With regard to the later loans the principal outstanding on 31st March 1924, viz., £2,367,270 1*s.* 8*d.*, was transferred to Revenue in 1923–4, vide para. 67 of the Report on the Accounts for 1923–4.

I am informed that it has not yet been found possible definitely to conclude arrangements with Persia for the repayment of these loans.

Enemy ships.

24. Of the balance of £309,646 2*s.* 10*d.* at the credit of "Enemy Ships" on 31st March 1925, £116,643 14*s.* 8*d.* was paid to the Imperial Government on account of refund of hire money (vide para. 23 of Section I of the last Report), and the balance, £193,002 8*s.* 2*d.*, was credited to revenue (vide para. 20). The suspense account in the accounts of the Secretary of State was closed on 31st March 1926 and all transactions in connection with the winding up of the Enemy Ships account are being carried out by the High Commissioner.

Unrecovered loan.

25. The balance at 31st March 1926 of Miscellaneous Advances includes the amount of £2,000 referred to in para. 29 of Section I of the last Report as advanced to the proprietor of a film-lecture relating to India. The amount has not yet been recovered.

Remittances.

Pensions of dependants of lascars killed in the war.

26. In para. 32 of Section I of the last Report mention was made of the receipt from the Board of Trade of the capitalised value of pensions, &c., paid and to be paid in India to the dependants of lascars of British ships who lost their lives through war risks. Capitalisation had been calculated as at 1st October 1921, and the Government Actuary stated that he "considered that this would form a sufficiently accurate basis for final settlement . . . if interest is considered as accruing at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum from that date." The amounts paid by the Board of Trade included simple interest from the date of capitalisation to the date of payment. On the receipt coming under audit in my Department, it was pointed out that as the calculation of the capital sums involved the addition of compound interest in respect of pensions already paid and a corresponding reduction in respect of pensions to be paid, it seemed clear that the capital sums should bear compound interest from 1st October 1921 to the date of payment. This was admitted, and a further amount of £1,126 18*s.* 3*d.* was found to be due to Indian revenues. Of this sum £1,020 16*s.* 6*d.* was received in March 1926 and £106 1*s.* 9*d.* is under adjustment.

Appropriation Audit.

Method of providing for English expenditure in the Indian Budgets.

27. In the Indian Budgets for 1925–6 provision for Home expenditure continued to be made under grants of both the types to which reference was made in the last Report, viz.:—

(a) Composite Home Grants—covering English expenditure only on a number of services, for each of which there is a separate grant for Indian expenditure.

(b) Combined Subject Grants—covering the entire expenditure, whether English or Indian, on a particular service.

A representative Committee in India has made recommendations with a view to secure uniformity of procedure by all Governments in making provision for Home expenditure. Information has been received that these recommendations were not acceptable to all Local Governments, so that a diversity of practice seems likely to continue.

The question of powers of reappropriation to be exercised by the Secretary of State and the High Commissioner is still under consideration.

Appropriation Account.

28. In previous years the basis of my Appropriation Audit Report has been a Statement of Comparison of Estimated and Actual Receipts and Disbursements, prepared by the Accountant-General, India Office. It was recently decided that, commencing with the year under report, an Appropriation Account, to which my certificate should be appended, should be included in the Accounts presented to Parliament.

Form of Account.

29. The form of the Account embodies various recommendations of the Auditor-General in his Report of an enquiry into the possibility of assimilating Indian Appropriation Reports to the corresponding British Reports; comparisons of estimated and actual receipts, as well as those relating to Debt, Deposit and Advances and Remittance Transactions, have been omitted; variations of provision, other than those authorised by the primary sanctioning authority, i.e. the Assembly in the case of voted and the Finance Department in the case of non-voted expenditure, are no longer shown in the body of the Account, but are explained in the notes. As regards the Composite Grant No. 81, under which the bulk of the provision for civil expenditure by the Secretary of State chargeable to Revenue was allotted, separate heads have been opened (a) for each of the more important Commissions, Conferences or Committees, (b) for Grants-in-Aid.

30. Provision for voted expenditure, excluding that on Railways, by the Secretary of State in Council, was distributed under eight Grants, only one of which—Grant No. 81—related exclusively to expenditure by the Secretary of State. Under this Grant the final position was as follows :—

Original.	Supplementary Grant.	Final Grant.	Expenditure.	Saving.
123,900	24,800	148,700	118,125	30,575

The figure of £24,800 represents the net result of the difference between the Budget provision and the Secretary of State's revised estimate under the various heads comprised in the Grant, less a reduction of £1,900 under Royal Commission on Indian Currency and Finance. The figures of the revised estimate provided, inter alia, for an addition of £15,400 in respect of "Loss on Transports"—a figure which was actually mentioned in submitting the demand to the Assembly. In these circumstances it seems to me that the proper method of showing the Supplementary Grant would have been to distribute it over the heads comprised in the Grant in accordance with the detailed figures of the revised estimate; but in the Appropriation Account the figure has been treated as a block grant and distributed as most convenient in the light of the final figures of actual expenditure. Thus, under the head "Loss on Transports" referred to above the Supplementary Grant appears as £2,725 instead of £15,400, the actual expenditure being nil. A further saving of £8,105, which forms the next most important factor in the total saving of £30,575, was due, as stated in the explanatory note to the Appropriation Account to excessive provision under "Miscellaneous" in the original Grant.

Changes in classification.

31. The Government of India (Civil Services) Act, 1925, made a number of additions to those classes of expenditure which under the Government of India Act, 1919, were precluded from the vote of the Legislature. The Act did not receive Royal Assent until December 1925, which left insufficient time to enable a revision of the classification of the expenditure in question to be carried out. The Account of Voted expenditure therefore contains some items which, under the terms of the amended Act and consequential decisions of His Excellency the Governor-General, should be classified as Non-Voted.

32. Commencing with 1st April 1925 the amounts paid on account of salaries of officers of the Indo-European Telegraph Department at the India Office are being charged under the head "Posts and Telegraphs Revenue Account: Indo-European Telegraph Department," instead of, as formerly, under "General Administration: Salaries of Officers of the Secretary of State in Council of India."

This change was effected as a result of the decision of the Government of India to present the Accounts of the Department in a commercialised form, with effect from the year under review.

Section II.—MILITARY SERVICES.

Incorrect classification of furlough pay, &c.

1. Attention was called to several cases in which furlough pay, &c., debitable to Departments of the Imperial Government, &c., had been charged to Indian revenues. The more important of these are dealt with in paras. 2 to 6. In the remaining cases about £1,450 was recovered.

2. In para. 2 of Section II of the last Report reference was made to cases where furlough pay issued at the India Office to officers of units serving in the Malay States was being charged finally to Indian revenues. As a result of action by this Department a further sum of £1,650 10*s.* 6*d.* in respect of pay of officers of the 1/20th Burma Rifles has been included in the Remittance Account for recovery in India from the Federated Malay States.

3. Following the inquiries referred to in the last sentence of para. 3 of Section II of the last Report, it has been discovered that there were a number of British Service officers who, between 1919 and 1925, remained at the Staff College, Quetta, after the departure of their regiments from India. A further sum (in addition to £667 already reported) will be claimed from the War Office when certain details have been furnished by the Indian pay authorities.

4. Attention was called by this Department to the case of an officer who, after the commencement of a period of duty at the Staff College, Camberley, was for the first time shown in the Indian Army List as having been posted to a unit the pay of which was chargeable to the Air Ministry. His pay and allowances thus became chargeable to that Department from the date on which the unit was taken off the Indian allotment. A sum of about £1,200 has been transferred from Indian to Imperial revenues, and a further amount of Rs. 1,746. 13 is being claimed in the Indian Accounts of Recoverable Expenditure.

5. Attention was drawn to the case of an Indian Army officer whose pay during sick leave after service with the Muscat State was charged finally to Indian revenues in accordance with his Indian last pay certificate. It was decided that a proportion of the officer's leave pay was chargeable to Muscat, and about £140 is accordingly being recovered.

6. It was pointed out by this Department that a British Service officer, on leave, was not shown in the Indian Army List as belonging to a regiment on the Indian Establishment. It was ascertained that this officer, after a period of seconded service, had been attached temporarily to a unit in India, a fact which did not qualify him for leave under Indian Regulations. The War Office stated that there was a vacancy on the Home Establishment into which he could be absorbed, and consented to bear his pay from the date when he would have joined for duty but for the erroneous grant of leave. This involved a transfer of charge from Indian to Imperial revenues of £294. Action has since been taken by the Government of India to ensure that British Service officers, supernumerary to the Indian Establishment on vacating a staff or departmental appointment, are not detained in India or erroneously granted leave, but are absorbed in the Home Establishment as rapidly as possible.

7. As the result of a question raised by this Department as to the incidence of the pay of officers during leave from Miscellaneous Formations and Training Companies affiliated to Indian units serving overseas, it has been decided that, commencing with the year 1925–6, charges in respect of such pay shall be adjusted in the Indian Accounts of Expenditure recoverable from the Imperial Government. As regards previous years, instructions have been issued to Indian paymasters to readjust expenditure erroneously charged to Indian revenues. These arrangements will also apply to leave charges of officers serving with Indian units parts of which are on Imperial Service.

Recovery of gratuity from a surplus officer.

8. The allowances issued to Indian Army officers declared "surplus" (vide para. 23 of the Report on the Accounts for 1922–3), were terminable on any such officer being appointed to a civil post under the Government of India, and if a gratuity had been issued prior to such appointment it became recoverable. Appointments made by the India Office or the High Commissioner were watched and the necessary adjustments were made in all such cases.

Papers sent to this Department in another connection disclosed a case where a surplus officer had proceeded to Burma at his own expense and obtained an appointment from the Local Government. Enquiry was suggested, which revealed that no recovery had been made, and steps are being taken to recover the amount involved—over £2,000—by instalments from the officer's pay.

Recovery of language examination fees.

9. Arrangements were made for an Indian Army officer, on leave from China where he had been studying the language, to attend an Interpretership Examination. As he not only failed to attend the examination, but retired at the end of his leave, attention was called to the case by this Department. As a result, the examination fees charged by the Civil Service Commissioners were recovered from his pension. Further, the Government of India have issued general orders under which officers undergoing courses of instruction at Government expense must undertake not to apply to retire within specified periods.

Miscellaneous decisions.

10. Decisions have been taken in regard to questions raised by this Department relating to:—

(i) British Service officers granted short extensions of leave to enable them to take up non-Indian appointments on the Home Establishment without returning to India. Charges for pay during such extensions become an Imperial liability and the Memorandum of Arrangement with the War Office has been suitably amended.

(ii) An irregular issue in India of a new rate of staff pay to a Royal Air Force officer, without proper sanction. Action has been taken to prevent a recurrence of such mistakes.

(iii) Admissibility of allowances drawn by Adjutants and Senior Majors for 61 days during furlough The Indian Regulations have been amended, making such allowances inadmissible.

(iv) Return to India of Royal Air Force officers transferred to an Imperial station at the end of leave. Such officers are, in future, to proceed to their new station direct and not to report for duty in India, thus relieving Indian revenues of the charge for voyage pay.

(v) Charges for Royal Air Force officers during voyages to this country prolonged for the convenience of the Air Ministry. That Department has agreed to accept charges for such voyages in excess of the normal period of 22 days.

Marriage allowances and allotments: British troops.

11. The amount saved in the cases referred to in paras. 9 and 10 and in other cases of overpayment of military furlough pay to which attention was drawn by this Department, amounted to about £570.

12. The amount of £353,140 1*s.* 7*d.* was paid in 1925–6 to the War Office in respect of marriage allowances and allotments for the 12 months to 30th September 1925.

Credits amounting to £2,897 9*s.* 3*d.* have been received in adjustment of overcharges for voyage periods of drafts, &c., referred to in para. 9 of Section II of the last Report. Other items have not yet been adjusted owing to the destruction of the documents relating to the periods concerned. It has been suggested that adjustment should be made on an estimated basis.

A further sum of £6,049 18*s.* 11*d.* has been refunded on account of overcharges discovered in audit at the local pay office, in respect of an infantry battalion for five months after it had left India for Iraq. At another office it was discovered that allotments amounting to £878 1*s.* 6*d.* had been recovered from soldiers for periods spent in India, and the recoveries credited to Imperial instead of Indian revenues. The necessary adjustment has been made.

National Health Insurance Fund; Accumulated Surplus.

13. Under the Economy (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1926, dated 16th June 1926, £1,100,000 was transferred to the Imperial Exchequer from the accumulated surplus of the Navy, Army, and Air Force Insurance Fund. The Government of India has contributed to this fund a proportion based on the strength of the Army in India (roughly about 20 per cent.). A claim has therefore been made by the India Office on the Treasury for a share of the surplus proportionate to the contributions from Indian revenues, but no reply has been received yet.

Maintenance of graves of soldiers of the Indian Expeditionary Forces.

14. Since 1918–9 India has contributed to the expenditure incurred by the Imperial War Graves Commission in the construction of cemeteries, the erection of memorials and other work connected with the registration and maintenance of the graves of members of the expeditionary forces who fell in the Great War. The amounts contributed by the various parts of the British Empire are calculated in relation to the respective number of graves. The work of the Commission has hitherto been financed by means of a vote of credit by the Imperial Government, adjustable against the shares of the other participants, which were based on actual expenditure and paid quarterly in arrear. In 1925 the Commission recommended the commutation of these payments by the formation of an endowment fund. Under this scheme India will pay for a period of six and a half years from 1st April 1925 an annuity of £15,300 to cover her share both of estimated expenditure for that period and of a sum sufficient to form a fund of £5,000,000 to provide for future expenditure. In order that current expenditure may be met as it falls due, payment is required to be made quarterly in advance, and that part of the annuity allocated to such expenditure will be adjusted at the end of the annuity period. The amount falling to be paid by India in 1925–6 was the annuity of £15,300 in addition to the last quarterly payment in respect of 1924–5; but as sufficient provision had not been made it was arranged to defer payment of the balance in respect of 1924–5 to 1926–7.

Amount received from the Imperial Government in respect of capitation rate payable on account of Indian regiments lent for service in the Colonies.

15. The amount of £33,845 18*s.* 3*d.* under this head is made up of £6,345 18*s.* 3*d.* balance of the amount due to Indian revenues for the years 1919–25, and £27,500, an advance in respect of the year 1925–6.

The claims on the War Office are based on returns furnished from India of details of the strength of the Indian units, &c., concerned, and are submitted to my Department for examination before presentation to the War Office. I pointed out, in regard to the claim for the years 1919–25, that the details furnished appeared in some respects to be incomplete, and as the result of investigation the claim was increased by sums amounting to £974 8*s.* 11*d.*

Bounties to British troops for extension of service.

16. The War Office agreed to bear half the cost of bounties under Army Order 4 of 1919 issued in India and by the India Office. For the year 1923-4 the War Office share of payments in India was duly recovered, but it was pointed out in audit that no steps had been taken to recover a moiety of payments by the India Office. As a result the sum of £289 was refunded by the War Office for the years 1923–4 and 1924–5.

Increase of small pensions.

17. An award of increased pension under the India Office Rules, based on the Small Pensions Increase Act, was criticised in audit on the ground that the proposed increase exceeded the amount admissible. It was found that the amount in question was admissible under a strict interpretation of the India Office Regulations, which were less restrictive than the Act, but that all previous similar cases had been dealt with in accordance with the Act. Proposals were then made to implement the Regulations by revising existing cases at an estimated increased cost of about £6,000 a year, but after further representations, in which I expressed doubt whether it had ever been intended that the Indian scheme should be more liberal than the British scheme, except in certain respects specifically related to conditions of Indian service, and pointed out the anomalies inherent in a divergence between the two schemes, these proposals were abandoned, except as regards a limited class affected by special considerations, which included the case in which the question had arisen.

Revision of classification of pensions.

18. Reference was made in para. 40 of the 1923–4 Report and in para. 17 of Section II of the last Report, to the readjustment of pension charges of military officers involved in the decision that pensions sanctioned after 1st April 1921 should be allocated to the Central Military, Central Civil or to a Provincial head, according to the officer's service. It was stated in the last Report that it was hoped to complete the readjustment during 1925–6, but this anticipation has not been fulfilled, and the reclassification is still far from final. The total amount transferred up to the present date from the Military head is approximately £150,000, of which about £25,000 has been debited to the Central Civil head and the remainder in varying shares to Provincial Governments. The annual relief to Central revenues is about £45,000, a figure which will be largely increased when the examination of past admissions is complete.

The long delay in effecting a reclassification due to take effect from 1st April 1921 is attributable primarily to the fact that the various accounting authorities concerned with the issue of pensions seem to have been unaware, generally speaking, of the applicability to military officers of the rules approved in 1921. In one or two isolated cases the correct classification had been indicated in last pension certificates transferring individual pensions from India, but even in those cases no adjustment had been made in the books of the India Office. By February 1923, when the question was raised by this Department, a large number of arrear cases had accumulated at the India Office, and in consequence of delay in the preparation of the necessary lists effective action to obtain the requisite information from India was not taken until December 1923. A number of points of detail requiring settlement in order to ensure the adequacy of the information obtained were brought to notice by this Department in January 1924, but have only recently formed the subject of a communication to India.

The difficulty of carrying out the allocation, which necessitates examining the records of the entire service of every officer pensioned since April 1921, has been increased by the following causes :—

(1) The operative date is not that of retirement, which is easily ascertainable, but that on which pension was sanctioned—a date of which the determination has presented difficulty.

(2) Additions to pensions relating specifically to a given period of service are chargeable in full to the appropriate head and are not divisible along with the remainder of the pensions.

(3) The allocation of the pensions of officers retiring after service in Bengal, Assam, or Bihar and Orissa is subject to special rules.

(4) Diversity of practice has existed with regard to the allocation of commuted amounts paid in India, with consequent uncertainty as to the proper division of the uncommuted portion of the pension.

(5) In some cases the share of one or more Governments has been capitalised in India, a circumstance liable to be overlooked on transfer of the pension to this country.

A number of queries have been raised with regard to the above points, and in addition the accuracy of the returns received from India has been subjected to a rough examination. In spite of the fact that only partial information with regard to the previous service of officers is available at this Office, numerous inaccuracies in the returns have been pointed out. Presumably others have escaped detection, and it is probable therefore that in spite of the great amount of time and trouble spent in this detailed reclassification of individual pensions, the final result will not be completely accurate.

Last pension certificates.

19. From time to time I have called attention to the unsatisfactory nature of many of the last pension certificates and duplicate pension warrants received from India. The possession of more detailed information than formerly is rendered essential by the increased complexity both of regulations and classification. Steps have been taken in India to ensure that, in future, present requirements are more adequately met.

Increase of small pensions.

20. Examination in audit of the annual declarations of means furnished by applicants for increased pensions under the Small Pensions Increase Acts disclosed several cases in which erroneous awards had been made. Sums amounting to about £70 are being recovered and an annual saving of about £90 has been effected.

Rate of exchange.

21. It appeared from the last pension certificates received at this Office that, in the case of two pensions granted under the Royal Warrants, payment had been made in India, on the analogy of pensions granted under Indian Army Regulations, at a number of rupees per mensem equal to the number of pounds per annum in the sterling pension. It was pointed out in audit that Royal Warrant pensions are fixed in sterling and are convertible into rupees at the current rate of exchange, with the exception that, in the case of pensioners who, on 1st February 1921, were actually in receipt of pensions converted at the rate of exchange of 1*s.* 4*d.*, payment at that rate might be continued during "permanent residence in India." The cases were brought to the notice of the Military Accountant-General, with a view to avoiding future similar error. At the same time, attention was drawn to a case indicated by me, in which the privileged rate of exchange had been allowed to the dependants of an officer whose death did not occur till 1923.

Interpretation of Fundamental Rules.

22. A Military Assistant Surgeon who, though serving in a Civil Department, had not qualified for leave under Civil Rules was granted a period of study leave carrying pay at the civil rate. The Government of India, to whom the case was referred, confirmed my view that military officers not subject to the Civil Leave Rules must be restricted in all cases to military pay during study leave.

Incorrect issues of pension.

23. Attention was drawn in audit to the following cases of incorrect issue of pension :—

(i) As the result of an error in addition, an officer's pension had been assessed at £770 per annum instead of £740.

(ii) The service element in the retired pay of a Captain is subject to the maximum of £300 per annum. In one case this over riding maximum was overlooked; adjustment involving a reduction of £60 per annum was effected.

(iii) In the assessment of rank element of pensions of Royal Indian Marine officers, service as Commander or Engineer Commander "on Rs. 800 per mensem" qualifies for a higher rate than service in the same ranks "on Rs. 700 per mensem." In two cases the distinction had been overlooked and pension awarded at too high a rate. The necessary re-assessments involved reductions totalling £100 per annum.

(iv) The issue of temporary disability pension to an officer is conditional upon periodical medical examination until such time as a final award may, under regulation, be made. In the case of one officer in whose case such a "conditional" award had been made, I pointed out that no review had taken place since 1919. The officer was re-examined, and as his condition had improved his pension was reduced by £10 per annum.

(v) Under Army Instruction (India) 314 of 1919 enhanced rates of pension for Departmental Officers became admissible with effect from 1st April 1919. On advice received from India an adjusting payment under the above Instruction was made to a pensioned Departmental Officer in respect of a period in India. It was noticed that before and during this period the officer was drawing pension in addition to effective pay under the special provisions of Army Order 364 of 1920, and had therefore been paid correctly in the first instance, as the provisions of Army Instruction (India) 314 of 1919 were applicable only to those officers who commenced to draw pension after 1st April 1919.

The over-issue, amounting to £51, was recovered, and the attention of the authorities in India was drawn to the possibility of similar erroneous payments in that country.

Incorrect issues of dependants' pensions.

24.—(i) Pensions issuable to the widows of officers who die from causes other than those arising from active service are contingent upon the means of the recipient. In this connection, the eligibility of three widows was called in question. As a result of the refusal or discontinuance of the grants an annual saving of about £160 was effected.

(ii) An increased rate of compassionate allowance is issuable to a deceased officer's child if motherless. A grant at the higher rate was made to two children whose mother (divorced from the officer) was still alive. The joint allowance in issue was questioned in audit and reduced by £18 per annum.

(iii) The child of an officer whose death resulted from service in the Great War is eligible for compassionate allowance only if born within nine months of the father's demobilisation. In the case of two children admitted to pension in India I pointed out that this condition was not fulfilled. The allowances, totalling £72 per annum, were discontinued and the sum of £108, already disbursed, is being recovered.

Royal Air Force: Sea transport.

25. £30,265 1*s.* 9*d.* was paid to the Air Ministry during 1925–6 on account of the cost of sea transport of Air Force personnel employed in India. Examination of the claims in this Department before payment resulted in a reduction of £54.

Royal Air Force: Equipment.

26. The cost of the equipment of the squadron of the Air Force transferred from India to Iraq in 1921, referred to in para. 27 of Section II of the last Report, has now been adjusted with the result that £4,482 1*s.* was refunded to the Air Ministry in November 1926. In making this adjustment Departmental Expenses on Aviation Stores have been calculated at 10 per cent. The rate is, however, still the subject of correspondence with the Treasury, and should a rate other than 10 per cent. be ultimately adopted the present settlement will require modification.

The general question of Departmental Expenses on Aviation Stores is dealt with in para. 3 of Section II of my Report on the Accounts of the High Commissioner for India.

Payments to Imperial Government.

27. The principal payments made from Indian revenues to Departments of the Imperial Government for services arising out of the maintenance of British troops on the Indian Establishment are dealt with in the following paragraphs.

28. War Office: Capitation Rate for Effective Services:—

A further advance of £1,400,000 was made, calculated on approximately the same lines as the advances referred to in previous Reports. Payments on this account from 1920–1 onwards have been made on a provisional basis only, subject to adjustment when agreement has been reached as to the principle on which India's annual payment under this head shall be based. I am informed that considerable progress has been made in this direction, and that there are grounds for hoping that a settlement will shortly be reached.

29. War Office, for gratuities on death, discharge, &c.:—

£41,000 was advanced on this account in respect of payments during 1925-6, and £1,645 14*s.* 3*d.* was refunded on account of overpayment for 1924-5.

The queries on the accounts for 1920–1 and 1922–3, referred to in para. 30 of Section II of the last Report, are still outstanding, no replies having been received from the War Office although several reminders have been sent.

The payments for 1923–4 have been test audited; those for 1924–5 and 1925–6 are now under examination.

30. Air Ministry, for Effective Services in respect of personnel of the Air Force serving in India:—

An advance of £100,400 was made. Detailed figures of the basis of the charge for this service have not yet been furnished by the Air Ministry. Certain provisional figures furnished show that the present payments appear to be within the actual cost, and it has been decided to continue to make advances on the present basis.

31. Ministry of Health: Contributions under the Contributory Pensions Act:—

The Widows', Orphans' and Old Age Contributory Pensions Act, 1925, came into operation on 4th January 1926, and applies to serving soldiers. Under this Act there is payable to the Ministry of Health a contribution in respect of each soldier of 9*d.* a week, of which half is borne by the soldier and half by Government. The soldier's share is recovered from his pay, and, in the case of those on the Indian Establishment, credited to Indian revenues. Payment is to be made to the Ministry of Health of the full amount of the contributions by machinery similar to that adopted for the adjustment of National Health Insurance contributions, viz. based on average strengths of British units, &c., on the Indian Establishment. £29,450 was advanced in 1925–6 in respect of the period 4th January to 31st December 1926 on account of men of the British Army, and a similar advance of £800 was made on account of men of the Royal Air Force.

32. War Office, on account of clothing and necessaries in possession of regiments on their transfer to and from the Indian Establishment :—

The advances to the War Office referred to in para. 33 of Section II of my last Report and in the Reports for 1922–3 and 1923–4 have now been adjusted.

The proposal that the charges on account of personal clothing in possession of soldiers when transferred should be reserved for consideration in connection with the revision of the Home Effective Capitation Rate was objected to by the War Office, and it was eventually agreed by the Secretary of State for India in Council that the Clothing Accounts should be considered by themselves. Agreement was also reached with the War Office in respect of the questions, relating to personal clothing and clothing allowances of personnel transferred from Iraq, which had been reserved for later discussion.

The sum eventually agreed as due to the War Office on account of men transferred during the relief seasons 1920–1, 1921–2, 1922–3, and up to the first half of the season 1923–4, i.e. the period covered by the advances already made, was £150,370 10*s.* 11*d.*, against which the advances mentioned above amounted to £136,800.

A further advance of £28,000 was made to the War Office in March 1926, which will cover the balance of £13,570 10*s.* 11*d.* due up to the first half of the season 1923–4, and will approximately meet the amount due from Indian revenues up to the first half of the season 1925–6.

33. War Office: Sea transport :—

For many years prior to the war the conveyance of troops to and from India was carried out by the Indian Troop Service. Transports were chartered for the Indian service, recovery being made at passage rates (a) for any passengers conveyed to or from India for the Imperial Government, and (b) for any excess of numbers in the case of Mediterranean reliefs.

During the war the normal programmes were discontinued, but in consonance with the Parliamentary Resolutions governing India's contribution to the cost of the war, the normal figure of Troop Service expenditure was credited to the Imperial Government less any actual expenditure incurred by Indian revenues. In order to protect Indian revenues from loss due to excessive trooping during the post-war quinquennium the above arrangement was continued to 31st March 1925, but the amount credited to the War Office was raised to conform with the post-war level of prices. Since the latter date a joint Troop Service, covering Indian and War Office requirements, has been in operation in accordance with the recommendations of an Inter-Departmental Committee representing the War Office, India Office, Air Ministry, and Board of Trade. The joint service is to operate for five years, at the end of which period the position will be reconsidered.

These arrangements have been accepted by the Secretary of State for India in Council, subject to any observations by the Government of India.

The gross cost of the joint Troop Service is borne in the first instance by the War Office, by whom recovery is made from the India Office of the cost of transports which are employed entirely on Indian service. The cost of Indian passengers travelling in Imperial transports and vice versâ is adjusted by means of passage rates. In addition, the War Office discharges its liability for the cost of officers travelling to and from India in Imperial interests by a lump sum of £4,500.

During 1925-6 advances amounting to £506,500 were made by the India Office. Accounts have since been rendered, which are still subject to audit, showing that the amount debitable to Indian revenues in respect of expenditure incurred during the year is £488,566 16*s.* 8*d.*, and the balance of £17,933 3*s.* 4*d.* has been recovered.

The figure of £488,566 16*s.* 8*d.* given in the preceding paragraph includes about £78,000, which, though actually brought to account in 1925-6, was incurred in respect of the previous year's trooping.

The circumstances in which this debit has been accepted are as follows :—

At the start of the normal cost arrangement applied during the war period, the actual expenditure brought to account in 1914-5 included about £20,000 in respect of 1913-4. It was suggested by this Department that, in order to obviate difficulties on the termination of the arrangement, it might be preferable to exclude this amount from the claim on the War Office. It was, however, decided at the time, in view of the broad nature of the arrangement, not to exclude this sum, but to regard India's contribution as covering payments made during each financial year, and not expenditure relating to the year. Consequently, it was impossible to disclaim liability for a similar carry-over at the end of the arrangement.

The amount, however, seemed excessive, since after allowing for the rise in prices, &c., it was still more than double that of the carry-over from 1913-4. A preliminary examination of the figures in this Department showed that the excess was due mainly to (1) the trooping season of 1924-5 having been extended about three weeks later into the year than that of 1913-4, and (2) certain payments not having been made so promptly as before the war; and I suggested that the claim ought in these respects to be reduced by about £25,000. Although it appeared that intrinsically there were adequate grounds for pressing for this reduction, it was decided, in view of the much larger questions thrown into the general settlement with the Imperial Government (see para. 4 of Section I of this Report), to admit the amount in full subject to examination of the details.

34. War Office: Retired pay, pensions, &c., of British Forces for service in India :—

No final agreement has yet been reached in respect of the annual payments on this account from 1913-4 onwards pending agreement with the Imperial Government as to India's liability with regard to Non-Effective Charges arising out of the war. (See para. 4 of Section I of this Report.)

A further advance of £1,125,682 in respect of the year 1925-6 was made to the War Office, and a refund was made by that Department in respect of the post-war years 1919-20 to 1924-5, as it was found, in the light of information now available, that the advances made in respect of that period had been over-estimated.

INDIA AUDIT OFFICE,
23rd February 1927.

REPORT of the AUDITOR upon the APPROPRIATION ACCOUNTS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN COUNCIL OF INDIA on account of the PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS, from 1st April 1925 to 31st March 1926.

MADRAS.

1. In previous years the basis of my Appropriation Audit Report has been a Statement of Comparison of Estimated and Actual Receipts and Disbursements prepared by the Accountant-General, India Office. It was recently decided that, commencing with the year under report, there should be included in the Accounts presented to Parliament an Appropriation Account to which my certificate should be appended.

2. As recommended by the Auditor-General in the case of the Central Appropriation Account, reappropriations authorised by executive authority in the case of Voted provision are mentioned in the notes to the Account.

3. Provision for Voted expenditure incurred in England by the Secretary of State was included in combined subject grants, covering the entire expenditure, whether English or Indian, on a particular service.

4. The Government of India (Civil Services) Act, 1925, made a number of additions to those classes of expenditure which under the Government of India Act, 1919, were precluded from the vote of the Legislature. The Act did not receive Royal Assent until December 1925, which left insufficient time to enable a revision of the classification of the expenditure in question to be carried out. The Account of Voted expenditure therefore contains some items which, under the terms of the amended Act and consequential decisions of His Excellency the Governor, should be classified as Non-Voted.

BOMBAY.

1. In previous years the basis of my Appropriation Audit Report has been a Statement of Comparison of Estimated and Actual Receipts and Disbursements prepared by the Accountant-General, India Office. It was recently decided that, commencing with the year under report, there should be included in the Accounts presented to Parliament an Appropriation Account to which my certificate should be appended.

2. Provision for Voted expenditure, chargeable to Revenue, incurred by the Secretary of State was made under two composite grants, No. 33 for reserved and No. 34 for transferred expenditure.

3. The Government of India (Civil Services) Act, 1925, made a number of additions to those classes of expenditure which under the Government of India Act, 1919, were precluded from the vote of the Legislature. The Act did not receive Royal Assent until December 1925, which left insufficient time to enable a revision of the classification of the expenditure in question to be carried out. The Account of Voted expenditure therefore contains some items which, under the terms of the Act as amended, should be classified as Non-Voted.

BENGAL.

1. In previous years the basis of my Appropriation Audit Report has been a Statement of Comparison of Estimated and Actual Receipts and Disbursements prepared by the Accountant-General, India Office. It was recently decided that, commencing with the year under report, there should be included in the Accounts presented to Parliament an Appropriation Account to which my certificate should be appended.

2. As recommended by the Auditor-General in the case of the Central Appropriation Account, reappropriations authorised by executive authorities in the case of Voted provision are referred to in the notes to the Account.

The suspension by the Governor-General in Council of the transfer of all transferred subjects in the Province of Bengal with effect from 13th June 1925, is reflected in the Account by the classification as "Reserved A" of all transferred expenditure incurred after that date.

3. Provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State was included in a composite grant for all Home charges.

4. Under Voted the following excesses have not been met by re-appropriations :—

(1) Land Revenue—Law charges in connection with Appeals from India, £353.

(2) Jails and Convict Settlements, £31.

In the former case a reappropriation of £400 to cover the excess was sanctioned by Finance Department but subsequently declared inoperative.

Savings exist under other heads within the grant from which the excesses could have been met.

An excess of £355 under "Superannuation—Sundry Items, Non-Voted," is offset by savings under the same head in the High Commissioner's Account.

5. The Government of India (Civil Services) Act, 1925, made a number of additions to those classes of expenditure which under the Government of India Act, 1919, were precluded from the vote of the Legislature. The Act did not receive Royal Assent until December 1925, which left insufficient time to enable a revision of the classification of the expenditure in question to be carried out. It was recently decided that, commencing with the year under report, there should be included in the Accounts presented to Parliament an Appropriation Account to which my certificate should be appended.

2. Provision for Voted expenditure incurred by the Secretary of State in 1925–6 was included in the allotment for each service sanctioned in four Departmental Grants voted by the Legislative Council.

3. An excess of £17 under "Police (reserved)—Non-Voted," is covered by savings of expenditure under the corresponding head in the Account of the High Commissioner.

4. The Government of India (Civil Services) Act, 1925, made a number of additions to those classes of expenditure which under the Government of India Act, 1919, were precluded from the vote of the Legislature. The Act did not receive Royal Assent until December 1925, which left insufficient time to enable a revision of the classification of the expenditure in question to be carried out. The Account of Voted expenditure therefore contains some items which, under the terms of the amended Act and consequential decisions of His Excellency the Governor, should be classified as Non-Voted.

BIHAR AND ORISSA.

1. In previous years the basis of my Appropriation Audit Report has been a Statement of Comparison of Estimated and Actual Receipts and Disbursements prepared by the Accountant-General, India Office. It was recently decided that, commencing with the year under report there should be included in the Accounts presented to Parliament an Appropriation Account to which my certificate should be appended.

2. Provision for all Voted expenditure incurred by the Secretary of State in 1925–6 was made under a single composite grant.

ASSAM.

1. In previous years the basis of my Appropriation Audit Report has been a Statement of Comparison of Estimated and Actual Receipts and Disbursements prepared by the Accountant-General, India Office. It was recently decided that, commencing with the year under report, an Appropriation Account should be prepared to which my certificate should be appended.

2. Provision for all Voted Home Charges in 1925–6 was included in a single composite grant comprising a number of major heads for each of which there is a corresponding Indian subject grant.

3. The Government of India (Civil Services) Act, 1925, made a number of additions to those classes of expenditure which under the Government of India Act, 1919, were precluded from the vote of the Legislature. The Act did not receive Royal Assent until December 1925, which left insufficient time to enable a revision of the classification of the expenditure in question to be carried out. * Sinking Funds were established in connection with these Railways to redeem India 3½ and 3 per Cent. Stock issued in lieu of Annuity or Debenture Stock. These Funds have been applied to the purchase of India Stock of the denomination offering the best yield. The minus figures represent the interest on India 7, 5½ and 2½ per Cent. Stock so purchased, and on India 3 per Cent. Stock purchased in excess of the amount issued.

† The Discount Sinking Fund in redemption of Debt incurred in excess of money raised, in respect of the India 3 per Cent. Stock issued in connection with the purchase of the Oude and Rohilkund Railway, has been partly applied to the redemption of India 7, 5½, 4½ and 3½ per Cent. Stock instead of India 3 per Cent. Stock.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) The grant represented one year's interest at 3·3252 per cent. (the prescribed rate to end of 1916–17) on £55,720,115, the total expenditure to 31st March 1917, plus one year's interest at an estimated rate of 5·27833 per cent. on £22,170,870 (£16,641,870, the total expenditure from 1st April 1917 to 31st March 1925, plus £3,380,800, the Revised Estimate for 1925–6, plus £2,148,200, moiety of the Budget for 1926–7). The actual expenditure for the period 1917–26 was, however, £24,356 less than the Estimate, and the moiety for 1926–7 was less by £584,364. The rate of interest adopted in the Account is slightly higher than the estimated rate (5·3576 per cent.).

(2) This saving is due to the discharge of debentures which, in framing the Budget, it was anticipated would be renewed.

(3) Provision for these items was not included in framing the Budget as details had not then been decided upon.

(4) and (5). Provision for these items was originally made under "Miscellaneous Railway Expenditure." It was subsequently decided to re-classify No. 4 under "Working Expenses," and also to treat certain miscellaneous expenditure similarly. The excess is covered by a reappropriation within the total grant for working expenses of £30,500.

(6) This saving is occasioned by the transfer referred to above.

(7) This excess is caused by the expenditure in connection with the visit to India of Accountants to investigate Railway Accounts, for which no provision was made in the Budget. No formal reappropriation has been effected in respect thereof, but excess could have been met from the saving on No. 6.

Grant No. 23.

(2) Provision was made for miscellaneous expenditure, but none was incurred. The provision was modified by India to £100 "Voted" and £500 "Non-voted."

Grant No. 24.

(2) £200 has been surrendered.

(3) The excess has been covered by reappropriation of £100 from the Indian portion of the grant.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

Grant No. 25.

(8) This excess is attributable to volume of stock transfers being greater than expected. It is covered by reappropriation of £3,600 from Indian Grants.

Grant No. 26.

(1) The balances of the Fund have increased at a greater rate than was anticipated.

(2) No provision was made for this item owing to the absence of detailed information at the time of framing the Budget.

Grant No. 69.

A reappropriation of £100 has been made by India from L. 4 Reserve.

Grant No. 70.

(1) The excess is due to heavier payments in respect of gratuities to members of the staff of the India Office and of the High Commissioner for India under the provisions of the Superannuation Act, 1909, owing to deaths and to retirements which were unforeseen when the Budget was framed.

(5) £200 removed by reappropriation.

(7) This expenditure was formerly classified as votable, and provision was made accordingly. It is now treated as non-votable under the provisions of the Government of India (Civil Services) Act, 1925. The amount has been utilised in reappropriation.

(8) This expenditure was not anticipated when the Budget was framed. It could have been covered by reappropriation from No. 5, under which head no expenditure was incurred.

(9) The expenditure under this head could not be accurately estimated when the Budget was framed. It represents allocations of pensions in accordance with Article 190 of the Audit Code, and these are being dealt with at the India Office as the necessary information is received from India.

Grant No. 71.

(1) The saving is in respect of the decreased cost of the India Office Press, due to the larger amount of work executed for other Departments. The decrease in the Home Government figure is caused by a revision of the contribution. The net excess has been covered by reappropriation of £600.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

A 1.—The saving is due partly to payments being carried forward to 1927–8 and partly to economies effected in staff.

B 1.—Due mainly to savings in the cost of telegrams.

B 3.—The "Voted" saving is partly due to the re-classification to non-votable of £1,200 in respect of items covered by the provisions of the Government of India (Civil Services) Act, 1925, and partly to delay in connection with maintenance work at the India Office. The "Non-voted" provision was required to cover expenditure formerly votable but rendered non-votable by the provisions of the Government of India (Civil Services) Act, 1925.

B 4.—The "Voted" excess is due to heavy expenditure on Law Charges, mainly in respect of the costs in the suit of Mrs. Madden v. Lord Winterton. At the time of framing the Budget it was anticipated that those costs would be paid in 1925–6. The excess has been covered by reappropriation. Under "Non-voted" the original grant of £1,200 has been erroneously obtained under this head. It was estimated for under the sub-head "Administration in India," and should have been so classified under "E. Miscellaneous Civil Charges." The Supplementary of £1,000 was required to provide for charges formerly classified as votable but which were rendered non-votable by the provisions of the Government of India (Civil Services) Act, 1925.

D 2.—The "Voted" saving is mainly due to the fact that a Prince who was already in Europe attended the Assembly, whereas provision had been made for the expense of a Prince coming specially from India.

E 1. Due to variation of sterling-franc exchange. Has been covered by reappropriation.

E 2. Due to travelling expenses of an officer attending the World's Forestry Conference at Rome, regarding which no information was available when the Budget was framed. The "Voted" excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 3. An original grant of £1,200 should have been classified to this head (see note to B 4) making the total grant £3,400. The saving of £706 (£3,400 – £2,694) is due to the transfer to the High Commissioner of the issue of leave and overseas sterling pay of officers of the Secretariat.

E 4. The provision (for balance of costs in action Rex v. Boulton Bros.) proved to be more than was required.

E 5. The saving on votable expenditure is largely due to delay in publication of volumes of "Fauna Indica."

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

E 10. Expenditure on leave allowances (votable) was greater than anticipated; the excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 11. The votable excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 12. The votable saving is mainly due to the fact that the contribution towards the International Veterinary Bureau has not yet been claimed.

E 15. The votable savings are due to delays in the completion of cataloguing and similar work.

E 16. Fees for designs of currency notes were heavier than was expected. The excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 19. The excess is brought about by the expedition by the Civil Service Commissioners and the Stationery Office in the presentation of their claims. It has been covered by reappropriation.

E 26 and 27. No information regarding this expenditure was forthcoming when the Budget was framed. The votable excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 28. The votable provision for miscellaneous expenditure proved to be in excess of requirements.

Non-voted:

(2) Receipts in respect of the excess cost of Diplomatic and Consular Establishments were higher by £22,800 than was anticipated owing to the fact that adjustment for three years (1922–23 to 1924–25) was effected in the financial year. On the other hand, miscellaneous expenditure was higher by about £5,500, largely due to the same cause.

(3) The saving is due to the death, on 15th August 1926, of Prince Frederick Victor Duleep Singh.

Royal Air Force.

(2) and (5) The excess in each of these cases arises through the unexpected payment to the Air Ministry in March 1927 of the contributions for 1925–6.

(10) The claims submitted by the Air Ministry fell short of the estimate furnished by that Department.

Marine.

(2) The decrease is accounted for by the fact that an amount of £2,590, representing a moiety of the furlough pay of officers who had come on leave from Aden during the last few years, was transferred from this head to the head "Military Expenditure at Aden" (recoverable from the Imperial Government) at the end of the year.

(3) Provision was made in the estimate for the possible anticipation by the officers concerned of the drawing of their gratuities. No such case occurred.

(1) and (2). The payments of fees, &c., to the architects, which were provided for as votable in the budget, have now been classified as non-votable under the provisions of the Government of India (Civil Services) Act, 1925. A figure of £4,400 was inserted in the Secretary of State's estimates to cover this expenditure, which is considerably less than originally estimated by the Government of India, but an appropriation of £4,093 only was allotted (see Audit Order No. D/2555—Ex. II./27 of 30th March 1927). Of the £11,000 votable provision £10,600 has been reappropriated or surrendered.

Grant No. 92.

The provision of £3,000 proved to be greater than was required. £2,000 of the saving was reappropriated to the use of the High Commissioner.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) Provision was made for expenditure in several appeal cases in respect of which no payments were necessary during the year. £400 of the saving has been surrendered.

(4) 6*s.* 5*d.* was paid as an adjustment of pay of an officer of the Jails Department. There was no budget provision, but the excess was covered by reappropriation of £1.

(5) The saving has been surrendered.

(7) Provision was made for the leave allowances of officers, some of which proved not to be required.

(8) This expenditure represents the leave allowances of the Certifying Surgeon of Factories, Barrackpur. No provision was included in the budget, but the excess has been covered by reappropriation of £400.

(9) The budget figure was fixed by the Bengal Government. No expenditure was incurred.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) and (3) Payments were made in respect of appeal cases regarding which no information was available when the budget was framed. The excess is covered by reappropriations of £300 and £100 respectively.

(2), (5), (6), (8) and (9). The saving of £100 under each of these heads has been utilised by reappropriation.

(7) The expenditure is in respect of leave allowances of an officer of the Indian Medical Service. No information was available when the budget was framed. The excess is covered by reappropriation of £200.

(10) The "Voted" excess is occasioned by the charge to the head of portions of the pensions of officers of the Indian Medical Department who had served in the United Provinces. No information was available when the budget was framed. The excess has been covered by reappropriation of £200.

EXPLANATION of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) Expenditure on an appeal case proved to be less than was anticipated.
(2) This provision was required to cover the payment of leave allowances to the A.D.C. to the Governor.
(3) The additional provision was required to cover the expenses of appeal cases, information regarding which was not available when the budget was framed.
(4) The provision under this head, originally obtained as votable, was required under non-votable as the expenditure was so reclassified under the provisions of the Government of India (Civil Services) Act, 1925.
(6) The extra provision was required in consequence of the payment of leave allowance to officers of the Indian Medical Department regarding whose leave no information was available when the budget was framed.
(7) The provision was required for the payment of marriage allowance of a warrant officer.
(8) The provision was necessary to cover the cases of allocation of military pensions under the provisions of Article 190 of the Audit Code. The saving under non-votable expenditure was occasioned by the withdrawal of debits in the case of an officer.

INDIA AUDIT OFFICE,
25th January 1928.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

No. 3.

REPORT of the AUDITOR OF INDIAN HOME ACCOUNTS upon the ACCOUNTS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN COUNCIL OF INDIA, from 1st April 1926 to 31st March 1927; prepared and submitted to the Secretary of State in Council, in pursuance of section 27 (5) of the Government of India Act.

1. This Report, which relates to the Accounts of the Central Government, is divided into two sections relating respectively to -

I. Receipts and Expenditure under heads other than those relative to Military Services;

II. Receipts and Expenditure relating to Military Services.

The sections will be reviewed as follows: No. I by the Public Accounts Committee set up by the Central Legislative Assembly; No. II by a special Departmental Committee constituted by the Government of India. The accounts of the Provincial Governments have already been dealt with in my Reports dated 25th January 1928.

SECTION I.—NON-MILITARY SERVICES.

GENERAL.

Savings resulting from audit questions.

2. The total amount saved to Indian revenues as a result of audit questions relating to the Home Accounts for the year is estimated at about £30,000. In addition, a further saving will accrue to Central revenues as a result of the question raised by this Department regarding re-classification of pensions (vide para. 11 of Section II of this Report). The total amount credited to Central revenues up to date is about £200,000, and the annual amount involved is about £50,000. These figures will be further increased when the re-classification is completed.

Expenditure requiring sanction by Imperial Parliament.

3. The sanction of the Imperial Parliament, which is necessary under the Government of India Act, has not yet been obtained for two payments from Indian revenues mentioned in previous Reports, viz. (1) £13,100,000 paid provisionally to the War Office in 1919 in respect of a further additional contribution by India towards the cost of the war, and (2) £200,000 paid to the War Office in 1921 as an advance subject to adjustment on account of the cost of exchange concession on gratuities. The submission for sanction has been deferred pending the settlement of various large claims by the Imperial Government against Indian revenues in respect mainly of non-effective liabilities arising out of the war. The efforts to reach a comprehensive settlement of the various claims and counterclaims—major and minor—to which reference was made in paras. 4 and 5 of Section I of the Report on the Accounts for 1924–5, are still proceeding.

POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS REVENUE ACCOUNT.

Eastern Mail Service.

4. Advances in respect of India's contribution to the cost of the Eastern Mail Service continue to be made at the rate of £5,500 a quarter. As stated in para. 12 of Section I of the last Report, the payments made since 1st April 1923 are provisional and subject to adjustment when full details of actual cost are available.

Amount due from Turkey.

5. With reference to para. 14 of the 1921–2 Report, and para. 13 of Section I of the last Report, the sum of £1,342 12*s*. 2*d*., due to the Indo-European Telegraph Department, has not yet been recovered, but correspondence is proceeding between the Director-in-Chief of the Indo-European Telegraph Department and the Turkish authorities with a view to settlement of this claim.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION.

Contribution of His Majesty's Government in respect of administrative expenses of the India Office.

6. By agreement with the Treasury, the grant-in-aid for the years 1926–7 to 1929–30 has been fixed at an annual sum of £119,000, subject to increase or decrease, in respect of any period during which the cost-of-living bonus paid on salaries shall have been based on a figure greater or less than 75, at the rate of £2,000 for each five points of difference. The amount received in respect of the year 1926–7 was £119,000 plus £901 on account of bonus variations, shown in the account in reduction of payments under the following heads :—

General administration	112,880
Audit	3,525
Stationery and printing	3,496

Diplomatic and Consular Establishments.

7. The deduction from the payments under this head of £35,259 0*s.* 7*d.* for receipts from the Foreign Office on account of the excess cost of Diplomatic and Consular Establishments in Persia includes an amount of £14,776 17*s.* advanced in respect of the year 1924–5. As the result of a query raised in the audit of this account, it was ascertained that sterling overseas pay issued to officers on the Persian establishment had not been included in the statements of Indian expenditure, and a further sum of £2,567 3*s.* 11*d.* is being recovered from the Foreign Office.

MISCELLANEOUS (RECEIPTS).

Repatriation of Enemy subjects interned in India.

8. Reference was made in para. 19 of Section I of the last Report to a receipt accruing in the year 1926–7 which at the time of Report could be regarded only as provisional pending the result of arbitration. The amount in question, viz. £25,176 16*s.*, was in respect of expenditure by India in connection with the repatriation of German subjects interned in India during the war. This sum will be retained finally by India, as the Arbitrator upheld the decision of the Reparations Commission that Allied Powers were entitled to credits under the terms of the Paris Agreement of January 1925 in respect of such expenditure.

Refunds by an ex-enemy shipping line in respect of passage tickets rendered unavailable at the outbreak of war.

9. In para. 18 of Section I of the last Report reference was made to sums received from an ex-enemy shipping company, amounting to Rs. 59,214. 7. 2, in part settlement of a claim for the surrender value of return passage tickets rendered unavailable on the outbreak of war. Of the balance outstanding, amounting to Rs. 13,912. 10. 2, including interest, the company offered to refund the sum of Rs. 8,779. 14. 1 and part of the interest claimed. The amount has not yet been received.

MISCELLANEOUS (PAYMENTS).

Secret Service.

10. £6,000 was placed at the disposal of the Secretary of State during 1926–7 for Secret Service. The amount actually expended was £5,468 13*s.* and the balance in hand on 31st March 1927 was £1,909 11*s.* 5*d.*

The Secretary of State has furnished me with a certificate that the expenditure was necessary for the public service.

Passages of Polish refugees.

11. The amount of £799 10*s.* under the subhead "Passages of Polish Refugees" is part of the expenditure, incurred in England in 1921 in the repatriation of Polish refugees in India, which was held in suspense pending a claim on the Government of Poland. On the rejection of the claim (see para. 19) it was transferred as a final charge to Indian revenues.

EXTRAORDINARY RECEIPTS.

Freight, &c., of the S.S. Varzin.

12. £20,425 11*s.* 1*d.* is credited under this head in respect of freight, &c. of the S.S. Varzin. This German vessel, which was seized in port at Perim in 1914, was condemned as prize and sent to London with her cargo, the greater part of which was originally consigned to England. The vessel came under the jurisdiction of the Admiralty Marshal and the proceeds of (1) sale of condemned cargo and (2) freight payable on the released cargo were paid to the London Prize Court and held by the Treasury pending a decision as to their disposal.

An Order in Council of July 1926 directed that the droits of Admiralty in respect of the Varzin were to be transferred to the Government of India and the above amount was received by the Secretary of State in January 1927.

Reparations.

13. Two amounts in respect of Reparations are included in the account for the year under review, viz. £214,800 in respect of the period up to 31st August 1924, and £99,503 14*s.* 2*d.* for the period 1st March 1926 to 28th February 1927, under the Dawes Scheme.

Prior to Dawes scheme.

Amounts under the Dawes Scheme have been credited in the previous two years' accounts, but no cash was received by India prior to 1926–7 in respect of the pre-Dawes period. In September 1926 the Imperial Government informed the Secretary of State that they were then in a position to effect a provisional distribution of reparation receipts from Germany in respect of the period prior to the introduction of the Dawes plan, i.e. up to 1st September 1924, and that of the Empire share of approximately £17,900,000 available India's share was £214,800 (1·2 per cent.). This sum was received in January 1927, but it subsequently came to notice that the amount should have been reduced by £64,382 3*s.* 10*d.*, the value of dye-stuffs transferred to India free of cost up to November 1921, as their value was included in the amount divided by the Imperial Government. Adjustment in respect of the dye stuffs will be made by deduction from India's share of the Dawes annuity for 1927–8.

Under the Dawes Scheme.

The amount received during 1926–7 in respect of the Dawes Scheme is made up as follows :—

Balance of India's share of annuity for 1925–6 -	54,543	7	4
Advances on account of India's share of annuity for 1926–7 - - - - - -	47,818	12	2
	102,361	19	6
Less adjustment on account, 1924–5 (vide para. 21 of Section I of last year's Report) - - -	2,858	5	4

The total annuity for the year ending 31st August 1927 was about £73,500,000, of which, after various prior charges were met, the Empire share was £12,120,794 14*s.* 1*d.* The amount due to India was £145,449 10*s.* 3*d.*, of which £47,818 12*s.* 2*d.* was received as shown above in 1926–7, and the balance of £97,630 18*s.* 1*d.* has since been received.

In para. 21 of Section I of my last Report, in dealing with the amount due to India under the Dawes Scheme for the year ending 31st August 1925, I stated that I had raised a question as to the correctness of the rate of exchange used in converting gold marks into sterling. The relevant facts are as follows : Up to 1st May 1925 the Imperial Government had received under the Reparations Recovery Act amounts in advance of the distribution dates under the Dawes Scheme which in the aggregate exceeded the total share of the British Empire under the scheme, and the subsequent adjustment between the Imperial Government and the Reparations Commission was made presumably on the basis of the rates of exchange current on the monthly dates of distribution under the Scheme. The value of the gold mark declined from 18·70 to the pound sterling in September 1924 to 20·39 in May 1925, at which rate it remained nearly constant. The payments by the Imperial Government of the amounts due to India for the year to August 1925 were made some months later than the distribution dates under the Dawes Scheme, and were adjusted at the rates of exchange current at the time of payment. I pointed out that if the assumption as to the method of adjustment between the Imperial Government and the Reparations Commission is correct, India received about £1,500 less than was due owing to her share being converted at a rate of exchange less favourable than that at which the money was in effect received in the British Treasury. I suggested that the matter should be further investigated, but the Secretary of State in Council decided to take no action.

It was also decided to take no action with regard to another matter to which I had drawn attention in connection with the division of the Empire share of the "Dawes" annuities. Under Article 2A of the Paris Agreement of 1925 the costs of the Armies of Occupation are assessed at certain amounts which are a prior charge on amounts received from Germany before any division in the percentages agreed at Spa in 1920 is effected among the Allies. The difference between these assessed amounts and the actual army costs—designated "additional army costs"—are dealt with under Article 2B of the Paris Agreement, which lays down that these additional costs are, in the first instance, to be met by each Ally from its share of the Dawes annuity, but are to be added to its reparation arrears account. The Imperial Government, before dividing the Empire share amongst the Dominions, &c., deducted therefrom the "additional army costs," with the result that those costs are thrown immediately on the Empire generally, with the possibility that they may rest there finally in the event of the arrear accounts not being met from reparations. I expressed doubt whether the procedure was correct, as technically the full amount of the Spa percentage constitutes the reparations payment sub-divisible amongst the component parts of the Empire, and I also pointed out that the reduction of that amount before sub-division was not in agreement with the general tenor of the communiqués issued by the Colonial Office to the Dominions in connection with the 1925 Paris Conference. In addition I suggested that the retention by the Imperial Government of the total cost of the British Army of Occupation might possibly lead to the result that other parts of the Empire had contributed towards military expenditure which would have been incurred in any case, as it is conceivable that the troops sent to Germany would in any case have been maintained as part of the Regular Forces.

Railway Capital Account.

Bengal-Nagpur Railway. Cost of stamping transfers of Debenture Stock.

14. The Bengal-Nagpur Railway Company paid the Inland Revenue Department £2,000 a year to compound the stamp duty payable on transfers of the £2,000,000 4 per cent. Debenture Stock issued in 1914. Similar arrangements had been made by several other Guaranteed Companies, but experience in subsequent years showed that it would cost less to pay stamp duty on individual transfers. The Inland Revenue Department, however, will only consent to terminate an arrangement for composition if and when it can be shown that a loss has been incurred over the whole period of its operation. All the Companies concerned, with the exception of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway Company, had reported at various times that this stage had been reached, and the Inland Revenue Department had consented to cancellation. The question came up from time to time in the case of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway Company, but on each occasion the figures furnished by the Company of the estimated cost of stamping transfers indicated that it would not be advantageous to terminate the arrangement for composition, and the Secretary of State accordingly acquiesced in its continuance. In December 1926, in the course of audit at the offices of the Company, it was discovered that the figures furnished had been computed on an erroneous basis, and that the estimated cost of stamping had in consequence been much over-stated. In fact, a saving of about £12,000 might have been effected had the composition been terminated at the first available opportunity. The Company prepared a statement computed on a correct basis, and on the instructions of the Secretary of State approached the Inland Revenue Department, who consented to terminate the composition arrangement with effect from the 1st February 1927. As the bulk of the loss incurred fell upon the revenues of India, and as the correspondence made it clear that had a correct statement of the position been received by the Secretary of State instructions to terminate would have been issued certainly not later than 1923, the Inland Revenue Department were, at my suggestion, approached informally with a view to some part of the loss being refunded, but refused to depart from their established practice.

Purchase of the Delhi-Umballa Kalka Railway.

15. The Delhi-Umballa-Kalka Railway was purchased from the Company on 1st April 1926 under the following circumstances. The line was the property of the Railway Company, but was worked by the State under contractual conditions, which resulted in a recurring loss. The contract between the Company and the Secretary of State was terminable by the latter on 31st December 1926 or in any subsequent 10th year on 12 months' notice being given. The price payable under the terms of the contract was so high that it was considered inadvisable to terminate it on 31st December 1926, and the Company was so informed in July 1925. In reply, inquiry was made whether purchase on other terms would be considered, and negotiations ensued which resulted in purchase for the sum of £3,000,000, a figure very considerably lower than that payable under the terms of the contract.

Deposits and Advances.

16. Details of the suspense accounts under this heading are given in Appendix II to the Account (page 24).

Loans to Persia.

17. During 1926–7 repayments were made in accordance with the amortisation table drawn up in regard to the loans made in 1903 "for the purposes of the Persian Government." The principal outstanding on 31st March 1927 was £28,836 15*s.* 10*d.*

With regard to the later loans the principal outstanding on 31st March 1924, viz. £2,367,270 1*s.* 8*d.*, was transferred to Revenue in 1923–4, vide para. 67 of the Report on the Accounts for 1923–4.

I am informed that it has not yet been found possible definitely to conclude arrangements with Persia for the repayment of these loans.

Unrecovered loan.

18. The balance at 31st March 1927 of Miscellaneous Advances includes the amount of £2,000 referred to in para. 29 of Section I of the Report on the Account for 1924–5 as advanced to the proprietor of a film-lecture relating to India. The amount has not yet been recovered.

Remittances (Receipts).

19. The item of £53,583 16*s.* 1*d.*, Miscellaneous Advances in India, shown under the sub-head "Receipts from Imperial Government, Various Departments," includes a sum of £3,324 received from the Foreign Office towards expenditure from Indian Revenues in the repatriation of Polish refugees in India.

Repatriation of refugees from India. Loss due to delay in presentation of claim.

Expenditure amounting in all to over £30,000 was incurred in India and this country in the maintenance and repatriation of a number of refugees of European nationality from Central Asia who found their way to India via north-east Persia or Afghanistan at various dates from May 1920 onwards, and were repatriated to Europe in 1921. This expenditure was recoverable from the Governments of the countries of which the refugees were natives.

Of the amount expended more than £15,000 was in respect of refugees of Polish nationality, but, owing chiefly to delay in the preparation of India's claim, it was not found possible to effect recovery of this sum from the Polish Government. In August 1921 intimation was received from the Foreign Office that that Government wished to know the exact amount of the British claim, and a request for a detailed statement of expenditure was passed to India on 1st September 1921. The statement was received in February 1924, but, being found incomplete, further reference to India was necessary, and a revised statement was not received until 22nd December 1924. The claim was forwarded to the Foreign Office for presentation to the Polish Government in February 1925, and it was rejected by that Government on the ground that a settlement made with the British Government in December 1924 was final, and precluded the presentation of further British claims of that nature. This proved to be correct, and the claim on the Polish Government had to be abandoned. The papers had been seen in my Department in 1922, and I had then pointed out the risk that recovery might be prejudiced by delay in presenting the claim

The bulk of the expenditure in connection with the Polish refugees arose in circumstances which brought it under arrangements regarding the incidence of certain political expenditure which, in so far as it was not otherwise recoverable, fell to be borne equally by Imperial and Indian revenues. A claim was therefore made on the Imperial Government for a moiety of such expenditure. The Imperial Government declined, however, to refund more than one-half of the amount claimed (i.e. one-quarter of the particular expenditure), since the delay in submitting the original claim "contributed to the impossibility of its recovery from the Polish Government." It was decided to accept this offer. The sum of £3,324 mentioned above was received in March 1927, and an adjusting amount of £122 has since been received.

Of the expenditure in connection with refugees other than Polish, sums amounting to £3,553 15*s*. have been received up-to-date from the various Governments concerned; of the remainder, part has proved irrecoverable owing to incomplete evidence of the nationality of certain of the refugees, while negotiations are still proceeding regarding the balance.

Appropriation Audit.

20. The form of the Appropriation Account for 1926–7 is practically identical with that recommended by the Auditor-General in the case of Indian Accounts. The use of adjacent columns for Voted and Non-voted expenditure has been discontinued, and explanations of the variations between the grant as finally amended and the actual expenditure appear as footnotes instead of as marginal notes against the head of service concerned.

21. Provision for Voted expenditure, excluding that on Railways, by the Secretary of State in Council, was distributed under nine Grants, only one of which—Grant No. 83—related exclusively to expenditure by the Secretary of State. Provision for Home expenditure on "Interest Free Advances," which has hitherto been omitted from the Demands for Grants, was included under Grant 92.

22. Under Grant 83 (Voted) the final position was as follows:—

Grant.	Actual.	Saving.
131,000	109,369	21,631

The more important items comprised in this saving, which amounts to approximately 17 per cent. of the Grant, are:—

B 3.	India Office Expenses—Office Contingencies -	6,565
D 2.	Expenditure in connection with the League of Nations—Other Expenditure - - -	4,756
E 28.	Miscellaneous Civil Charges—Other Charges -	5,949

23. Under Non-voted considerable modification of the original provision was found to be necessary in almost every case. The expenditure, however, approximated very closely to the final allotments, the saving in the aggregate being less than 6 per cent.

24. Under Railway Capital Account—State Railways worked by Companies, there was an aggregate saving of £1,739,792 out of the original Grant in addition to the anticipated saving of £1,503,200. The additional allotments of £111,500 and £1,800 under Burma Railways: Works and Rohilkund and Kumaon Railway: Works, respectively, allotted from the Supplementary Grant for 1926-7 voted by the Legislative Assembly proved unnecessary.

Changes in classification.

25. With effect from 1926–7 the rental paid to the South Behar Railway Company has been classified in the Railway Revenue Account under "State Railways—Working Expenses" instead of "Miscellaneous Railway Expenditure."

In the Deposits and Advances section of the Account the decision of the Government of India to include provision for certain classes of Home expenditure on "Advances Repayable" in the Demands for Grants led to the division of the items hitherto classified under that heading into two groups, viz. "Advances Repayable" and "Suspense." The latter includes those items for which no budget allotment is required.

26. Consequent on the amendment in 1925 of section 67A of the Government of India Act the change in classification from Voted to Non-voted of certain classes of expenditure, e.g. Travelling Allowances of officers whose salaries are Non-voted, was effected during the year.

SECTION II.—MILITARY SERVICES.

Incorrect classification of furlough pay, &c.

1. Attention was called to several cases in which furlough pay, &c., debitable to Departments of the Imperial Government, &c., had been charged to Indian revenues. The more important of these are dealt with in paras. 2 to 6. In the remaining cases about £600 was recovered.

2. In para. 2 of Section II of the last Report reference was made to cases where furlough pay issued at the India Office to officers of units serving in the Malay States was being charged finally to Indian revenues. A further sum of £1,289 7*s.* 10*d.* in respect of pay of officers of the 1/20th and 3/20th Burma Rifles has been included in the Remittance Account for recovery in India from the Federated Malay States.

3. Reference was made in para. 3 of Section II of the last Report to cases of British Service officers who remained at the Staff College, Quetta, after the departure of their regiments from India, and whose pay was chargeable to Imperial revenues. Further details have now been furnished by the Indian pay authorities, and a claim is being preferred on the War Office, in respect of which an advance of £3,000 has been received.

4. An officer of the Indian Army underwent courses at the Camberley and Andover Staff Colleges whilst his unit was serving in the Malay States. It was pointed out that the pay and allowances issued to him were recoverable from the Federated Malay States and £1,976 2*s.* 4*d.* has been included in the Remittance Account for recovery.

5. An officer of the 10th (Training) Battalion, on proceeding on leave in this country, was posted to the 4/19th Hyderabad Regiment, which was serving in Iraq. Attention was drawn to the fact that his pay, amounting to £564 14*s.* 2*d.*, was recoverable from the Air Ministry, and the necessary adjustment has been made.

6. In connection with the case of an officer on leave in this country from an Indian Artillery unit lent for service in Iraq, attention was drawn by my Department in February 1926 to the fact that no moves of such units had been notified to the India Office by the authorities in India since April 1923, although it was known from other sources that the 113th and 120th Pack Batteries were serving in Iraq in 1924. It was accordingly suggested that attention should be drawn to the omission to furnish information and that enquiry should be made whether the necessary recoveries were being effected from the Imperial Government.

In November 1926 information was furnished by India that claims would now be made on the Air Ministry in respect of pay drawn on overseas leave by the 113th Battery in 1923 and the 120th Battery in 1924. £10,434 has now been recovered from the Imperial Government.

Miscellaneous decisions.

7. The following decisions have been taken on questions raised by my Department:—

(i) Service rendered by an officer while off the Indian Establishment does not reckon towards the 33 months' duty necessary to enable him to qualify for the grant of 90 days' accumulated privilege leave;

(ii) Time spent by an officer on the Indian Establishment during a Staff College course at Camberley does not reckon as qualifying service for accumulated privilege leave;

(iii) An officer while in China studying the language is not eligible for the additional pay of any appointment of limited tenure held by him before he left India, but is restricted to the pay of his permanent appointment.

Marriage allowances and allotments: British troops.

8. The amount of £540,183 10*s.* 8*d.* was paid in 1926–7 to the War Office for marriage allowances and allotments disbursed by Army Paymasters in respect of British troops in India for the period October 1925 to March 1927. The period covered is 18 months, owing to a change made during the year in the method of reimbursing the War Office. Advances of the estimated disbursements are now made monthly to that Department and adjusted on receipt of the accounts. Formerly, payment was made half-yearly in arrear.

The items referred to in para. 12 of Section II of the last Report as outstanding have been set off against counterclaims by the War Office of nearly equal amount.

Credits have been received for overcharges discovered in audit amounting to £300 3*s.* 4*d.* for voyage periods of drafts, &c.

National Health Insurance Fund: Accumulated surplus.

9. In para. 13 of Section II of the last Report reference was made to the transfer to the Imperial Exchequer of the sum of £1,100,000 from the accumulated surplus of the Navy, Army and Air Force Insurance Fund, and to a claim by the India Office to share in this amount, to which Indian funds had contributed. The Treasury have disputed India's right to share in that part of the surplus which is attributable to reserves held in respect of men killed in the war or the transfer values of men who became insured on joining the forces during the war but ceased to be insured on return to civil life. Correspondence is still proceeding with regard to this contention, which, if admitted, would reduce the Indian claim to a very small amount.

Sea transport: Leave passage concessions for military officers.

10. It was decided in 1925 to apply to military officers of the Indian Army and their families, in place of the existing concessions, leave passage concessions similar to those adopted in the case of civilians on the recommendation of the Royal Commission on the Superior Civil Services in India.

A number of payments having been made in respect of concession passages of officers on leave from Iraq, the attention of the Government of India was called in October 1925 to the question of the adjustment to be made in the case of officers whose pay is not met from Indian Military Estimates. The following classes are involved:—

(1) Officers of units the cost of which is recoverable from His Majesty's Government on a capitation basis;
(2) Officers serving in Iraq;
(3) Officers of the Indian infantry battalion in Malaya;
(4) Officers serving in South Persia;
(5) Individual officers lent to Imperial Departments or to foreign Governments;
(6) Officers in civil employ.

In February 1926 a partial reply was received from India stating that as regards (1) the capitation rate being under revision, the new rate would include an amount to cover the cost of these passages, and as regards (6) it was proposed to levy a contribution of Rs. 600 a year on the Civil Departments concerned; and a further communication was promised in regard to the classes (2) to (5). The proposals regarding classes (1) and (6) have since been confirmed, but no decision regarding the other classes has yet been arrived at, the latest communication from India, dated 27th October 1927, stating that the matter was still under consideration.

Revision of classification of pensions.

11. Reference was made in para. 18 of Section II of the last Report to the readjustment of pension charges of military officers involved in the decision that pensions sanctioned after 1st April 1921 should be allocated to the Central Military, Central Civil or to a Provincial head, according to the officer's service. It was stated in a previous Report that it was hoped to complete the readjustment during 1925-6, but this anticipation was not fulfilled, and the reclassification is still incomplete. The total amount transferred up to the present date from the Military head is approximately £200,000, of which about £35,000 has been debited to the Central Civil head and the remainder in varying shares to Provincial Governments. The annual relief to Central revenues is about £50,000, a figure which will be further increased when the examination of past admissions is complete.

Colonels' pensions.

12. With effect from 1st April 1919 alterations were made in the pension rules for officers of the Indian Army, and whereas formerly the rate of pension was determined purely by length of service, under the revised regulations the pension contains elements in respect of service and rank. For officers below the rank of Colonel the rules provide that in order to qualify for the appropriate rank element, at least one year's service in the rank is necessary. The omission to apply a similar restriction in the case of Colonels led to financial results which were apparently not fully realised when the rules were drawn up, and attention was drawn in audit in March 1923 to two cases where the officers concerned retired within a few months of promotion to Colonel and without their having rendered any effective service in that rank; their promotion resulted in pensions of £800 a year being granted instead of £360 and £399 10s.

The conditions which made the above promotions possible were as follows. The Indian cadre at that time provided for a greater number of Colonels than was necessary to fill the staff posts regarded as Colonels' appointments. Prior to the alteration in pension rules referred to above this excess led to no enhanced non-effective charges, but under the altered conditions officers who had never held a Colonel's appointment were able merely by promotion to that rank to qualify for higher pensions. The matter was taken up with the Government of India, and in 1925 it was agreed that while the cadre of Colonels should not be reduced numerically, certain limitations should be imposed in order to prevent officers who had not held a Colonel's appointment qualifying for the pension of that rank. Cases came under audit which showed that these limitations were not being strictly enforced, and on their being brought to notice further correspondence ensued, which resulted in December 1927 in the restriction of the number of Colonels on the cadre to that necessary to fill first grade, higher or equivalent appointments.

Increase of small pensions.

13. Examination in audit of the annual declarations of means furnished by applicants for increased pensions under the Small Pensions Increase Acts disclosed several cases in which erroneous awards had been made. Sums amounting to about £90 are being recovered and an annual saving of about £80 has been effected.

Incorrect issues of dependants' pensions.

14.—(i) Pensions issuable to the widows of officers who die from causes other than those arising from active service are contingent upon the means of the recipient. In this connection, the eligibility of four widows was called in question. As a result of the reduction or discontinuance of the grants an annual saving of about £120 was effected.

(ii) Attention was drawn to three cases where the income of families in receipt of dependants' pensions and allowances under the War Warrants showed a considerable increase since they were last reviewed, and reductions of allowances totalling £18 per annum were made.

(iii) Allowances granted under the Royal Warrant to children of deceased officers cease at 18 for boys and at 21 or previous marriage for girls. Attention was drawn to two cases where issues had been continued beyond the terminal date.

Time-barred gratuity.

15. A case was referred to my Department for pre-audit, in which it was proposed to issue a disability gratuity of £40 to an officer. It was pointed out that the claim was time-barred under the War Pensions Act, as it had not been made within seven years of the date on which the claimant left the Army. The amount was accordingly not paid.

Non-recovery of pensions from the Imperial Government.

16. Attention was drawn in audit to two cases where no recovery had been made from Departments of the Imperial Government of amounts due in consequence of the loan of officers of the Indian Army :—

(i) An officer was lent for service in the Somaliland Protectorate, and while there was severely wounded on military duty. A wound gratuity was issued and duly paid by the Colonial Office. The officer returned to India and a wound pension of £50 a year in continuation of his gratuity was sanctioned, after considerable delay and without reference to the Colonial Office. I drew attention to the fact that no recovery was being made in respect of the wound pension, and after correspondence a claim for about £550 was admitted. Recovery of the pension, which has been increased temporarily to £75, is now being made regularly.

(ii) An officer was lent to the Foreign Office in 1903 for exploration work in Eastern Szechuan on condition that half the pensionary charges arising in respect of his foreign service should be borne by the Imperial Government. The officer retired in 1923, but as no steps had been taken to submit the necessary claim on the Foreign Office, attention was drawn to the omission by this Department in 1926. Arrears amounting to £90 have been received and current issues amounting to about £25 per annum are being recovered regularly.

Marriage allowances and allotments: Royal Air Force.

17. The amount of £51,378 19*s.* 10*d.* was paid in 1926–7 to the Air Ministry in respect of marriage allowances and allotments for the 12 months to September 1926.

During the audit of the accounts for the above period at the Air Ministry it was noticed that the system of cross-checking the allotment payments by the Air Ministry by means of monthly rolls of recoveries in India had been modified, and the cross-check was carried out only once a year. As several cases had occurred in which sums were written off owing to allotments not having been recovered in India, I suggested that a more frequent cross-check should be made. Shortly afterwards the Royal Air Force accounting authorities in India raised the same question in connection with a case in which unrecovered allotment amounting to £23 14*s.* had to be written off. The Air Ministry eventually agreed to make a more frequent cross-check, which, it is hoped, will prevent the recurrence of similar errors.

Payments to Imperial Government.

18. The principal payments made from Indian revenues to Departments of the Imperial Government for services arising out of the maintenance of British troops on the Indian Establishment are dealt with in the following paragraphs.

19. War Office: Capitation Rate for Effective Services :—

A further advance of £1,400,000 was made, calculated on approximately the same lines as the advances referred to in previous Reports. Payments on this account from 1920–1 onwards have been made on a provisional basis only, subject to adjustment when agreement has been reached as to the principle on which India's annual payment under this head shall be based.

20. War Office: for gratuities on death, discharge, &c. :—

£48,000 was advanced on this account in respect of payments during 1926–7 and £2,709 6*s.* 5*d.* was paid on account of the balance for 1925–6.

The queries on the accounts for 1920–1 and 1922–3, referred to in para. 29 of Section II of the last Report have now been disposed of, and a credit has been given to Indian revenues of £314 8*s.* 11*d.*, in adjustment of items incorrectly charged to the Pay Warrant Gratuity head during 1922–3.

As a result of queries raised during the audit of the accounts for 1924–5 and 1925–6, a credit has been given of £19 5*s.* 2*d.*, which was also due to errors in classification.

The payments for 1926–7 are now under examination.

21. Air Ministry: for Effective Services in respect of personnel of the Air Force serving in India:—

An advance of £98,150 was made based on a provisional Capitation Rate of £50 on the numbers serving in India. Negotiations are still proceeding with the Air Ministry with a view to fixing a final rate.

22. War Office: on account of clothing and necessaries in possession of regiments on their transfer to and from the Indian Establishment:—

A further advance of £12,000 was made to the War Office in March 1927to meet the amount approximately due from Indian revenues up to the first half of the Trooping season 1926-7. Revised statements relating to the expenditure incurred in 1925-6 and 1926-7 have recently been received from the War Office, but their examination has not yet been completed. It is estimated that a further payment of about £1,200 may be due to the War Office on account of the period in question.

23. War Office: Sea Transport:—

As explained in para. 33 of Section II of the last Report a joint Troop Service covering Indian and War Office requirements came into operation from the 1st April 1925. The amount of £385,351 19*s.* 9*d.* brought to account in 1926-7 under the head "Indian Troop Service" is made up as follows:—

Advances to the War Office in respect of the year 1926-7	396,000	0	0
Direct expenditure at the India Office	7,285	3	1
	403,285	3	1
Less amount over-issued in 1925-6 (see last Report)	17,933	3	4
	£385,351	19	9

The audit of the expenditure for the year 1925-6 has been completed and certain queries raised.

The accounts for 1926-7 are still under audit.

24. War Office: Retired pay, pensions, &c., of British Forces for service in India:—

No final agreement has yet been reached in respect of the annual payments on this account from 1913-4 onwards pending agreement with the Imperial Government as to India's liability with regard to Non-Effective Charges arising out of the war. (See para. 3 of Section I of this Report.)

A further advance of £1,161,504 in respect of the year 1926-7 was made to the War Office.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

INDIA AUDIT OFFICE,
23rd February 1928.

REPORT of the AUDITOR upon the APPROPRIATION ACCOUNTS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN COUNCIL OF INDIA on account of the PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS, from 1st April 1925 to 31st March 1926.

MADRAS.

1. For the year 1926–7, following the principle adopted by the Central Government, provision for expenditure by the Secretary of State in Council on behalf of the Government of Madras was included in a single composite Grant No. XXXV for Home expenditure.

2. The saving of £1,379 under Voted was largely due to the provision of £100 under each of a number of heads for contingencies which did not materialise, and the supplementary grants, amounting to £500, voted by the Legislative Council in March 1927 proved unnecessary.

3. The change in classification from Voted to Non-voted of certain classes of expenditure, e.g. outfit allowance of probationers of the Indian Police Service, consequent on the amendment in 1925 of section 72D of the Government of India Act, will not, under the orders of the Governor, become wholly operative until 1927–8.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
25th January 1928.

BOMBAY.

1. Provision for Voted expenditure, chargeable to Revenue, incurred by the Secretary of State was made under two composite grants, No. 33 for reserved and No. 34 for transferred expenditure.

2. In view of the saving in the aggregate of £498 under Grant 34, the supplementary Grant of £300 proved unnecessary.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
25th January 1928.

BENGAL.

1. Provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State was included in the composite grant for Home charges.

2. The form of the Account corresponds to that recommended by the Auditor-General in the case of the Central Government.

3. The suspension by the Governor-General in Council of the transfer of all transferred subjects in the Province of Bengal from 13th June 1925 to 21st January 1927, is reflected in the Account by the classification as "Reserved A" of transferred expenditure incurred between 1st April 1926 and 21st January 1927.

4. Consequent on the amendment of section 72D of the Government of India Act, the change in classification from Voted to Non-voted of certain classes of expenditure, e.g. outfit allowance of probationers of the Indian Police Service, was effected during the year.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
25th January 1928.

UNITED PROVINCES OF AGRA AND OUDH.

1. Provision for Voted expenditure incurred in 1926-7 by the Secretary of State was included in the composite Grant No. 31 for Home expenditure.

2. The form of the Account corresponds to that recommended by the Auditor-General in the case of the Central Government.

3. Consequent on the amendment of section 72D of the Government of India Act, the change in classification from Voted to Non-voted of certain classes of expenditure, e.g. outfit allowance of probationers of the Indian Police Service, was effected during the year.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
25th January 1928.

PUNJAB.

1. Provision for Voted expenditure incurred in 1926-7 by the Secretary of State was distributed under various combined subject grants covering the entire expenditure, whether English or Indian, on a particular service.

2. The excess of £41 under Grant 10—Administration of Justice, Voted, was offset by a saving of £1,424 in the High Commissioner's allotment under the same grant.

3. Consequent on the amendment of section 72D of the Government of India Act, the change of classification from Voted to Non-voted of certain classes of expenditure, e.g. outfit allowance of probationers of the Indian Police Service, was effected during the year.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
25th January 1928.

BURMA.

1. Provision for Voted expenditure incurred by the Secretary of State in 1926-7 was included in the allotment for each service sanctioned in four Departmental Grants voted by the Legislative Council.

2. The saving of £623 in the aggregate of the modified grant is largely due to the provision of £100 under each of the heads "General Administration," "Education" and "Public Health" for contingencies which did not materialise.

3. Consequent on the amendment of section 72D of the Government of India Act, the change in classification from Voted to Non-voted of certain classes of expenditure, e.g. outfit allowance of probationers of the Indian Police Service, was effected during the year.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
25th January 1928.

BIHAR AND ORISSA.

1. Provision for Voted expenditure incurred by the Secretary of State in 1926–7 was included in the composite grant for Home expenditure.

2. The form of the Account corresponds to that recommended by the Auditor-General in the case of the Central Government.

3. Consequent on the amendment of section 72D of the Government of India Act, the change in classification from Voted to Non-voted of certain classes of expenditure, e.g. outfit allowance of probationers of the Indian Police Service, was effected during the year.

25th January 1928.

CENTRAL PROVINCES.

1. Provision for Voted expenditure other than "Irrigation" by the Secretary of State for 1926–7 was included in the composite Grant No. 31 for Home charges.

2. The form of the Account corresponds to that recommended by the Auditor-General in the case of the Central Government.

3. The excess of £6 under "Irrigation" is offset by savings in the High Commissioner's allotment from subject Grant No. 6, which covers both English and Indian expenditure on this service.

4. Consequent on the amendment of section 72D of the Government of India Act, the change in classification from Voted to Non-voted of certain classes of expenditure, e.g. outfit allowance to probationers of the Indian Police Service, was effected during the year.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
25th January 1928.

ASSAM.

1. Provision for expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Assam was included in the composite Grant No. 31, covering all Home expenditure.

2. The form of the Account corresponds to that recommended by the Auditor-General in the case of the Central Government.

3. Consequent on the amendment of section 72D of the Government of India Act, the change in classification from Voted to Non-voted of certain classes of expenditure, e.g. outfit allowance of probationers of the Indian Police Service, was effected during the year.

* Sinking Funds were established in connection with these Railways to redeem India 3½ and 3 per Cent. Stock issued in lieu of Annuity or Debenture Stock. These Funds have been applied to the purchase of India Stock of the denomination offering the best yield. The minus figures represent the interest on India 5½ and 2½ per Cent. Stock so purchased, and on India 3 per Cent. Stock purchased in excess of the amount issued.

† The Discount Sinking Fund in redemption of Debt incurred in excess of money raised, in respect of the India 3 per Cent. Stock issued in connection with the purchase of the Oude and Rohilkund Railway, has been partly applied to the redemption of India 5½, 4½ and 3½ per Cent. Stock instead of India 3 per Cent. Stock.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) The grant represented one year's interest at 3·3252 per cent. (the prescribed rate to end of 1916–17) on £55,720,115, the total expenditure to 31st March 1917, plus one year's interest at an estimated rate of 5·2848 per cent. on £25,606,086 (£23,125,986, the total expenditure from 1st April 1917 to 31st March 1927, plus £2,480,100, moiety of the Revised Estimate for 1927–8). The moiety of expenditure for the year 1927–28 was, however, £41,734 less than the Estimate. The rate of interest adopted in the Account is lower than the estimated rate owing to the inclusion in the calculation of the capital of the new 4½ per cent. Loan, on which no interest fell due in the financial year.

(2) The excess over the grant is due to debentures having been renewed at higher rates of interest than was anticipated at the time of framing the Budget.

(3) The "Voted" excess is due to payments in respect of leave allowances being heavier than was anticipated when the Budget was framed.

(4) The "Voted" excess is caused (1) by expenditure in connection with the investigation of Railway Accounts being heavier than was anticipated and (2) by expenditure in connection with a Privy Council appeal case (Tamboli v. Great Indian Peninsula Railway) regarding which no information was available when the Budget was framed. The non-votable expenditure is mainly in respect of an arrear charge of £367 10s., representing the civil pension of a former Government Director of Indian Railway Companies for the period 1st April to 30th September 1923.

(3) and (4). The excess on (3) is covered by reappropriation of £200, as advised by telegram from the Viceroy (Railway Department) dated 27th March 1928. The "Voted" excess of £1,518 on (4) is partly covered by a reappropriation of £1,500, advised in the same telegram. The uncovered excess of £18 is caused by a reclassification of certain items for which, at the date of the above-quoted telegram, provision was made under (3).

Grant No. 23.

(1) The "Voted" excess is occasioned by expenditure in connection with the International Radio Conference at Washington for which no provision existed in the Budget. £1,100 of this is covered by the revised distribution of the Grant as shown in the statement enclosed with letter from the Financial Adviser, Posts and Telegraphs, dated 31st March 1928, No. 9, Budget 28, leaving a net excess of £24.

Grant No. 24.

(1) The "Voted" provision was reduced to £1,102 10s. in the revised grant forwarded with letter No. 21 G.P.T. from Department of Industries and Labour.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

A 1.—The saving is partly due to variation in the cost of living figure and partly to payments being carried forward to 1928–9.

A 2.—The excess over the estimated receipt is due to variation in the cost of living figure.

B 1.—The saving is almost entirely in respect of telegrams, due largely to a reduction in cable rates and to the fact that some messages are now transmitted by wireless.

B 4.—The sums of £5,400 Voted and £1,500 Non-voted in these grants have been erroneously obtained under this head. They were estimated for under the sub-head "Administration in India" and should have been so classified under the heading "E. Miscellaneous Civil Charges."

D 2.—The votable saving is mainly due to the fact that a Prince who was already in Europe attended the Assembly, whereas provision existed in the Budget for the expense of bringing a Prince specially from India for the duty, and to the fact that some of the expenditure proved to be of a non-votable nature.

E 2 and 4.—This expenditure was in respect of Appeal cases. No information regarding them was available when the Budget was framed. The excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 3.—The estimates under this head were £5,400 Voted and £1,500 Non-voted (see Note B 4 above). The Voted saving of £853 is arrived at as follows:—The Budget contained provision of £800 for a portrait of the late Viceroy and £1,250 on account of University subventions for the training of Indian Civil Service Probationers. The first-named amount has not yet been disbursed and the University subventions are now charged against Provincial Revenues. On the other hand, the estimate for Indian Civil Service Examination expenses was exceeded by £758, and £439 was disbursed in respect of pay and miscellaneous expenses. The Voted expenditure has been covered by reappropriation.

E 7 and 8.—The excess is caused by the issue of leave pay, regarding which no information was available when the Budget was framed.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

E 9.—Votable furlough pay was heavier than anticipated and non-votable lighter. £100 of the excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 10.—The excess is made up of increased expenditure in respect of the Indian Pilgrimage Agency at Jeddah and of expenditure in connection with the Indian Medical Research Institute. It has been covered by reappropriation.

E 11.—Mainly due to the fact that two annual contributions to the Institute of Agriculture, Rome, were paid during the year. The excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 13.—The votable saving is largely in respect of the expenses of the India Office Library, occasioned by non-completion of cataloguing.

E 15.—The votable excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 17.—The expenditure is in respect of belated charges for printing and postage. It has been covered by reappropriation.

E 18.—The provision under this head has been utilised, by reappropriation, to cover the charges under heads E 17, 24, 25 and 27.

E 20.—This excess, due to the rounding downwards of the estimate in framing the demand, has been covered by reappropriation.

E 22.—The voted excess is due to the duration of the Commission's stay in England being greater than was anticipated. It has been covered by reappropriation.

E 24, 25, 26, 27.—Expenditure not foreseen when the Budget was prepared. The votable expenditure has been covered by reappropriation from E 18.

E 28.—The provision voted for miscellaneous charges proved to be in excess of requirements. £5,680 of the saving has been utilised by reappropriation.

Political.—The saving is due to receipts in respect of Diplomatic and Consular Expenditure in Persia being more than was anticipated.

Explanations of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) This excess is due mainly to the effect of transfers to the Indian Army Service Corps which were not anticipated when the estimate was framed.

(2) The saving is largely due to an adjustment in respect of the financial year 1926–27.

(3) and (4) Excesses are brought about by adjustment of arrear accounts.

(5) Provision was made for payments to several officers residing in the Colonies, some of which were not claimed.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

Army Non-Effective.

(1) The one officer, whose allowances were classified under this head, died in February 1928.

Royal Air Force.

(1) The excess is caused by an advance to the Air Ministry at the end of March 1928 in respect of that month.

Marine.

(1) The sum of £10,000 provided for payment to the Admiralty in connection with the replacement of the Elphinstone was not disbursed. On the other hand, there is an excess of £876 over the estimate for miscellaneous expenditure.

* Transferred by reappropriation to Indian Estimate, vide telegram from Viceroy to Secretary of State, No. 412 B, dated 10th March 1928.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) Anticipated payments in respect of appeal cases did not materialise.

(5) Payments which were expected in connection with the publication of the "Flora of Madras" were not made within the financial year.

(6), (8), (9), (10) Provision for contingencies was made, but was not required.

(12) The "Voted" provision proved unnecessary. The proportion of pension of the officer concerned proved not to be a charge against Madras revenues, consequently no charge was made, and the charge made in 1926–27 was written back.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) No expenditure was incurred in connection with the appeal case of Bomanji Ashashir Wadia and others v. Secretary of State in respect of which a provision of £400 was made.

(2) The "Voted" excess is mainly due to the issue of pay and allowances to an Assistant Surgeon for which no provision existed in the Budget. The excess has been covered by reappropriation.

(4) The "Voted" excess is due to the expenses of an appeal case regarding which no information was available when the Budget was framed. It has been covered by reappropriation.

(5), (7) and (8) Provision was made for unforeseen expenditure, but none was incurred.

(6) The "Voted" saving is due to the fact that payments of leave allowances to an officer of the Indian Medical Department were less than anticipated.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) Provision was made for expenditure in several appeal cases in respect of which no payments were necessary during the year. £1,353 of the saving has been removed by reappropriation.

(2) The "Non-voted" excess was due to a charge for passage of A.D.C. to the Governor, which was not anticipated when the budget was framed. Of the voted saving £150 has been removed by reappropriation.

(5) The "Voted" excess is mainly caused by the issue of furlough pay to an officer, amounting to £288, whereas, no cases being anticipated at the time of framing the budget, a tentative provision of £200 only was available. It is covered by a reappropriation of £100. The "Non-voted" provision was fixed by the Bengal Government. No expenditure was incurred.

(6) The "Voted" excess is caused by a charge which was not anticipated when the budget was framed. It is covered by a reappropriation of £700. The "Non-voted" saving is occasioned by the withdrawal of debits of previous years.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) The excess is covered by reappropriation of £10.

(2) The provision made by the United Provinces Government in respect of subventions to Universities for the training of I.C.S. Probationers was £111 more than the amount actually charged. In addition the provision of £100 for contingencies was not required. £100 has been removed by reappropriation.

(3) Expenditure was incurred on appeal cases for which no provision existed. The excess has been covered by a reappropriation of £50.

(4) Cost of maintenance of a prisoner was somewhat higher than anticipated. The excess has been covered by reappropriation of £50.

(6) The expenditure represents pay of two officers of the Education Department regarding which no information was available when the budget was framed. The excess over the provision of £100 has been covered by reappropriation of £350.

(7) The expenditure is in respect of leave allowances of an officer of the Indian Medical Service. No information was available when the budget was framed. The excess is covered by reappropriation of £350.

(8) and (9).—No expenditure was incurred. The saving has been utilised by reappropriation.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) The provision of £500 was in respect of an appeal case (Punjab Cotton Press, Ltd, v. Secretary of State). This figure was removed in the Revised Estimate when it became known that no expenditure in respect thereof would fall in the financial year and was utilised by reappropriation. The expenditure, being a portion of the furlough pay of an Assistant Surgeon on leave, was not definitely known to be chargeable to the revenues of the Punjab until after the end of the financial year. The excess could have been met by savings under other heads.

(2) The expenditure is in respect of the Punjab Government's share of University subventions for the training of Indian Civil Service Probationers. The excess has been covered by reappropriation from (1) effected by the Secretary of State at the request of the Punjab Government.

No. 3.

REPORT of the AUDITOR OF INDIAN HOME ACCOUNTS upon the ACCOUNTS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN COUNCIL OF INDIA, from 1st April 1927 to 31st March 1928; prepared and submitted to the Secretary of State in Council, in pursuance of section 27 (5) of the Government of India Act.

---

1. This Report, which relates to the Accounts of the Central Government, is divided into two sections relating respectively to—

I. Receipts and Expenditure under heads other than those relative to Military Services;

II. Receipts and Expenditure relating to Military Services.

The sections will be reviewed as follows: No. I by the Public Accounts Committee set up by the Central Legislative Assembly; No. II by a special Departmental Committee constituted by the Government of India. The accounts of the Provincial Governments have already been dealt with in my Reports dated 24th January 1929.

SECTION I.—NON-MILITARY SERVICES.

GENERAL.

Savings resulting from audit questions.

2. The total amount saved to Indian revenues as a result of audit questions relating to the Home Accounts for the year is estimated at about £30,000. In addition, a further saving will accrue to Central revenues as a result of the question raised by this Department regarding re-classification of pensions (vide para. 10 of Section II of this Report). The total amount credited to Central revenues up to date is about £280,000, and the annual amount involved is about £60,000. These figures will be further increased when the re-classification is completed.

Expenditure requiring sanction by Imperial Parliament.

3. The sanction of the Imperial Parliament, which is necessary under the Government of India Act, has not yet been obtained for two payments from Indian revenues mentioned in previous Reports, viz. (1) £13,100,000 paid provisionally to the War Office in 1919 in respect of a further additional contribution by India towards the cost of the war, and (2) £200,000 paid to the War Office in 1921 as an advance subject to adjustment on account of the cost of exchange concession on gratuities. The submission for sanction has been deferred pending the settlement of various large claims by the Imperial Government against Indian revenues in respect mainly of non-effective liabilities arising out of the war. The efforts to reach a comprehensive settlement of the various claims and counterclaims—major and minor—to which reference was made in paras. 4 and 5 of Section I of the Report on the Accounts for 1924–5, are still proceeding.

Amendment of Rules.

4. It came to notice in the course of audit that as the result of an amendment of the Fundamental Rules in relation to the leave to be credited to military officers on entering civil employment it became possible for a double credit of leave on average pay up to a maximum of 60 days to be given in respect of the year of transfer. After consultation with the Government of India the Secretary of State in Council made a further amendment of the Rules which will obviate in future any such over-credit.

POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS REVENUE ACCOUNT.

Amount due from Turkey.

5. With reference to para. 14 of the 1921–2 Report, and para. 5 of Section I of the last Report, the sum of £1,342 12*s.* 2*d.*, due to the Indo-European Telegraph Department, has not yet been recovered, but correspondence is proceeding between the Director-in-Chief of the Indo-European Telegraph Department and the Turkish authorities with a view to settlement of this claim.

Superannuation Allowances and Pensions (Receipts).

Pension contribution recovered.

6. In examining a claim to be made on the Foreign Office for a share of the expenditure incurred by India in respect of Diplomatic and Consular services in the Far East, attention was drawn by this Department to the omission therefrom of pension contribution for an officer employed on that service. The matter was taken up with India, and after a long interval the necessary information was obtained, and a claim made for the amount involved. The question was referred by the Foreign Office to the Treasury, who raised objection to payment on account of the lapse of time; this Department was, however, able to furnish details of similar cases where liability had been admitted and £193 is being recovered.

Miscellaneous (Receipts).

Refund of cost of repatriating Austrian subjects.

7. In March 1925, £6,375 6*s.* 6*d.* was paid to the Shipping Liquidation Department of the Board of Trade for the cost of repatriation in 1919 of subjects of the Austrian Empire who were interned in India during the war. The expenditure was recoverable from Austria, Hungary, and the Succession States in the proportion to which it related to nationals of these States. It was found to be impossible to prove the actual nationality as between the various States of all the persons repatriated. A compromise was effected under which a refund of £2,627 17*s.* 4*d.* was agreed to in settlement of India's claim against the Austrian Government. This amount was received in January 1928; nothing has so far been received from Hungary or the Succession States.

Miscellaneous (Payments).

Secret Service.

8. £5,000 was placed at the disposal of the Secretary of State during 1927–8 for Secret Service. The amount actually expended was £6,071 12*s.* 6*d.* and the balance in hand on 31st March 1928 was £837 18*s.* 11*d.*

The Secretary of State has furnished me with a certificate that the expenditure was necessary for the public service.

Extraordinary Receipts.

Reparations.

9. The amount received during 1927–8 in respect of Reparations is made up as follows:—

Balance of India's share of annuity for 1926–7 -	97,630	18	1
Advances on account of India's share of annuity for 1927–8 - - - - - -	72,537	2	8
	170,168	0	9
Less adjustment in respect of dye-stuffs transferred to India free of cost up to November 1921 (vide para. 13 of Section I of the last Report) - - -	64,382	3	10
	£105,785	16	11

The total annuity for the year ending 31st August 1928 was 1,750,000,000 gold marks, or approximately £85,750,000, of which about £85,250,000 was distributed during the year. The Empire share, after deducting prior charges, was £14,987,208 10*s.* 11*d.*, of which India receives £179,846 10*s.* 1*d.* £72,537 2*s.* 8*d.* was received as shown above in 1927–8, and the balance of £107,309 7*s.* 5*d.* has since been received.

The provisional distribution of reparation receipts from Germany prior to the introduction of the Dawes Scheme has not yet been finally adjusted.

Railway Capital Account.

Bengal-Nagpur Railway. Cost of stamping transfers of Debenture Stock.

10. Reference was made in para. 14 of Section I of the last Report to the arrangement under which the Bengal-Nagpur Railway Company paid £2,000 a year to the Inland Revenue Department to compound the stamp duty payable on transfers of the £2,000,000 4 per cent. Debenture Stock issued in 1914, to the substantial loss thereby occasioned, and to the circumstances in which the Secretary of State had acquiesced in the continuance of the arrangement. It was also mentioned that as the result of a question raised in audit, the Company had, at the instance of the Secretary of State, taken steps to terminate the arrangement with effect from the 1st February 1927. The cost of stamping individual transfers during the 12 months ended 31st January 1928 was £506, and during the ensuing 12 months £625. In these two years, therefore, a saving of £2,869 has been effected.

Marine insurance.

11. It was observed in audit that the marine insurance rate charged on certain shipments made by the South Indian Railway Company from Newport and Barrow was 1*s.* per cent. above that normally paid. On enquiry it was explained that the additional charge was to cover "round the coast risks" as the vessels called at these ports before proceeding to their principal loading ports. As it was known that another Company made shipments in analogous circumstances—and in at least one instance from Newport by the same vessel—at the normal insurance rates, it was suggested to the South Indian Railway Company that they should take the matter up with their insurance agents. Negotiations with the underwriters resulted in the latter agreeing to accept future shipments without the additional charge. After further negotiations undertaken at the suggestion of this Department they eventually agreed to refund the extra charge made on cargoes shipped since the 1st April 1927, and a net refund of £58 was accordingly made.

Stamp Duty.

12. Among the various stocks issued by the Guaranteed Railway Companies, each Company has an issue which is free of stamp duty—that is, the cost of the duty on all transfers is borne by the Company concerned and is charged against the revenue of the undertaking. There are also two issues of Debenture Stock of the East Indian Railway Company which that Company continues to manage for the Secretary of State—although the working of the line has been taken over by the State—which are similarly free of stamp duty, the whole cost of the duty being borne by Indian revenues. Under section 42 of the Finance Act, 1920, jobbers purchasing stock in the ordinary course of their business are permitted to pay in the first instance a transfer stamp duty of 10*s.* whatever the amount purchased, and become liable for the full ad valorem duty only on any balance unsold at the end of two months. It came to notice in the course of audit that all the Companies, with the exception of the Assam Bengal Railway Company and the East Indian Railway Company, had arranged with the jobbers dealing in these stocks that the benefit of the concession should be secured and accrue to the Company concerned, but it was also found that two other Companies were not taking full advantage of the arrangement. On the question being raised in audit the matter was taken up with the four Companies concerned, with the result that all arranged to secure the full benefit of the concession. At the instance of the Secretary of State they applied to the Inland Revenue Department for some refund of the stamp duty paid in excess, but the applications were refused. On the basis of the most recent figures available, it is estimated that a saving of about £800 per annum will result from the action taken.

Civil Works.

13. Included under this head are the payments made in respect of capital expenditure on New Delhi. The payments in this country consist of amounts paid to the Architects under arrangements which have been modified from time to time.

In 1913 an agreement was drawn up under which payment was to be made on a percentage basis. The war intervened, and in 1919 the Architects asked for a revision of terms owing to altered conditions. In 1921 a supplementary agreement was made in which the percentage basis was abandoned and a lump sum of £195,000, to be paid in instalments, substituted, which was intended to cover out-of-pocket expenses and in addition to ensure each of the two Architects receiving a definite amount annually as personal income. In 1926 the Architects represented that their out-of-pocket expenses in connection with furniture and electric light fittings were greatly in excess of the amount estimated when the 1921 agreement was made, and asked that a further sum of £18,000 should be paid to them. The Government of India, who were consulted, demurred to this claim, but agreed that if the total out-of-pocket expenses included in the sum of £195,000 had been exceeded, a claim for extra remuneration might be considered. The Architects were informed accordingly, and subsequently produced certificates from their accountants stating that the total out-of-pocket expenses exceeded the 1921 estimate by £32,300, and that amount is being paid to them by instalments in final settlement of their claims.

Deposits and Advances.

14. Details of the suspense accounts under this heading are given in Appendix II to the Account (page 24).

Loans to Persia.

15. During 1927–8 the final repayments were effected in accordance with the amortisation table drawn up in regard to the loans made for the purpose of the Persian Government in 1903.

With regard to the later loans, the amount outstanding at 31st March 1924, viz. £2,367,270 1*s.* 8*d.*, was transferred to Revenue in 1923–4, vide para. 67 of the Report on the Accounts for that year. Arrangements have not yet been made with the Persian Government for the repayment of these loans.

Unrecovered loan.

16. The balance at 31st March 1928 of Miscellaneous Advances includes the amount of £2,000 referred to in para. 29 of Section I of the Report on the Account for 1924–5 as advanced to the proprietor of a film-lecture relating to India. The amount (with interest at 6 per cent. per annum), which has been outstanding for about six years, has not yet been recovered.

Remittances (Receipts).

Sale of surplus nickel.

17. The item "Miscellaneous Receipts £113,545 14*s.* 6*d.*" in the Remittance section of the account includes £90,316 17*s.* 9*d.* received during 1927–8 in respect of nickel sold in this country on behalf of the Government of India under the following circumstances. In 1919 and 1920, 2,000 tons of this metal were purchased, in advance of requirements, by the India Office after consultation with the Government of India, in the anticipation that there would be an increased demand for the metal for coinage purposes, and that its price would advance considerably in the future. Neither of these expectations was fully realised and a large part of the stock became surplus. In 1925 it was decided to dispose of 1,500 tons of the surplus, and arrangements were made for sales through a London firm on a commission basis. The transaction was completed in September 1928, and owing to the fact that the price of nickel during the selling period was considerably lower than that obtaining in 1919 and 1920, there was a loss of upwards of £100,000, apart from any question of interest on unremunerative outlay.

In the course of the examination of the sales accounts I enquired whether any attempt had been made to dispose of any of the nickel to the British or Dominion Governments without the intervention of the brokers, and in consequence 142 tons were sold to a department of the Imperial Government. It is calculated that about £2,500 accrued from this sale over and above the amount which would have been received under the terms of the agreement referred to above.

Repatriation of refugees from India.

18. Reference was made in para. 19 of Section I of last year's Report to expenditure incurred in India and this country on the maintenance and repatriation of European refugees who entered India from Central Asia in 1920 onwards. Further amounts aggregating £1,912 15*s.* 9*d.* were recovered during 1927–8 from the Governments concerned, and are included in the sum of £82,306 5*s.* under the sub-head "Various Departments: Miscellaneous advances in India."

Remittances (Payments).

19. The item of £106,734 16*s.* 8*d.* under the sub-head "Payments to Imperial Government Departments, Miscellaneous," includes a sum of £55,000 paid to the Air Ministry in respect of the cost of a mooring mast for airships to be erected at Karachi. This amount was, in accordance with instructions received from India, included in the Remittance Account for final charge to the Civil head "Aviation" in that country. An examination of the relevant documents showed that in two respects deviation from regular accounting procedure had occurred, viz.:— Mooring mast for airship.

(1) As the expenditure was incurred in this country the payments involved should, in accordance with usual practice, have been brought to account finally in the Home Accounts. The necessary provision could have been made by reappropriation from the Indian subject Grant for "Aviation."

(2) As £33,000 of the amount paid was in respect of expenditure to be incurred after 31st March 1928, only £22,000 should have been paid before that date and the balance held over until the next financial year.

It was also observed that in order to complete provision for the payment in March 1928 of the sum of £55,000, a supplementary grant was obtained in India, which was described as a grant-in-aid. Ordinarily, in the case of a grant-in-aid, detailed vouchers are not required, but as the Government of India was to be debited with the actual cost of the mooring mast within the limit of the amount voted, I have suggested that vouchers shall be obtained from the Air Ministry in order that the payment to that Department may be subjected to detailed audit either here or in India.

Appropriation Audit.

20. Provision for Voted expenditure, excluding that on Railways, by the Secretary of State in Council was distributed under nine grants, only one of which—Grant No. 82—related exclusively to expenditure by the Secretary of State.

21. Under Grant 82 (Voted) there was a saving of £15,684, approximately 14 per cent. of the total provision, compared to 17 per cent. and 20 per cent. in 1926–7 and 1925–6 respectively.

The more important savings under individual heads were:—

D 2. Expenditure in connection with the League of Nations—Other Expenditure - - -	4,652
E 28. Miscellaneous Civil Charges—Other Charges -	7,581

Under both these subheads there were substantial savings in 1926–7 and in the case of the latter in 1925–6 also.

22. The excess of £24 on the final allotment for the Secretary of State under Grant 23 is covered by savings on the High Commissioner's allotment from the Grant.

23. Supplementary votes were obtained under Grants 23 and 24 for the total additional amounts required to work up to the respective Revised Estimates of combined English and Indian expenditure, in which provision was made for an addition of £1,100 to the Secretary of State's portion of Grant 23 and a reduction of £98 in his portion of Grant 24. These amounts are referred to in the Notes to the Account, but if it is held that the Assembly in sanctioning the supplementary grant should be regarded as giving effect to the Revised Estimates in detail, the amounts in question should have appeared in the Account itself as modifications of the original grant. Ambiguity of this nature as to the scope of a supplementary grant can be, and usually is, avoided by carrying out reappropriation to the utmost extent possible before putting forward the supplementary demand.

24. Under Grant 82, which is the composite grant for the Secretary of State's Home expenditure, the Government of India, in accordance with practice in previous years, notified modifications of the original allotment, both Voted and Non-voted, based on the Secretary of State's Revised Estimates. These modifications, however, have been ignored in compiling the account as it has been decided that, in the case of the Voted expenditure under this grant, reappropriation would, in view of the constitutional position of the Secretary of State, be determined by him, and that in the case of Non-voted expenditure reappropriation was an unnecessary formality.

Change in classification.

25. A new head has been opened, with effect from 1st April 1927, to record expenditure on "Frontier Watch and Ward," which has hitherto been mainly classified under "Political."

A case of inconsistent classification.

26. Pensions and leave allowances of officers resident in certain Colonies are issued locally. The expenditure involved by way of commission paid to the issuing authority is classified under "Miscellaneous" by the Secretary of State, but under "General Administration" by the High Commissioner. The latter is, in my opinion, the correct head, as I regard this expenditure as in substitution of outlay which, if direct issues were made by the Secretary of State and the High Commissioner, would form part of the administrative cost of their establishments.

I therefore suggested that the Secretary of State should debit his expenditure under that head. Consistency of treatment in the two branches of the Home Accounts would thus be secured and the existing anomaly of the classification under different heads in the Finance and Revenue Accounts of items of identical character would be removed.

The Secretary of State has, however, decided to continue the present classification.

SECTION II.—MILITARY SERVICES.

Pay of officers at Quetta Staff College.

1. Reference was made in para. 3 of Section II of the last Report to a question raised by this Department relating to British Service officers who remained at the Staff College, Quetta, after the departure of their regiments from India, and whose pay was chargeable to Imperial revenues. A complete list of these officers has now been received from India, and a claim for £12,867 6*s.* 8*d.* has been made on the War Office, in respect of which advances amounting to £12,000 have been received.

Allowances during "Concession" passages.

2. Passages are provided at Government expense for all officers proceeding to and from India on "duty," and Indian Service officers receive in addition free passages (which may be taken on leave) analogous to those which are admissible to civil officers under the "Lee concessions." During "duty" passages neither Indian lodging allowance, which is an element of Indian pay, nor ration allowance, which is a concomitant of British rates, is admissible, but during the "concession" passages of Indian Army officers either of these allowances may, according to circumstances, be issued. The anomaly was noticed shortly after the grant of concession passages had been sanctioned, but it was decided that it would be inappropriate to whittle down the concession by withholding the allowances in question. Subsequently the emoluments both of British and Indian Service officers on sick leave were enhanced by permitting them to draw during such leave certain allowances (for lodging, fuel and light, and furniture) provided in the British regulations. In conformity with the latter regulations these allowances were rightly withheld from British Service officers during passage at Government expense, but on the analogy of the decision mentioned above were issued to Indian Service officers during "concession" passages. I questioned the applicability of the decision to this further class of case and suggested that the grant of a new and valuable concession might rather have justified reconsideration of the whole matter. My views on this point were not upheld, and while giving due weight to the administrative considerations which doubtless led to the decision reached, I think it right to report the facts, since the issue of these allowances concurrently with free maintenance on board ship appears to conflict with No. 6 of the Canons of Financial Propriety ("the amount of allowances . . . granted to meet expenditure of a particular type should be so regulated that the allowances are not on the whole sources of profit to the recipients"). The possibility of removing the anomaly in question, which involves a sum of about £3,000 a year, might be watched in the event of any revision of present rates of pay or leave pay in a direction favourable to the officer.

"Successors" and tour of duty in India.

3. The pay of a regimental officer of the British Service on leave from India remains a charge on Indian revenues so long as the unit to which he belongs continues on the Indian Establishment, provided that if a successor is appointed the pay of the officer on leave is transferred to the War Office from the date on which the successor sails. Formerly detailed posting lists were prepared by the War Office from which it was possible to check the incidence of pay in the cases affected, but since the war it has been found necessary to discontinue the compilation of these documents. A number of questions have, however, been raised in individual cases resulting in transfers of the charge for leave pay to the War Office, and that Department has agreed in future to indicate all cases in which an officer is moved to India in relief of a regimental officer on leave from that country.

In the case of non-regimental officers who serve in India for a fixed term of years, individual successors cannot be identified in this manner as officers are sent out in batches to fill the total number of vacancies occurring at a given time on the Indian Establishment. In the case of the R.A.M.C. overlapping was prevented by a working rule precluding the grant of leave beyond the expiration of an officer's tour. As the result of a question raised in audit the extension of this rule to other categories of non-regimental officers is under consideration.

Marriage allowances and allotments: British troops.

4. The amount of £400,004 14*s.* 5*d.* was paid in 1927–8 to the War Office for marriage allowances and allotments disbursed by Army Paymasters in respect of British troops in India for the period April 1927 to March 1928.

A general examination was made of the claims and a test audit was carried out at certain pay offices. As the result of queries raised in audit credit has been or is being given to Indian revenues of sums aggregating £729 7*s.* 3*d.*

National Health Insurance Fund: Accumulated surplus.

5. No progress has been made since the date of my last Report with the question, referred to in para. 9 of Section II of that Report, relating to India's share in the accumulated surplus of the Navy, Army and Air Force Insurance Fund, which was transferred to the Imperial Exchequer in 1926.

Aden.

6. Included under "Military Services: Maintenance of the Standing Army" is an item "Military Charges for Aden (Contribution to Imperial Government) £250,000." Prior to the 31st March 1927 the expenditure on Aden was borne in the first instance by Indian revenues, the Imperial Government contributing £72,000 per annum in accordance with the Report of the Welby Commission. A further contribution has been received since the war in respect of part of the extra cost of the post-war garrison over that maintained prior to 1914.

From 1st April 1927 the military and political administration of Aden was transferred to the Imperial Government, which will bear all the expenditure involved therein, towards which India will contribute £250,000 for three years and thenceforward one-third of the actual cost subject to a maximum of £150,000 a year.

In the examination of the claim on the Imperial Government in respect of extra military expenditure for the year 1926–7 queries were raised by this Department which, if substantiated, would increase the claim by £4,000. The queries are being considered with other claims and counterclaims in respect of Aden charges prior to 1st April 1927.

Sea transport: Leave passage concessions for military officers.

7. In para. 10 of Section II of last year's Report mention was made of the adjustment to be effected in respect of leave passage concessions to military officers of the Indian Army and their families in the case of officers whose pay is not met from Indian Military Estimates. Decision has now been reached in regard to the remaining categories mentioned, namely :—

(2) Officers serving in Iraq ;
(3) Officers of the Indian infantry battalion in Malaya ;
(4) Officers serving in South Persia ;
(5) Individual officers lent to Imperial Departments or foreign Governments.

The adjustment generally will take the form of a levy on the employing Department or Government of a contribution of Rs. 600 a year, except when the officer is on loan in the United Kingdom, or is granted leave passages as part of the terms of his employment. In the latter case it is proposed to make a suitable deduction from the officer's passage credits. In the case of the officers serving in South Persia, as the forces have now been withdrawn and the accounts closed, no adjustment will be made.

Sea transport : Passages erroneously charged to India.

8. The item of £138,164 3*s.* 10*d.*, charged under the sub-head "Cost of Sea Transport not charged to Troop Service or Royal Air Force," includes payments to the Imperial Government for passages of officers and men conveyed in Imperial transports. Queries were raised by this Department, pointing out that certain passages were not chargeable to Indian revenues, and as a result about £1,050 is being recovered.

Extension of tenure of appointments.

9. Owing to conditions arising out of the war, authority was given in 1924 to the military authorities in India to extend, during a period of three years, the tenure of Commandants of Indian infantry units for not longer than one year in cases where the public interest would be definitely served by such extension, all cases being reported to the Secretary of State for information. In 1926 I drew attention to several extensions of three months or less which involved an additional year's service for pension, and in particular to two such cases where, as the officer was on leave pending retirement, it seemed doubtful whether the condition referred to above had been fulfilled. Correspondence with India ensued and orders were given that future similar cases should be referred to the Secretary of State, who would decide whether any concession should be made.

Revision of classification of pensions.

10. Reference was made in para. 11 of Section II of the last Report to the readjustment of pension charges of military officers involved in the decision that pensions sanctioned after 1st April 1921 should be allocated to the Central Military, Central Civil or to a Provincial head, according to the officer's service. It was stated in a previous Report that it was hoped to complete the readjustment during 1925-6, but this anticipation was not fulfilled, and the reclassification is still incomplete. The total amount transferred up to the present date from the Military head is approximately £350,000, of which about £70,000 has been debited to the Central Civil head and the remainder in varying shares to Provincial Governments. The annual relief to Central revenues is about £60,000, a figure which will be further increased when the examination of past admissions is complete.

Pension debitable to Madras Coast Lights Fund.

11. Documents received from India, in connection with the transfer of the pension of a retired officer of the India Unattached List for payment in this country, indicated that Rs. 3. 11. 2 of the pension of Rs. 300 per mensem was debitable to the Civil Department, Madras. On the case coming under audit it was pointed out that the officer had served in the Marine (Lighthouse) Department of the Government of Madras for upwards of 14 years, and it was suggested that enquiry should be made whether any part of his pension was chargeable to the Coast Lights Fund. The reply to the enquiry showed that the error in classification had occurred through a misconception on the part of the accounting authorities of the rules governing the allocation of pensions and that Rs. 220 per mensem (or £220 per annum when the pension is issuable in this country) is chargeable to the Madras Coast Lights Fund. Arrear charges amounting to upwards of £1,500 will be transferred to that head of service and current payments are being correctly classified.

Suppression of information in connection with commutation of pension.

12. A case occurred where the receipt from India of a medical history sheet showed that a warrant officer had concealed material facts when applying for commutation of part of his pension. He was thereupon asked to furnish an explanation, but failed to reply and it was proposed to take no further action. On the case coming under audit it was suggested that enquiry should be made from the Medical Board whether, if all the facts had been before them at the time of commutation, the officer would still have been certified as having an average expectation of life. Meanwhile, another similar case had occurred in which an enquiry of this nature had actually been made. In both cases the Medical Board stated that less favourable terms would have been given and about £30 is being recovered from each of the officers concerned.

Increase of small pensions.

13. In para. 17 of Part II of my Report on the Accounts for 1925-6 I referred to anomalies in the India Office Regulations for the increase of small pensions as compared with the scheme of the Imperial Government. Opportunity was taken to remove these anomalies in 1927 when the India Office Regulations came under revision, and a considerable number of pensions were slightly reduced with a resultant saving of about £600 a year. It was pointed out by this Department that certain other pensions were affected and further reductions were accordingly made aggregating about £800 annually.

Incorrect issues of dependants' pensions.

14.—(i) Under the provisions of the Royal Warrant of 2nd July 1920, granting pensions to dependants of officers killed in the war, only the children born within nine months of the official date of the termination of the war are eligible for allowances. A case occurred where allowances had been withdrawn under this rule and on its coming under audit I drew attention to other similar cases, and pensions amounting to £107 per annum were also withdrawn.

(ii) Certain pensions granted under the above warrant are susceptible of revision in the event of additional income accruing to pensioners, who are required to report any such increase. These pensions are reviewed triennially, but attention was drawn in audit to the omission in certain cases to apply this test, and in one of these information was obtained which showed that the pensioner had been disqualified for some time; the pension of £36 per annum was accordingly withdrawn and recovery of one year's over-issue made.

(iii) A proposal to grant a widow in receipt of a pension of £156 per annum an alternative pension of £300 per annum based on her husband's pre-war earnings was submitted to this Department for observations. At my suggestion further information was obtained and the Ministry of Pensions consulted, and as a result the pension was continued at the lower rate.

(iv) Pensions issuable to the widows of officers who die from causes other than those arising from active service are contingent upon the means of the recipient. In this connection, the question of eligibility was raised in certain cases, and as a result grants were reduced or withdrawn to the extent of about £145 per annum.

Incorrect issues of pension.

15—(i) A report is received by the Secretary of State of all gratuities and pensions granted in India to military officers in civil employ wounded or injured in the course of their duty. In a case which came to the notice of this Department it was observed that the amounts awarded were in excess of those admissible under the regulations, and it was suggested that attention should be drawn to the erroneous grants. The case was reviewed by the Indian authorities and the pension reduced by £100 per annum.

(ii) The pensions of military officers as revised in 1919 vary to some extent in accordance with the "cost of living" figure. The pensions in issue at the India Office were revised in 1927, but attention was drawn in audit to a few cases which had been overlooked. Over-issues amounting to £33 were accordingly recovered, and pensions reduced by about £20 per annum.

Shanghai Defence Force.

16. Among the amounts shown as Receipts from the War Office under the head "Remittance Account" is one of £336,883 5s. in respect of the Shanghai Defence Force.

During the year advances amounting to £340,000 were received in respect of expenditure from Indian revenues in connection with this force. £3,116 15*s.* has been appropriated to cover expenditure in this country (see under "Deposits and Advances"), and the balance, £336,883 5*s.*, set off against expenditure in India. As the result of queries raised in my Department, undercharges amounting to £2,543 9*s.* 3*d.* in the accounts of expenditure received from India have been adjusted in later accounts.

Payments to Imperial Government.

17. The principal payments made from Indian revenues to Departments of the Imperial Government for services arising out of the maintenance of British troops on the Indian Establishment are dealt with in the following paragraphs.

18. War Office: Capitation Rate for Effective Services:—

A provisional advance of £1,400,000 was made as in 1926–7. It has been agreed that the provisional payments made from 1st April 1920 to 31st March 1926 shall be regarded as final, but that the payments from the latter date shall be subject to adjustment when agreement has been reached as to the principle on which India's annual payment under this head shall be based. Correspondence on this matter is proceeding.

19. War Office: for gratuities on death, discharge, &c.:—

£48,000 was advanced on this account in respect of payments during 1927–8 less £702 6*s.* 11*d.* over-advanced for 1926–7; and £314 8*s.* 11*d.* was refunded by the War Office in respect of audit queries for the year 1922–3 referred to in para. 20 of Section II of last year's Report.

The payments for 1927–8 are now under examination.

20. War Office: on account of clothing and necessaries in possession of regiments on their transfer to and from the Indian Establishment:—

The advance of £12,000 referred to in para. 22 of Section II of the last Report has been adjusted.

A further advance of £6,000 was made to the War Office in March 1928 to meet the approximate amount due from Indian revenues up to the first half of the trooping season, 1927–8. Detailed statements relating to the expenditure incurred during the period in question have only recently been received from the War Office and their examination has not been completed.

21. War Office: Sea Transport:—

The amount claimed in respect of trooping in 1926–7 was £386,891 8*s.* 8*d.*, against which advances amounting to £396,000 had been made (vide para. 23 of Section II of the last Report); the balance due to India, viz. £9,108 11*s.* 4*d.*, has been adjusted in the amount of £317,451 15*s.* 6*d.* brought to account in 1927–8 under the head "Indian Troop Service," which is made up as follows:—

	£	s.	d.
Advances to the War Office in respect of the year 1927–8	317,300	0	0
Direct expenditure at the India Office	9,260	6	10
	326,560	6	10
Less adjustment on account of 1926–7	9,108	11	4
	£317,451	15	6

As a result of queries raised by this Department on the claims for 1925–6, and 1926–7, recoveries amounting to upwards of £2,400 are being made from the War Office and the Air Ministry in respect of passages chargeable to those Departments.

22. War Office: Retired pay, pensions, &c., of British Forces for service in India:—

No final agreement has yet been reached in respect of the annual payments on this account from 1913-4 onwards, but it is proposed that India's liability up to 31st March 1919 shall be covered by the agreement with the Imperial Government regarding the claims referred to in para. 3, Section I, of this Report.

Some progress is now being made with regard to the accounts for the post-war years, and agreement has been reached between the War Office and India Office as to the amounts due by India for 1919–20 and 1920–1, viz. £850,136 and £982,945 respectively.

A further advance of £1,153,408 in respect of the year 1927-8 was made to the War Office.

23. Air Ministry: for Effective Services in respect of personnel of the Air Force serving in India:—

An advance of £98,150 was made, based on a provisional Capitation Rate of £50 on the numbers serving in India. Negotiations are still proceeding with the Air Ministry with a view to fixing a final rate.

As in the case of the payment to the War Office for effective services (see para. 18), no adjustment will be made in respect of advances made prior to 1st April 1926.

INDIA AUDIT OFFICE,
27th February 1929.

REPORT of the AUDITOR OF INDIAN HOME ACCOUNTS upon the ACCOUNTS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN COUNCIL OF INDIA on account of the PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS, from 1st April 1927 to 31st March 1928.

MADRAS.

1. For the year 1927–8 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Madras was included in a single composite grant (No. XXXV) for Home expenditure.

2. Under Voted the saving on the original allotment of £3,520 amounted to £2,688. The more important items contained in this large saving were £972 and £605 under "Land Revenue" and "Superannuation" respectively, explanations of which are given in the notes to the Account. Again, as in the previous year, provision was made under a number of heads for contingencies which did not materialise.

3. The change in classification from Voted to Non-Voted of certain classes of expenditure, e.g. outfit allowance of probationers of the Indian Police Service, consequent on the amendment in 1925 of section 72D of the Government of India Act, was, under the orders of the Governor, effected during the year.

4. The subventions to Universities for the training of probationers of the Indian Civil Service are divisible amongst the various Provinces in accordance with the ratio of sanctioned posts in the service in each Province to the sanctioned strength of the service for the whole of India. This expenditure has hitherto been charged to the Central Government in the Accounts of the Secretary of State, the necessary adjustments with the Provinces being made in India. With effect from 1927–8, the apportionment has been made in this country, and a sum of £583 2*s.* 8*d.* on this account appears under "General Administration."

SUPERANNUATION ALLOWANCES AND PENSIONS.

5. Rules approved by the Secretary of State govern the distribution of the pensionary charges of Government servants who have served under more than one Government. Pensions sanctioned on or after 1st April 1921 paid outside India are divisible among the several Governments in proportion to the length of service under each; provision is, however, made for the capitalisation of the pensionary liability of a contributing Government by the payment of a lump sum to the issuing Government.

In dealing with the question (to which reference has been made in my Reports on recent Accounts of the Central Government) of the reclassification of pensionary charges of military officers who had been in civil employ, attention was drawn by this Department to the fact that in no case coming under notice had commutation by a Provincial Government been reported, and it was suggested that enquiry on the point should be made; as a result, information has been furnished to the effect that capitalisation had been effected in the case of certain officers and that, in consequence, the advice as to classification of pension was incorrect. The resultant erroneous charges to Provincial Governments have been adjusted, the annual amount involved in the Account of the Government of Madras being £217.

BOMBAY.

1. For the year 1927–8 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Bombay was included in a single composite grant for Home expenditure.

2. Notes (2) and (4) to the Appropriation Account indicate that the excesses of £479 and £25 under "General Administration—Sundry items (reserved)—Voted" and "Police—Sundry items (reserved)—Voted" respectively, have been covered by reappropriation. In reply to an enquiry by the Accountant-General, India Office, the Local Government stated that the reappropriations necessary to work up to the Revised Estimates had been effected, but no formal statement of reappropriation was received in this country. A supplementary grant of Rs. 29,000 was, however, voted for expenditure in England. Complete details of this figure do not appear to have been placed before the Legislature, but the total represents the difference—with adjustments for rounding and exchange—between the total of the combined Budget allotments of the Secretary of State and the High Commissioner and the total of their combined Revised Estimates under this grant. The allotment of the Secretary of State, therefore, as finally sanctioned by the Legislative Council corresponded to the Revised Estimate, of which the details were as follows:—

Head of Service.	Revised Estimate.
Land Revenue - - - -	500
General Administration - - -	1,400
Administration of Justice - - -	100
Police - - - - -	100
Education - - - -	Nil
Medical - - - - -	500
Public Health - - - -	Nil
Civil Works - - - -	Nil
Superannuation - - - -	300

3. The subventions to Universities for the training of probationers of the Indian Civil Service are divisible amongst the various Provinces in accordance with the ratio of sanctioned posts in the service in each Province to the sanctioned strength of the service for the whole of India. This expenditure has hitherto been charged to the Central Government in the accounts of the Secretary of State, the necessary adjustments with the Provinces being made in India. With effect from 1927–8 the apportionment has been made in this country and a sum of £514 10*s.* 6*d.* on this account appears under "General Administration."

BENGAL.

1. For the year 1927–8 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Bengal was included in a single composite grant (No. 28) for Home expenditure.

2 The original provision of £1,900 under "Land Revenue—Law Charges in connection with appeals from India," proved to be much in excess of actual requirements, the expenditure amounting to £451 only.

3. The subventions to Universities for the training of probationers of the Indian Civil Service are divisible amongst the various Provinces in accordance with the ratio of sanctioned posts in the service in each Province to the sanctioned strength of the service for the whole of India. This expenditure has hitherto been charged to the Central Government in the Accounts of the Secretary of State, the necessary adjustments with the Provinces being made in India. UNITED PROVINCES OF AGRA AND OUDH.

1. For the year 1927–8 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of the United Provinces was included in a single composite grant (No. 29) for Home expenditure.

2. The subventions to Universities for the training of probationers of the Indian Civil Service are divisible amongst the various Provinces in accordance with the ratio of sanctioned posts in the service in each Province to the sanctioned strength of the service for the whole of India. This expenditure has hitherto been charged to the Central Government in the Accounts of the Secretary of State, the necessary adjustments with the Provinces being made in India. PUNJAB.

1. For the year 1927-8 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of the Punjab was made under a single composite grant (No. 32) which related exclusively to expenditure by the Secretary of State.

2. The subventions to Universities for the training of probationers of the Indian Civil Service are divisible amongst the various Provinces in accordance with the ratio of sanctioned posts in the service in each Province to the sanctioned strength of the service for the whole of India. This expenditure has hitherto been charged to the Central Government in the Accounts of the Secretary of State, the necessary adjustments with the Provinces being made in India. With effect from 1927–8 the apportionment has been made in this country, and a sum of £487 1*s.* 8*d.* on this account appears under "General Administration."

Superannuation Allowances and Pensions.

3. Rules approved by the Secretary of State govern the distribution of the pensionary charges of Government servants who have served under more than one Government. Pensions sanctioned on or after 1st April 1921 paid outside India are divisible among the several Governments in proportion to the length of service under each; provision is, however, made for the capitalisation of the pensionary liability of a contributing Government by the payment of a lump sum to the issuing Government.

In dealing with the question (to which reference has been made in my Reports on recent Accounts of the Central Government) of the reclassification of pensionary charges of military officers who had been in civil employ, attention was drawn by this Department to the fact that in no case coming under notice had commutation by a Provincial Government been reported, and it was suggested that enquiry on the point should be made; as a result information has been furnished to the effect that capitalisation had been effected in the case of certain officers and that, in consequence, the advice as to classification of pension was incorrect. The resultant erroneous charges to Provincial Governments have been adjusted, the annual amount involved in the Account of the Government of the Punjab being £37.

BURMA.

1. For the year 1927-8 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Burma was included in the allotment for each service sanctioned in four Departmental Grants voted by the Legislative Council.

2. The subventions to Universities for the training of probationers of the Indian Civil Service are divisible amongst the various Provinces in accordance with the ratio of sanctioned posts in the service in each Province to the sanctioned strength of the service for the whole of India. This expenditure has hitherto been charged to the Central Government in the accounts of the Secretary of State, the necessary adjustments with the Provinces being made in India. With effect from 1927–8 the apportionment has been made in this country, and a sum of £541 19*s.* 5*d.* on this account appears under "General Administration."

Superannuation Allowances and Pensions.

3. Rules approved by the Secretary of State govern the distribution of the pensionary charges of Government servants who have served under more than one Government. Pensions sanctioned on or after 1st April 1921 paid outside India are divisible among the several Governments in proportion to the length of service under each; provision is, however, made for the capitalisation of the pensionary liability of a contributing Government by the payment of a lump sum to the issuing Government.

In dealing with the question (to which reference has been made in my Reports on recent accounts of the Central Government) of the reclassification of pensionary charges of military officers who had been in civil employ, attention was drawn by this Department to the fact that in no case coming under notice had commutation by a Provincial Government been reported, and it was suggested that enquiry on the point should be made; as a result information has been furnished to the effect that capitalisation had been effected in the case of certain officers, and that, in consequence, the advice as to classification of pension was incorrect. The resultant erroneous charges to Provincial Governments have been adjusted, the annual amount involved in the Account of the Government of Burma being £1,351.

BIHAR AND ORISSA.

1. For the year 1927–8 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Bihar and Orissa was included in a single composite Grant (No. 26) for Home expenditure.

2. The modifications of the Voted provision detailed in the notes to the Appropriation Account, together with an additional allotment of £50 under "General Administration," represent the difference between the Secretary of State's Budget Allotment and his Revised Estimate. The Revised Estimate of the whole grant (including the High Commissioner's figures) exceeded the Budget by Rs. 36,722, for which a supplementary grant was obtained. The amount sanctioned by the Legislature therefore included the following allotments for the Secretary of State:—

Head of Service.	Final Allotment.
Land Revenue - -	- 1,000
General Administration -	- 500
Administration of Justice -	- 200

3. The subventions to Universities for the training of probationers of the Indian Civil Service are divisible amongst the various Provinces in accordance with the ratio of sanctioned posts in the service in each Province to the sanctioned strength of the service for the whole of India. This pexenditure has hitherto been charged to the Central Government in the Accounts of the Secretary of State, the necessary adjustments with the Provinces being made in India. With effect from 1927–8 the apportionment has been made in this country and a sum of £377 6*s.* 5*d.* on this account appears under "General Administration."

CENTRAL PROVINCES.

1. For the year 1927–8, provision for Voted expenditure other than "Irrigation" by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of the Central Provinces was included in a single composite Grant (No. 28) for Home expenditure.

2. The saving of £381 of the original allotment of £740 under Grant 28 (Voted) is mainly due to the provision of £100 under each of the heads "Education," "Medical," and "Public Health" for contingencies which did not materialise.

3. The subventions to Universities for the training of probationers of the Indian Civil Service are divisible amongst the various Provinces in accordance with the ratio of sanctioned posts in the service in each Province to the sanctioned strength of the service for the whole of India. This expenditure has hitherto been charged to the Central Government in the accounts of the Secretary of State, the necessary adjustments with the Provinces being made in India. With effect from 1927–8 the apportionment has been made in this country, and a sum of £319 0*s.* 2*d.* on this account appears under "Miscellaneous."

Superannuation Allowances and Pensions.

4. Rules approved by the Secretary of State govern the distribution of the pensionary charges of Government servants who have served under more than one Government. Pensions sanctioned on or after 1st April 1921 paid outside India are divisible among the several Governments in proportion to the length of service under each; provision is, however, made for the capitalisation of the pensionary liability of a contributing Government by the payment of a lump sum to the issuing Government.

ASSAM.

1. For the year 1927–8 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Assam was included in a single composite grant (No. 30) for Home Expenditure.

2. The subventions to Universities for the training of probationers of the Indian Civil Service are divisible amongst the various Provinces in accordance with the ratio of sanctioned posts in the service in each Province to the sanctioned strength of the service for the whole of India. This expenditure has hitherto been charged to the Central Government in the Accounts of the Secretary of State, the necessary adjustments with the Provinces being made in India. With effect from 1927–8 the apportionment has been made in this country, and a sum of £133 15*s.* 7*d.* on this account appears under "General Administration."

SUPERANNUATION ALLOWANCES AND PENSIONS.

3. Rules approved by the Secretary of State govern the distribution of the pensionary charges of Government servants who have served under more than one Government. Pensions sanctioned on or after 1st April 1921 paid outside India are divisible among the several Governments in proportion to the length of service under each; provision is, however, made for the capitalisation of the pensionary liability of a contributing Government by the payment of a lump sum to the issuing Government.

In dealing with the question (to which reference has been made in my Reports on recent Accounts of the Central Government) of the re-classification of pensionary charges of military officers who had been in civil employ, attention was drawn by this Department to the fact that in no case coming under notice had commutation by a Provincial Government been reported, and it was suggested that enquiry on the point should be made; as a result information has been furnished to the effect that capitalisation had been effected in the case of certain officers and that, in consequence, the advice as to classification of pension was incorrect. * Sinking Funds were established in connection with these Railways to redeem India 3½ and 3 per Cent. Stock issued in lieu of Annuity or Debenture Stock. These Funds have been applied to the purchase of India Stock of the denomination offering the best yield. The minus figures represent the interest on India 5½ and 2½ per Cent. Stock so purchased, and on India 3 per Cent. Stock purchased in excess of the amount issued.

† The Discount Sinking Fund in redemption of Debt incurred in excess of money raised, in respect of the India 3 per Cent. Stock issued in connection with the purchase of the Oude and Rohilkund Railway, has been partly applied to the redemption of India 5½, 4½ and 3½ per Cent. Stock instead of India 3 per Cent. Stock.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) The final grant represented one year's interest at 3·3252 per cent. (the prescribed rate to end of 1916–17) on £55,720,115, the total expenditure to 31st March 1917, plus one year's interest at an estimated rate of 4·9692 per cent. on £30,171,905 (£28,002,718, the total expenditure from 1st April 1917 to 31st March 1928, plus £2,169,187, moiety of the Revised Estimate for 1928–29). The moiety of expenditure for the year 1928–29 was, however, £140,878 less than the Estimate. The excess is caused by a rate of interest (5·1556 per cent.) higher than the estimated rate having been used in the account. The increased rate resulted from the inclusion in the latter calculation of certain sums, paid as commission and for underwriting issues of India 4½ per cent. Stock, which were omitted from the calculation of the estimated rate.

(2) The saving resulted from the discharge of debentures in February 1928.

(3) The "Voted" excess is caused by payments of leave allowances which were not anticipated when the Budget was framed, and the expenses of recruitment of Power Station staff. The excess is partly covered by reappropriation of £950.

(4) The excess is caused by expenditure, unforeseen when the Budget was framed, for printing Vol. III of the Railway Accounts Investigation Report. It is covered by reappropriation of £1,175 from the Indian portion of the Grant.

Grant No. 23.

(1) The "Voted" excess is occasioned by expenditure in connection with the International Telegraph Conference at Brussels for which no provision existed in the Budget. The revised distribution of the Grant shown in the statement enclosed with letter from the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs, dated 30th March 1929, No. 14 F.B. S/29, provided an additional £50 under (1) and £420 under (2).

Grant No. 24.

(1) An additional £30 was provided by reappropriation under "Voted."

Grant No. 25.

(1) This excess is occasioned by the issue charges in respect of 4½ per cent. Loan in January 1929. It is covered by reappropriation of £6,225 from Indian Grant.

Grant No. 26.

(1) The Fund balances on which interest is calculated have increased at a more rapid rate than was anticipated.

Grant No. 69.

A sum of £53 was provided by reappropriation.

Grant No. 70.

(1) The payment represents pensions regarding which no information was available when the Budget was framed. The "Voted" excess over the Grant is partly covered by the reappropriation of £809 from the Indian portion of the Grant to the head "Other Civil Services in India." The balance of the excess could have been met from savings with the High Commissioner.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

A 1.—The saving is caused by reduction in the bonus element of salaries due to a fall in the cost of living, to alterations in staff and to vacancies unfilled.

B 3.—The largest item of the saving was caused by the postponement of certain maintenance works, for which Budget provision had been made, beyond the end of the financial year.

E 1.—Of the saving, £75 has been used by reappropriation.

E 2.—This expenditure was in respect of Appeal cases. No information regarding them was available when the Budget was framed. The excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 3.—When the Budget was prepared no provision was made for the cost of a portrait of Lord Reading, as it was expected that payment would be made in 1927–8. Payment was made in 1928–9, causing the "Voted" excess of £472, which has been covered by reappropriation.

E 4.—This "Voted" expenditure was in connection with the International Prisons Congress. It has been covered by reappropriation.

E 6.—The expenditure is mainly in connection with the appointment of a Nautical Adviser and staff. The "Voted" excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 7.—The "Voted" saving is due to the non-payment of the amount which it was expected would be required for "Karosthi Inscriptions." An amount of £675 has been removed by reappropriation, leaving a net excess of £79, which could have been covered by savings realised under head E 27 "Other Charges."

E 8.—No expenditure was incurred in respect of "Voted" leave allowances. Of the saving, £375 has been reappropriated.

E 9.—The excess is caused by increased expenditure in respect of the Indian Pilgrimage Agency at Jeddah. It has been covered by reappropriation.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

E 10.—Mainly due to non-payment of contributions to the Institute of Agriculture, Rome, and the International Veterinary Bureau. £375 has been used by reappropriation.

E 12.—The votable saving is largely in respect of the expenses of the India Office Library, occasioned by non-completion of cataloguing. £975 has been utilised by reappropriation.

E 14.—The excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 16.—Payment was not made during the financial year.

E 20.—This expenditure, not foreseen when the Budget was prepared, has been covered by reappropriation.

E 21.—This excess has been covered by reappropriation.

E 22.—This expenditure, not foreseen when the Budget was prepared, could have been covered by savings under E 27, "Other Charges."

E 23.—The provision under this head has been utilised by reappropriation.

E 27.—The provision voted for miscellaneous charges proved to be in excess of requirements. £600 of the saving has been utilised by reappropriation.

Political.—The excess is largely due to expenditure in connection with the Indian States Committee.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) Soldiers for vocational training arrived in England later in the trooping season than had been anticipated when the estimate leading to the supplementary appropriation was framed.

(2) A heavy increase in furlough pay issued during the first part of 1928–29 as compared with the corresponding months of 1927–28 caused the final provision to be fixed at a high figure in the expectation that some part of the increase would persist throughout the year. Expenditure during the last months of the year did not exceed normal.

(3) The excess was caused by an increase during the year in the rate of contribution for each soldier discharged.

(4) and (5) Excesses ar brought about by adjustment of arrear accounts.

* Reappropriated to High Commissioner (vide Finance Department No. R. 409, dated 20th March 1929).

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) In two appeal cases, the main expenditure for which provision was made in the Grant was delayed beyond the end of the financial year.

(2) The excess under "Leave Salaries" is caused by full pay having been admitted to an officer while waiting reabsorption in his British regiment after having vacated the appointment of A.D.C.; when the amount of the supplementary appropriation was fixed it was understood that half-pay only would be admissible.

(4) The expenditure represents the leave pay of an officer. Information that the officer would take leave was not available in England when the Budget was framed.

(5) The excess represents the cost of the passage of an officer recalled to India for an enquiry.

(7) The expenditure is the amount of the leave pay of two Assistant Surgeons. Information that the second of these warrant officers would take leave was not available when the Budget was framed.

(9) The "Voted" excess and the "Non-Voted" saving are due to the reclassification of charge for the pension of a commissioned departmental officer from the "Non-Voted" head, where provision was made when the supplementary appropriation was fixed to the "Voted" head. This reclassification was made after the end of the financial year on the receipt of information showing the practice of the Madras Government in dealing with the pay, &c., of departmental officers. The excess is covered by savings by the High Commissioner within the Grant.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(2) The "Voted" excess is due to the issue of pay and allowances to an Assistant Surgeon for the period of an extension of leave granted after the Budget was framed. The excess has been covered by reappropriation.

(4) The saving is due to the fact that the Assistant Surgeon for whose leave allowances Budget provision was made returned to India several months before the expiry of his leave.

(6) The "Voted" saving is due to the transfer of issue of a pension to India.

The following reappropriation of "Voted" funds was advised by Finance Department letter No. P. 89 Bud., of 7th March 1929:—

(1) and (2). The savings under these heads were caused by delay in appeal cases, which had the effect of postponing the main expenditure beyond the end of the financial year.

(5) The amount of the appropriation was fixed by the Government of Bengal.

(8) Information received from India when the Budget Estimate was being prepared indicated that provision for the leave pay of four officers of the Indian Medical Department would be necessary in the year. The expenditure incurred represents the pay of one of these officers only.

(9) The "Voted" saving was caused by the transfer of issue of a pension to India.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(2) The "Non-voted" saving was caused by the final payment of the Governor's leave allowances, for which provision was made in the supplementary appropriation, having been delayed until April 1929.

(4) The "Voted" excess was caused by arrear charges from 1924 for the maintenance of a prisoner. The amount could have been met by reappropriation of savings from (1), (2) and (3), and from the High Commissioner's portion of the Grant.

(7) The "Voted" expenditure consists of a charge unforeseen when the Budget was framed, for the provincial share of the pension of a warrant officer from 1922. The excess could have been met by reappropriation of savings from the High Commissioner's portion of the Grant.

The Revised Estimate of the Secretary of State of his "Voted" expenditure was modified by the United Provinces Government to the following:—

Land Revenue, £30. General Administration, £705. Justice, £375. Jails, £120. Superannuation, £450. Total, £1,680.

The above total exceeded the Grant by £380, and a Supplementary Grant of that amount was obtained. There is no information to show that reappropriation to the figures of the above estimate, which would have determined the distribution of the Supplementary Grant, was carried out in India. The additional amount has been divided at this Office, therefore, between heads (3) and (7) above.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(2) The "Voted" excess was caused by more appeals from India in criminal cases than had been anticipated when the budget was framed.

(3) Budget provision was made for the cost of one year's maintenance of a prisoner. Claims for maintenance after 30th June 1928 were, however, delayed beyond the end of the financial year.

(6) A pension for which "Voted" provision was made in the budget has been reclassified as "Non-voted." In the case of another pension, it was ascertained from India, after the budget was framed, that the liability of the Punjab Government had been capitalised and discharged in India.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

1.—The saving was due to delay in an appeal case, which caused the postponement of the main expenditure beyond the end of the financial year. The provision was reduced to £75 by reappropriation.

2.—An additional sum of £75 was provided by reappropriation.

3.—The expenditure consisted of expenses of appeals in criminal cases not foreseen when the budget was framed. £75 was reappropriated to the head.

4.—The excess was caused by an amount, which was originally taken in reduction of the charge to the head, having been credited through the London Account Current at the request of the Government of Burma after the supplementary appropriation had been fixed.

5 and 6.—Provision was made under "Medical" for the leave allowances of an officer whose pay proved to be chargeable to "Public Health."

7.—The pensions of several officers, classified as "Voted" when the budget was framed, were subsequently reclassified as "Non-voted." In addition, it was ascertained from India, after the framing of the budget, that the Provincial liability in respect of other cases had been discharged by capitalisation.

(2) Particulars sent from India of the leave to be taken by officers of the Assam Rifles showed that the whole of the leave pay of these officers would be a charge on Assam revenues and the budget provision was fixed accordingly. A portion of the pay proved to be chargeable to Central Revenues, resulting in the "Non-voted" saving. "Voted" provision was made for printing the "History of the Assam Rifles," but no expenditure was incurred. £225 was reappropriated to the High Commissioner.

(3) After the budget was framed it was ascertained that the Assam share of the pension for which "Voted" provision was made had been capitalised and discharged in India. £62 was reappropriated to the High Commissioner. The "Non-voted" excess was caused mainly by charges in arrear in respect of pensions issued in previous years The charges were raised on information supplied from India after the appropriation in the budget had been fixed.

No. 3.

REPORT of the AUDITOR OF INDIAN HOME ACCOUNTS upon the ACCOUNTS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN COUNCIL OF INDIA, from 1st April 1928 to 31st March 1929; prepared and submitted to the Secretary of State in Council, in pursuance of section 27 (5) of the Government of India Act.

---

1. This Report, which relates to the Accounts of the Central Government, is divided into two sections relating respectively to—

I. Receipts and Expenditure under heads other than those relative to Military Services;

II. Receipts and Expenditure relating to Military Services.

The sections will be reviewed as follows: No. I by the Public Accounts Committee set up by the Central Legislative Assembly; No. II by a special Departmental Committee constituted by the Government of India. The accounts of the Provincial Governments have already been dealt with in my Reports dated 23rd January 1930.

SECTION I.—NON-MILITARY SERVICES.

GENERAL.

Savings resulting from audit questions.

2. In the evidence taken at a recent meeting of the Public Accounts Committee in India parenthetical reference was made by the Auditor-General to a practice followed in my Reports for some years which he said he had always been reluctant to adopt, viz. that of stating the amount saved to Indian revenues as a result of questions raised in the course of audit.

I of course fully realise the possible objections to this practice, but although the mere figures of money saved must in no sense be regarded as a test of the efficiency of audit, which can always rely for its final justification on its moral and deterrent effect, it does not seem to me to be out of place that some reference should be made in the only public document available for the purpose to considerable savings which are directly attributable to audit action.

In the years immediately following the war there was exceptional scope for audit activity, especially as regards questions of incidence between Indian and Imperial revenues which were responsible for the bulk of the saving. For four years in succession (1922–3 et seq.) I was able to report an annual saving of over £100,000. In later years conditions have become more stable, and it must be remembered that in stable conditions audit to some extent limits its future activities by its own work. The savings in recent years are consequently smaller, but their total for the last eight years exceeds £600,000, and for the year under review they amount to about £12,000.

In addition a further saving will accrue to Central revenues as a result of the question raised by this Department regarding reclassification of pensions (vide para. 12 of Section II of this Report). The total amount credited to Central revenues up to date is about £440,000, and the annual amount involved is about £85,000.

Expenditure requiring sanction by Imperial Parliament.

3. The sanction of the Imperial Parliament, which is necessary under the Government of India Act, has not yet been obtained for two payments from Indian revenues mentioned in previous Reports, viz. (1) £13,100,000 paid provisionally to the War Office in 1919 in respect of a further additional contribution by India towards the cost of the war, and (2) £200,000 paid to the War Office in 1921 as an advance subject to adjustment on account of the cost of exchange concession on gratuities. The submission for sanction has been deferred pending the settlement of various large claims by the Imperial Government against Indian revenues in respect mainly of non-effective liabilities arising out of the war. The efforts to reach a comprehensive settlement of the various claims and counterclaims—major and minor—to which reference was made in paras. 4 and 5 of Section 1 of the Report on the Accounts for 1924–5, appear to be nearing completion.

Amendment of Rules.

4.—(i) Under the wording of the Fundamental Rules it was possible for a military officer in civil employ to be credited in his leave account with an amount of leave proportionate to the time spent on duty before his first arrival in India. This possibility, which was precluded in the Civil Service Regulations, was an unintended consequence of a recent change in the Fundamental Rules. The point having been brought to notice by this Department the Rules have been re-amended.

(ii) The Government of India and Local Governments are empowered by the Fundamental Rules to prescribe rules for the grant of examination leave to officers within their respective jurisdictions. Under these powers various officers were granted examination leave to this country on conditions more favourable than those that they could have enjoyed if, in accordance with normal practice, they had been granted deputation or study leave which are subject to restrictions imposed by the Fundamental Rules themselves or by the rules made thereunder by the Secretary of State. The anomaly was pointed out by this Department and has been removed by confining the special terms given for examination leave to periods spent in India.

Posts and Telegraphs Revenue Account.

Amount due from Turkey.

5. In previous Reports reference has been made to the outstanding claim on the Turkish Telegraph Administration in respect of traffic balances for the period April to November 1914. The original amount of £1,342 12*s.* 2*d.* was reduced by the admission of certain counterclaims made by the Turkish authorities; a sum of £1,201 11*s.* 6*d.* in settlement of the net amount due has now been received by the Secretary of State.

General Administration.

I.C.S. examination papers.

6. The same papers are set at the examinations for the Indian services as at the examinations for the corresponding Imperial services. The printing is done by the Stationery Office, and India is charged a proportion of the total cost. In the audit in my Department of the accounts for the printing of the examination papers for 1927–8 it was observed that the charges to India appeared high. Further investigation showed that the method of calculating the charge, which had been in force since 1925, was, owing to circumstances unforeseen at the time of its adoption, working unfavourably to India, and that between the years 1924–5 and 1928–9 there had been an overcharge estimated at approximately £1,400. As the result of the audit query the method of calculating the cost to India was modified, and the Stationery Office have agreed to refund the amounts estimated to have been overcharged under the old method.

Miscellaneous (Receipts).

Expenditure in Persia.

7. The cost of certain Diplomatic and Consular Establishments in Persia is borne in equal shares by the Imperial and Indian Governments, the necessary financial adjustment being made between the Foreign Office and the India Office. For the most part the claims and counterclaims relate to the ordinary expenditure for staff, upkeep of buildings, &c., but during the war, and in the years immediately following, extraordinary items were included, with regard to one of which a long drawn out dispute between the two Governments has culminated in the writing-off to Indian revenues of an amount of £5,904, which represents part of the expenditure incurred in raising and maintaining a force of tribesmen for police purposes in Persia from October 1918 to March 1919.

I do not consider it advisable to give full details of the matter in this Report, but the salient fact is that the Imperial Government, who shared the cost from October 1918 to January 1919, have refused, after repeated appeals, to bear any part of the cost for February and March 1919 on the ground that the expenditure for that period was incurred without proper sanction. While this is admitted it must be pointed out that the circumstances were of exceptional difficulty, and that local officials of both Governments concurred in the decision to retain the force beyond January 1919. It therefore seems equitable that the Imperial Government, in keeping with the general practice regarding expenditure in that part of the Middle East, should have continued to bear their share of the expenditure for the two months in question, but owing to the fact that it was brought to account by the Indian authorities and in consequence the onus of recovery rested on the India Office, the Foreign Office, by mere refusal to refund the amount involved, have thrown the whole burden on Indian revenues.

In view of the fact that although Indian interests were involved those of the Imperial Government were equal or possibly even predominant, I draw attention to this expenditure with reference to section 27 (5) of the Government of India Act, under which the Auditor is enjoined specially to note in his Report "cases in which it appears to him that any money arising out of the revenues of India has been appropriated to purposes other than those to which they are applicable."

Miscellaneous (Payments).

Secret Service.

8. £7,000 was placed at the disposal of the Secretary of State during 1928–9 for Secret Service. The amount actually expended was £6,972 0*s.* 4*d.* and the balance in hand on 31st March 1929 was £865 18*s.* 7*d.*

The Secretary of State has furnished me with a certificate that the expenditure was necessary for the public service.

Extraordinary Receipts.

Reparations.

9. The amount received during 1928–9 in respect of Reparations is made up as follows :—

	£	s.	d.
Balance of India's share of annuity for 1927–8 -	107,309	7	5
Advances on account of India's share of annuity for 1928–9 - - - - - -	120,853	0	9
	£228,162	8	2

The total annuity for the year ending 31st August 1929 was 2,500,000,000 gold marks, or approximately £122,550,000. About £122,600,000, which includes the balance from the previous year, was distributed during the year. The Empire share, after deducting prior charges, was £22,280,149 11*s.* 3*d.*, of which India receives £267,361 15*s.* 11*d.* £120,853 0*s.* 9*d.* was received in 1928–9, and the balance of £146,508 15*s.* 2*d.* has since been received.

Railway Capital Account.

Burma Railways: Termination of contract.

10. The contract with the Burma Railways Company terminated on 31st December 1928, after which date the line was transferred to direct State management in India. The purchase of stores and other agency work in this country were taken over by the High Commissioner for India. The value at par of the Ordinary Stock of the Company, viz. £3,000,000, was repaid by the Secretary of State, and the management of the £1,250,000 3 per cent. Debenture Stock, which became a State liability, was entrusted by the Secretary of State to the Bank of England. An advance of £2,321 was made to cover the estimated cost of winding up the affairs of the Company; £278 15*s.* 7*d.* remained unexpended and was refunded to the Secretary of State.

Stamp Duty.

11. In para. 12 of the last Report it was mentioned that the East Indian Railway Company and some of the Guaranteed Railway Companies having issues of stock free of transfer stamp duty were either not benefiting at all or not to the full extent possible from the reduced rates of duty payable by jobbers on certain transactions. It was also mentioned that as the result of a question raised in audit, the Companies concerned had arranged with the jobbers to obtain the full benefit of the reduced rates, which it was estimated would result in a saving of about £800 per annum. Computations made in the course of audit indicate that during the first 12 months under the new arrangement the total saving exceeded £1,200.

Incorrect charges.

12.—(i) Applications by the Guaranteed Railway Companies for funds are submitted to this Department for scrutiny before payment is made. One of these applications included an amount of £280 8*s.* 4*d.*, which was supported by a contractor's invoice which was found to total £180 8*s.* 4*d.* only. On this being pointed out to the Company, inquiry was made, which revealed that the goods supplied were a speciality for which only one tender had been received, that this tender had been wrongly added and that the incorrect amount had been embodied in the Contract. The claim was accordingly reduced by £100.

(ii) Funds were drawn from the India Office by the Bengal-Nagpur Railway Company to meet the cost of telegrams, specifications and advertisements. It was found in audit that part of the expenditure had been incurred on behalf of the Parlakimedi Light Railway (a private concern), and the amount involved, viz. £82 19*s.* 5*d.*, has been refunded.

Freight charges.

13. Questions were raised during the year relating to the charges for freight incurred by several of the Guaranteed Railway Companies, the immediate saving in the aggregate amounting to over £200.

Deposits and Advances.

14. Details of the suspense accounts under this heading are given in Appendix II to the Account (page 24).

Unrecovered loan.

15. The closing balance of £2,000 at 31st March 1929 of Miscellaneous Advances is the amount referred to in para. 29 of Section I of the Report on the Account for 1924–5 as advanced to the proprietor of a film-lecture relating to India. The amount (with interest at 6 per cent. per annum), which has been outstanding for about seven years, has not yet been recovered.

Remittances (Receipts).

Repatriation of refugees from India.

16. In para. 18 of section 1 of last year's Report reference was made to expenditure incurred in India and in this country on the maintenance and repatriation in 1921 of European refugees who entered India from Central Asia. Since the date of the last Report further sums aggregating £4,906 8*s.* 10*d.* have been recovered from the European Governments concerned. The amount still outstanding is £3,426 17*s.* 5*d.*, regarding which negotiations are proceeding.

In the audit in my Department of the accounts of expenditure it was observed that one refugee, an insane, had been detained in India, but a charge for maintenance to March 1925 only had been claimed. On inquiry being made it was ascertained that the refugee was still being maintained in India, and a further amount of £1,046 19*s.* 5*d.*, being the cost of maintenance up to 31st March 1929 and the capitalised cost from 1st April 1929 onwards, has since been recovered.

Appropriation Audit.

17. The form of the Appropriation Account for 1928–9 conforms in essentials to the revised form recently prescribed by the Auditor-General for the Indian Accounts. The main alteration in the new form is the insertion of two additional columns to record (a) modifications of provision by authorities other than the original sanctioning authority, which hitherto have been indicated in the footnotes to the Account, and (b) the excess or saving of expenditure compared with the provision as finally modified. In addition, the dates on which supplementary grants were voted by the Legislative Assembly and supplementary non-voted appropriations were sanctioned by the Finance Department have been shown as footnotes to the Account.

18. Provision for voted expenditure, excluding that on Railways, by the Secretary of State in Council was distributed under eight Grants, only one of which, Grant No. 82, related exclusively to expenditure by the Secretary of State. Provision for expenditure by the Secretary of State on Stationery, which has hitherto been included in the appropriate Indian subject grant, was included under Grant 82.

The Governor-General in Council declared under section 67A (7) of the Government of India Act that the supply demanded under Grant 82 which had been refused by the Legislative Council was essential to the discharge of his responsibilities.

19. Under Grant 82 (Voted) the final position was as follows :—

Grant.	Expenditure.	Saving.
100,875	92,124	8,751

This saving is the net result of various excesses and savings distributed over the detailed subheads, the more important items being :—

India Office Expenses : B 3. Office Contingencies -	saving	2,839
Miscellaneous Civil Charges :—
E 12. Miscellaneous Departments - -	„	1,391
E 16. International Relief Union - -	„	1,500
E 27. Other Charges - - -	„	2,149

20. The excess of £179 (Voted) under State Railways—Working Expenses—Miscellaneous is offset to the extent of £91 by savings in the High Commissioner's allotment from the same grant. I have been informed that no savings in the Indian portion of the grant are available to cover the net excess of £88 in the portion of the grant allotted to Home Expenditure.

21. Under Non-Voted considerable modification of the original appropriation was found to be necessary during the course of the year, although the comparatively small addition of £4,800 to the aggregate provision under Grant 82 was not required. On the whole, however, the expenditure approximated reasonably closely to the final appropriation under the various subheads.

Changes in classification.

22. The Rules issued by the Auditor-General regulating the exhibition of recoveries of expenditure led to a reconsideration of the treatment of such transactions in the Home Accounts. Various receipts, which hitherto have been deducted from expenditure under the appropriate heads, have with effect from 1st April 1928 been recorded separately as Revenue.

Section II.—MILITARY SERVICES.

Pay of officers at Staff College, Quetta.

1. In para. 1 of Section II of the last Report it was stated that the War Office had advanced £12,000 in respect of a claim on account of British Service officers remaining at the Staff College, Quetta, after their regiments had left the Indian Establishment. On the investigation of the claim, which covered cases as far back as 1919, the War Office protested against its belated nature and stated that they were not prepared to accept liability prior to 1st April 1922, i.e. three years before the claim was first raised. The case was referred to me for observations, and I pointed out that there had been converse cases where India had accepted liability for arrear claims in respect of longer periods, but the Secretary of State agreed to the War Office proposal and in the final adjustment the sum of £5,299 6*s*. was refunded to that Department.

The amount forgone would have been considerably reduced if the necessary information had been forthcoming from India at an earlier date, and in noting on the case I observed that it showed the desirability of claims being formulated and presented as quickly as possible, and further of giving notice of claims where reference to India was necessary.

Expenditure in India is now being earmarked for recovery, and claims are being presented regularly to the War Office. Two such claims amounting to about £1,100 have already been made.

Expenditure in connection with Indian units serving overseas.

2. As a result of questions raised by my Department, about £2,000 erroneously charged to Indian revenues in respect of British and Indian Army officers, who were students at the Staff College during a period when their regiments were out of India on foreign service, has been recovered from the Governments concerned, viz. £789 1*s.* 6*d.* from the Federated Malay States and £1,314 15*s.* 9*d.* from the Imperial Government.

3. In examining the cases of two officers who were on leave in this country, it was disclosed that they had been transferred to regiments which had left India on foreign service. Their pay thus became chargeable to the Imperial Government, and £107 18*s.* 5*d.* has been recovered from the War Office and £380 9*s.* 4*d.* from the Air Ministry.

4. It was discovered in audit that Indian revenues had been debited incorrectly with the pay of an officer who came to the United Kingdom on leave from his appointment in the Hong Kong Mule Corps, and £265 16*s.* 2*d.* was consequently recovered from the War Office.

Expenditure in connection with Aden.

5. It was suggested by my Department that the pay of certain Indian Army officers and soldiers who had remained at Aden after the date of the transfer of its administration to the Imperial Government (1st April 1927), and who had subsequently been granted leave from that station was chargeable, in accordance with existing arrangements, to Imperial revenues. This suggestion was accepted, resulting in a saving to Indian revenues of £1,475 10*s.* 4*d.*

Successors to British Service officers on leave posted to Home Establishment: Overlapping charges.

6. Difficulties experienced in obtaining information as to the successors of British Service officers granted leave by the Indian Authorities pending reversion to the Home Establishment, were referred to in para. 3, Section II, of last year's Report. The whole question has since been reviewed and proposals have been agreed with the War Office and forwarded to the Government of India for consideration to the effect that—

(i) officers due for reversion to the Imperial Establishment are not to be allowed to take furlough, but may avail themselves of privilege leave if entitled;

(ii) such privilege leave will reckon from the date of arrival in this country;

(iii) reversion to the Home Establishment will take place either from the date of arrival home or from the end of privilege leave.

The Army Council have undertaken to ensure that in carrying out postings to India there shall be as little overlapping as possible. In cases where the transfer to the Home Establishment of an officer on leave is specially arranged, his pay in accordance with existing practice will be chargeable to the Imperial Government from the date on which his successor sails for India.

Marriage allowances and allotments: British troops.

7. The amount of £415,508 19*s.* was paid in 1928–9 to the War Office for marriage allowances and allotments disbursed by Army Paymasters in respect of British troops in India for the period April 1928 to March 1929.

A general examination was made of the claims and a test audit was carried out at certain pay offices.

Voyage pay of a draft wrongly charged to Indian revenues.

8. In the examination of one of the claims submitted by the War Office in respect of marriage allowances and allotments it was observed by this Department that a charge was included on account of a draft proceeding from Gibraltar to India, whereas under present procedure such items are paid by the War Office as they are covered by the Capitation Rate for Effective Services. Attention was drawn to this and as a result it transpired that owing to incorrect instructions having been issued to Army Paymasters by the War Office, not only the amount in respect of allotments, viz. £9 3*s.* 6*d.*, but the voyage pay of the draft, viz. £254 17*s.* 3*d.*, had been charged erroneously to Indian revenues. Amended instructions have been issued and the necessary adjustment is being made.

National Health Insurance Fund: Accumulated surplus.

9. Reference was made in para. 5 of Section II of the last Report to the question of India's share in the accumulated surplus of the Navy, Army and Air Force Insurance Fund which was transferred to the Imperial Exchequer in 1926. As a result of correspondence it has recently been agreed that the matter shall be referred to arbitration.

King's India Cadets.

10. Section 19 (2) of the Government of India Act provides that "in the "appointment of officers to His Majesty's Army the same provision as "heretofore, or equal provision, shall be made for the appointment of sons of "persons who have served in India in the Military or Civil Service of the "Crown or of the East India Company." This obligation is discharged by assuring the entry to Sandhurst, without competition, of 10 King's India Cadets each half-year. The Statute says nothing about fees and the practice regarding remission has been varied from time to time. From 1862 to 1893 the fees were paid in all cases by the State. From the latter year remission depended on the parent's income, in regard to which a scale of means was fixed. This scale has been varied from time to time, but in 1929 it was decided for the future to make refunds unconditionally and to apply this concession to the cadets already at the College.

This authority was interpreted as granting the remission of all fees paid since the date of entry of the King's India Cadets still in residence, and refunds were made on this account amounting to approximately £1,200. As it was not clear that this interpretation was correct, I raised the question as to the date from which the concession should take effect. At the same time I called attention to one case where refund appeared in any event to be unjustifiable. The cadet had entered the College prior to the date of the decision to remit fees unconditionally, and the fact that he was still in residence and so brought under the terms of the concession was due to his having been rusticated and compelled to undergo an additional term at the College. Thus the parent had been given a refund, amounting to £332 10*s*., which he would not have received but for his son's rustication.

Marriage allowances and allotments: Royal Air Force.

11. The amount of £71,183 18*s*. 7*d*. was paid in 1928–9 to the Air Ministry in respect of marriage allowances and allotments for the period April 1928 to March 1929.

In para. 17 of Section II of my Report for 1926–7 reference was made to the necessity for a more frequent cross-check of allotment payments. The system of check has since been modified in a satisfactory manner.

Revision of classification of pensions.

12. Para. 40 of the Report on the Account for the year ending 31st March 1924 ran as follows: —

> "Rules made by the Secretary of State in Council in February 1921 provided that pensions granted after 1st April 1921 to Government servants who had been employed partly under the Army Department and partly in civil departments of the Central and Provincial Governments should be classified in the accounts according to the duration of service in the respective departments.
> "As the pensions issued by the India Office to military officers and other ranks continued to be debited, in accordance with previous practice, wholly to the heads of Military and Medical Retired Pay, I inquired why the new procedure had not been applied. Steps have been taken to obtain from India the detailed information necessary, and considerable readjustments of past charges will appear in a future account."

Reference has been made in subsequent Reports to the progress made in effecting the necessary reclassification of past cases, which may now be regarded as practically complete. The total amount transferred up to the present date from the Military head in respect of pensions granted after 1st April 1921 is approximately £640,000, of which about £200,000 has been debited to Central Civil heads and the remainder in varying shares to Provincial Governments. The annual relief to Central revenues is about £85,000.

Incorrect issue of dependants' pensions.

13. Pensions granted to widows of officers who die from causes other than those arising from conditions of service are contingent upon the means of the recipient. The eligibility of two widows for full pension was questioned and the grant was reduced in one case and discontinued in the other. £170 was recovered and £125 will be saved annually.

Increase of small pensions.

14. The executors of a pensioner forwarded the probate of his will in order that the balance due might be drawn. On examination in this Department it was pointed out that in view of the contents of the will the annual statements of means furnished by the pensioner in support of his claims for pension increase appeared to have been incomplete; inquiry was made and the amount overdrawn, viz. £96, was recovered.

Pension incorrectly awarded.

15. A case occurred where, owing to defective information in the Indian Army Lists, a pension was granted at an incorrect rate. It was pointed out by this Department that a period of unemployment which was not recorded in the Army Lists had been included in the service on which the pension was based and a reduction of £20 a year was made.

Gratuities and pensions recoverable from the Imperial Government.

16.—(i) A case was referred to my Department for pre-audit in which it was proposed to issue from Indian revenues a disability gratuity of £200. It was pointed out that under the arrangements made with regard to non-effective charges this gratuity was chargeable to the Imperial Government and the necessary action was taken.

(ii) In another case it was proposed to issue from Indian revenues a final disability pension of £150 per annum to an officer of the Indian Army. It was pointed out by this Department that this amount included a wound pension of £50, which was being issued by the War Office, and the rate was accordingly adjusted.

(iii) An officer who was wounded while serving in the British Army subsequently transferred to the Indian Army. A wound pension drawn by the officer from Imperial revenues was issued in India and with other similar pensions was periodically recovered from the War Office. On coming home on leave from India his pension was issued by the India Office, together with his leave pay, but it was overlooked that the pension was recoverable from the Imperial Government; on attention being drawn by this Department to the omission steps were taken to recover the amount involved, viz. £101.

Payments to Imperial Government.

17. The principal payments made from Indian revenues to Departments of the Imperial Government for services arising out of the maintenance of British troops on the Indian Establishment are dealt with in the following paragraphs.

18. War Office: Capitation Rate for Effective Services:—

A provisional advance of £1,400,000 was made as in 1926–7 and 1927–8. It has been agreed that the provisional payments made from 1st April 1920 to 31st March 1926 shall be regarded as final, but that the payments from the latter date shall be subject to adjustment when agreement has been reached as to the principle on which India's annual payment under this head shall be based. The matter has been the subject of active discussion between the Indian and Imperial Governments, and it is hoped that a decision will shortly be reached.

19. War Office: for gratuities on death, discharge, &c.:—

£49,000 was advanced on this account in respect of payments during 1928–9 less £1,929 16*s.* 6*d.* over-advanced for 1927–8.

Examination of the payments for 1927–8 gave rise to several questions, on which correspondence is proceeding.

20. War Office: on account of clothing and necessaries in possession of regiments on their transfer to and from the Indian Establishment:—

The advance of £6,000 referred to in para. 20 of Section II of the last Report has been adjusted.

A further advance of £8,000 was made to the War Office in March 1929 to meet the approximate amount due from Indian revenues for the second half of the trooping season 1927–8 and the first half of that of 1928–9. Detailed statements relating to the expenditure incurred during the period in question have been received from the War Office, but are not yet available for audit.

21. War Office: Sea Transport:—

The amount claimed in respect of trooping in 1927-8 was £326,470 17*s.* 10*d.*, against which advances amounting to £317,300 had been made (vide para. 21 of Section II of the last Report); the balance of £9,170 17*s.* 10*d.* due to the War Office has been adjusted against the advances in respect of the 1928-9 season.

The accounts for 1928-9 are at present under audit.

22. War Office: Retired pay, pensions, &c., of British Forces for service in India:—

No final agreement has yet been reached in respect of the annual payments on this account from 1913-4 onwards, but it is proposed that India's liability up to 31st March 1919 shall be covered by the agreement with the Imperial Government regarding the claims referred to in para. 3, Section I, of this Report.

It was stated in para. 22 of Section II of the last Report that the adjustment of the accounts for post-war years was considerably in arrear. No accounts beyond those for 1920-1 have yet been finally agreed with the War Office, although considerable progress has been made regarding the accounts for 1921-2 and 1922-3.

A further advance of £1,168,752 in respect of the year 1928-9 was made to the War Office.

23. Air Ministry: for Effective Services in respect of personnel of the Air Force serving in India:—

An advance of £103,125 was made, based on a provisional Capitation Rate of £50 on the numbers serving in India.

As in the case of the payment to the War Office for effective services, no adjustment will be made in respect of advances made prior to 1st April 1926, but the payments from the latter date are subject to adjustment. The question of the Air Force Capitation Rate is being dealt with in connction with that payable to the War Office, vide para. 18.

India Audit Office,
28th February 1930.

REPORT of the Auditor of Indian Home Accounts upon the Accounts of the Secretary of State in Council of India on account of the Provincial Governments, from 1st April 1928 to 31st March 1929.

MADRAS.

1. For the year 1928-9 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Madras was included in a single composite grant (No. XXXV) for Home expenditure.

2. Under Voted there was a net excess of £399 over the Budget allotment of £3,022, increased to £691 by the reappropriation of £292 to the High Commissioner's allotment in which there was a final saving of £2,041. As indicated in note (9) to the Account, the excess is due to the transfer after the close of the financial year of £1,114 under "Superannuation" from "Non-Voted" to "Voted" on account of the pension of a departmental officer.

The largest individual variation occurred under "Land Revenue—Law Charges in connection with appeals from India," where there was a saving of £1,012 compared to the Budget allotment of £1,702.

BOMBAY.

1. For the year 1928–9 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Bombay was included in a single composite grant (No. 34) for Home expenditure.

2. Under Voted the net aggregate saving of £605 out of the Budget allotment of £2,025 was mainly attributable to the saving of the entire provision of £400 under "Medical—Sundry Items."

3. Under Non-Voted, substantial modification of the original appropriation was effected during the year. In the aggregate there was a saving of only £239 out of the final appropriation of £42,850.

BENGAL.

1. For the year 1928–9 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Bengal was included in a single composite grant (No. 29) for Home expenditure.

2. Under Voted there was a saving of £2,389 out of the original allotment of £3,900. The largest individual savings were £631 and £656 under "Land Revenue—Law Charges in connection with appeals from India" and "Medical—Leave Salary" respectively.

3. The following surrenders notified by the Finance Department have not been incorporated in the Account :—

UNITED PROVINCES OF AGRA AND OUDH.

1. For the year 1928–9 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh was included in a single composite grant (No. 26) for Home expenditure.

2. Under Voted, there was in the aggregate a net excess of £315 on the Secretary of State's portion of the Grant, but in the portion allotted to the High Commissioner there was a final saving of £1,310. The excess was mainly attributable to two items, viz. £263 and £243 under "Jails and Convict Settlements—Maintenance of prisoners" and "Superannuation—Portions of pensions of Military Officers in respect of civil employment" respectively. Provision sufficient to cover these excesses was included in the Secretary of State's Revised Estimate, which, however, was modified by the Local Government as indicated in the notes to the Account.

3. Under Non-Voted, considerable modification of the original appropriation was effected during the year. In the aggregate there was a saving of £614 out of the final appropriation of £7,620.

BURMA.

1. For the year 1928-9 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Burma was included in the appropriate Departmental Grants voted by the Legislative Council.

2. Under Voted, savings of £351 and £701 occurred under "Land Revenue, Sundry Items" and "Superannuation, Portions of Pensions of Military Officers in respect of civil employment" respectively, explanations of which are given in the notes to the Account.

3. Under Non-Voted substantial modification of the original appropriation was effected during the year. In the aggregate there was an excess of £4 over the final appropriation of £34,200.

* Sinking Funds were established in connection with these Railways to redeem India 3½ and 3 per Cent. Stock issued in lieu of Annuity or Debenture Stock. These Funds have been applied to the purchase of India Stock of the denomination offering the best yield. The minus figures represent the interest on India 5½ and 2½ per Cent. Stock so purchased, and on India 3 per Cent. Stock purchased in excess of the amount issued.

† The Discount Sinking Fund in redemption of Debt incurred in excess of money raised, in respect of the India 3 per Cent. Stock issued in connection with the purchase of the Oude and Rohilkund Railway, has been partly applied to the redemption of India 5½, 4½ and 3½ per Cent. Stock instead of India 3 per Cent. Stock.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) The final grant represented one year's interest at 3·3252 per cent. (the prescribed rate to end of 1916–17) on £55,720,115, the total expenditure to 31st March 1917, plus one year's interest at an estimated rate of 5·0802 per cent. on £34,130,835 (£32,059,335, the total expenditure from 1st April 1917 to 31st March 1929, plus £2,071,500, moiety of the Revised Estimate for 1929–30). The saving is caused mainly by the rate of interest having been decreased to 5·0088 per cent., as the result of the issue of Bonds in February 1930.

RAILWAYS.

(2) The largest part of the excess has been caused by the issue of leave pay to officers regarding whose leave no information was available when the Budget was framed. The saving from the modified grant is due to the postponement beyond the end of the year of charges expected for legal expenses of arbitration and to the transfer of certain items of expenditure in connection with recruitment, at the request of the Controller of Railway Accounts, to the head "Miscellaneous Railway Expenditure."

(3) Voted. Excess over modified grant due to expenditure in connection with recruitment (vide (2)).

Grant No. 23.

(1) "Voted" excess occurred on provision for expenses of delegation to International Postal Congress.

Grant No. 24.

(1) "Non-voted" expenditure includes a charge for the salary of an officer for a period in excess of the period of 12 months which formed the basis of estimates.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

Grant No. 25.

(1) Saving made from provision for expenses of advertising issue of India Bonds.

Grant No. 26.

(1) The estimates leading to the appropriation were made before the number of subscribers to the new fund, which determined the amount of the balances on which interest has been charged under this head, could be forecasted.

Grant No. 61.

Information concerning this expenditure was not available when the Budget was framed.

Grant No. 72.

(1) Voted.—Excess due mainly to charges for pensions of military officers for years previous to 1929–30. No information concerning these charges was available when the Budget was framed.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

Note.—The expenditure recorded against certain heads of account in this Grant includes charges for furlough pay. These charges cannot usually be forecasted when the Budget is framed, as in most cases information regarding officers who may take leave is not then available in England.

A 1.—Saving due to vacancies left unfilled.

B 1.—Announcements made by His Excellency the Governor-General and questions relating to the Round-Table Conference have led to exceptionally heavy telegraphing during the year.

B 4.—"Voted" excess caused by exceptional law charges.

B 3 and 4.—Excesses could have been covered by savings under B 1 "Postage and Telegrams to India" as modified.

E 2.—Expenditure consists solely of expenses in connection with appeals from India. Only a portion of this expenditure could be foreseen when the Budget was framed.

E 4.—An account for printing examination papers was delayed beyond the end of the year, causing the larger part of the "Voted" saving.

E 6.—Excess mainly due to the leave pay of an officer (see note).

E 8.—Expenditure consists solely of leave pay of officers (see note).

E 9.—"Voted" excess due to expenditure on "Karosthi Inscriptions." At the time the Budget was framed, it was expected that these payments would be made in 1928–9.

E 10.—"Non-voted" expenditure consists solely of leave pay of officers (see note).

E 11.—Subscriptions have been paid to the International Bureau of Public Health for 1928 and 1929 while Budget provision was made for one subscription only. The remaining part of the "Voted" excess has been caused by increased expenditure on the Indian Pilgrimage Agency at Jeddah.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

E 12. Liability for contributions for which Budget provision amounting to £3,937 was made has been taken over by the Imperial Bureau of Agricultural Research.

E 13. Charges had been anticipated for a share of the services of an Air Ministry officer as Officer-in-Charge, Karachi Civil Aerodrome. The final saving resulted from delay in his joining the post.

E 14. The votable saving is largely in respect of the expenses of the India Office Library, occasioned by non-completion of cataloguing.

E 16. Savings have been made from the estimated requirements for stationery for the India Office and from the provision for cypher codes, the latter in consequence of delay in completion.

E 17. Delegates to the Conference were not known when the Budget was framed and estimates were based therefore on the experience of previous years.

E 24. Charges for this Conference were delayed until 1930-1.

E 25. Estimate leading to supplementary appropriation framed before particulars of expenditure involved were available.

E 26. Information of this expenditure was not available when the Budget was framed.

E 28. The amount of the Budget provision was fixed in India.

E 30. The Budget estimate was made before it was known that the inquiry into labour in India would take the form of a Royal Commission.

E 31 and 32. Information of this expenditure was not available when the Budget was framed.

E 37. The reappropriation from this subhead was made during March 1930, at which time a saving of about £800 was anticipated. At a later date the Secretary of State sanctioned the writing-off against Indian revenues, as irrecoverable, of the amount of the loan (£2,000) made in 1923 to assist in the production of the film-lecture "Romantic India" (vide letter from India Office to Finance Department of Government of India, dated 28th May 1930, No. A.G. 5879). The resulting excess is more than counterbalanced by savings under other subheads.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

Political.—A charge for the civil share of the Aden contribution for the three years ended 1929–30, caused an excess of £9,000.

(1) Excess caused by an increase over estimates in the number of British soldiers discharged after Indian service.

(2) Variation of expenditure from appropriation reflects variations made, at the requests of the soldiers concerned, in the amounts deducted from pay for voluntary allotments.

(3) Saving caused by exceptionally small payments for officer's leave pay during the last part of the year.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) In two appeal cases, provision for which was made in the Grant, the main expenditure was delayed beyond the end of the financial year.

(2) Non-voted.—The supplementary appropriation under "Leave Salaries, &c." was obtained to meet the cost of passages of two A.D.C.'s and £44 of this £180 provision appears as a saving. The larger part of the saving (£321) has been made from the original provision, the amount of which was fixed in India, for leave allowances. Voted.—The claim to subvention due was delayed by one university beyond the end of the financial year.

(3) "Voted" excess caused by expenses of appeal case regarding which no information was available when Budget estimates were framed.

(4) Excess caused by extension of leave of an Assistant Surgeon.

(5) The cost of training officers under Scotland Yard Scheme, for which the "Voted" provision was made, has been met by the High Commissioner.

(6) Delay in completion of "Flora of Madras," Part II, prevented payment in the financial year.

(8) Delay in the hearing of an appeal caused postponement of the main expenditure beyond the end of the financial year.

(9) Excess due to the reclassification as "Voted" of charge for the pension of a commissioned departmental officer after the Budget estimates were framed.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) Delay in an appeal case caused the postponement of the main expenditure in the case beyond the end of the financial year.
(4) Voted.—Excess caused by a charge, unforeseen when the Budget was framed, for the provincial share of the pension of an officer of the Indian Medical Department from January 1927, and by the reclassification as "Voted" of certain pensions for which provision was made in the Budget in accordance with an earlier classification as "Non-voted."
(5) The claim to subvention due was delayed by one university beyond the end of the financial year.

EXPLANATIONS of the causes of variation between Expenditure and Grant.

(1) Voted.—The claim to subvention due was delayed by one University beyond the end of the financial year.

(2) Voted.—The provision under this head was inserted in India to meet the cost of printing the "History of the Assam Rifles."

(3) Non-voted.—The officer whose leave pay was represented by the appropriation of £675 was appointed substantively to a civil department and the issue of pay was transferred in consequence to the High Commissioner. Voted.—Expenditure represents the leave pay of an officer of the I.M.D. Information that this officer would take leave was not available in England when the Budget estimates were framed.

No. 3.

REPORT of the AUDITOR OF INDIAN HOME ACCOUNTS upon the ACCOUNTS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN COUNCIL OF INDIA, from 1st April 1929 to 31st March 1930; prepared and submitted to the Secretary of State in Council, in pursuance of section 27 (5) of the Government of India Act.

---

1. This Report, which relates to the Accounts of the Central Government, is divided into two sections relating respectively to—

I. Receipts and Expenditure under heads other than those relative to Military Services;
II. Receipts and Expenditure relating to Military Services.

The sections will be reviewed as follows: No. I by the Public Accounts Committee set up by the Central Legislative Assembly; No. II by a special Departmental Committee constituted by the Government of India. The accounts of the Provincial Governments have already been dealt with in my Reports dated 23rd January 1931.

SECTION I.—NON-MILITARY SERVICES.

GENERAL.

Savings resulting from audit questions.

2. The total amount saved to Indian Revenues as a result of audit questions relating to the Home Accounts for the year is estimated at about £13,000.

Expenditure requiring sanction by Imperial Parliament.

3. The sanction of the Imperial Parliament, which is necessary under the Government of India Act, has not yet been obtained for two payments from Indian revenues mentioned in previous Reports, viz. (1) £13,100,000 paid provisionally to the War Office in 1919 in respect of a further additional contribution by India towards the cost of the war, and (2) £200,000 paid to the War Office in 1921 as an advance subject to adjustment on account of the cost of exchange concession on gratuities. The submission for sanction has been deferred pending the settlement of various large claims by the Imperial Government against Indian revenues in respect mainly of non-effective liabilities arising out of the war. It was stated in para. 3 of Section I of the last Report that the efforts to reach a comprehensive settlement of the various claims and counter-claims—major and minor—to which reference was made in paras. 4 and 5 of Section I of the Report on the Accounts for 1924–5, appeared to be nearing completion.

A further complication arose which delayed settlement, but I am now informed that this obstacle has been removed and that steps are about to be taken to obtain the necessary sanction.

Amendment of Rules.

4.—(i) Under Indian Army Regulations an Indian Medical Service officer below the rank of Colonel, appointed King's Honorary Physician or Surgeon, receives the brevet rank of Colonel, and becomes entitled to an allowance of 10*s.* 6*d.* a day until he retires or is promoted Colonel. The question whether the allowance was admissible to such officers, if in permanent civil employ, was raised by this Department in connection with leave salary certificates received from India which authorised the issue of 10*s.* 6*d.* a day throughout leave—including leave on half average pay—in this country, in addition to leave salary. It was decided that the allowance was admissible to officers in civil employ, and also that it should be issuable in full during leave under Civil Rules. Subsequently, on this Department bringing to notice certain anomalies that were occurring as the result of this decision, modifications were made which provided (1) that the allowance should be suspended when an officer officiated in, and drew the pay of, a post held substantively by an officer of higher rank, and (2) that the total emoluments drawn during leave should not exceed the maxima prescribed by the Civil Leave Rules.

(ii) The Civil Leave Rules provide that a military commissioned officer on transfer to permanent civil employ may receive a credit of leave in respect of his previous service under military rules, and that when such leave is taken the minimum leave salary shall be that prescribed by the military rules to which he was previously subject. The latter provision, which is derived from rules now superseded, enables a number of military officers in civil employ to draw leave salary during part of their leave at rates in excess of those to which they would otherwise be entitled. It was pointed out by this Department that in view of the liberalisation of the Civil Leave Rules, it appeared unnecessary to continue the concession, which gave rise to certain anomalies likely to occur with increasing frequency, and its withdrawal was suggested. After consulting the Government of India the Secretary of State accepted the suggestion in the case of future entrants, but existing rights were safeguarded.

(iii) Under Civil Service Regulations military officers in civil employ who remained subject to military leave rules were, like other officers in civil employ, not allowed to combine vacation with privilege leave so as to exceed the maximum period of privilege leave admissible to them. A corresponding restriction was through inadvertence omitted from the Fundamental Rules, which superseded Civil Service Regulations in 1922. Attention was drawn by this Department to this omission and the necessary amendment of the Rules has now been made.

Railway Capital Account.

Southern Punjab Railway. Termination of contract.

5. The right which the Secretary of State possessed of determining the contracts with the Southern Punjab Railway Company and acquiring the lines on the 31st December 1929 was exercised, the purchase price calculated in accordance with the contracts being £5,256,631 8*s*. Of this amount £3,300,000 only was paid during the year. The balance of £1,956,631 8*s*., payment of which was deferred until 30th April 1930 under the terms of the contract, was temporarily treated as Unfunded Debt.

As the lines were operated by the State-worked North-Western Railway, the agency work in this country was already in the hands of the High Commissioner.

Double application for funds by a Railway Company.

6. It is the usual practice of the Guaranteed Railway Companies to make advances to contractors supplying stores as each consignment is shipped to India. The Companies include the amounts of these advances in their applications for funds to the India Office, and the applications are submitted to this Department for scrutiny before payment is made. In the scrutiny of an application which covered several advances in respect of a contract for the supply of locomotive boilers, it was observed that the sum of these advances and those previously made largely exceeded the total contract price. On inquiry being made it was found that by inadvertence £32,136 had been included which had already been applied for and received by the Company, and this amount was accordingly deleted from their application. As other considerations than possible double payment to the contractors were involved, the matter was carefully examined in conference with the Company and agreed measures were devised to prevent similar occurrences in the future.

Concessions incorrectly granted to an officer on termination of agreement.

7. It came to notice in audit that an officer of some nine months' service who had been summarily dismissed for misconduct by one of the Guaranteed Railway Companies had been granted a free passage and six months' pay in lieu of notice. It was pointed out that action had been taken under a clause in the agreement which did not appear to be applicable, as dismissal for misconduct was governed by another clause which carried no entitlement to the concessions granted.

Correspondence ensued with the Company's Agent in India, and ultimately the Board confirmed the action taken, but issued instructions that any future cases should not be dealt with so leniently.

Freight charges.

8. Various questions were raised by this Department in connection with the rates of freight paid on shipments from this country by the Company-worked railways, which resulted in an aggregate saving during the year of £1,200.

Interest (Receipts).

Loans to Persia.

9. The amount of £14,700 shown under this head represents interest on a moiety of a loan of £490,000 made jointly by the Imperial and Indian Governments to the Persian Government. India's share of the capital sum (i.e. £245,000) was transferred in 1923–4, together with other advances amounting in all to £2,367,270 1*s.* 8*d.*, from a Suspense Account to Revenue.

Negotiations for the settlement of these loans have been in progress for several years but have not yet reached completion.

Aviation.

Airship station, Karachi.

10. The amount of £3,152 under Aviation is the estimated cost paid to the Air Ministry of the purchase and installation of generating plant for the electric lighting of the civil aerodrome at Karachi. Accommodation for the plant was provided in the power-house at the airship station, which is at present under the control of the Air Ministry, necessitating a small extension of the building, the cost of which is included in the above-mentioned amount. The work was carried out by the Air Ministry, and the charge to Indian revenues is in accordance with the accepted policy of the Government of India to provide aerodromes and necessary equipment at Government expense. I have called for detailed vouchers in support of the charge.

In para. 19 of Section I of the Report for 1927–8 reference was made to the payment of £55,000 to the Air Ministry in respect of the cost of the mooring mast erected at the airship station at Karachi. Vouchers in support of this charge have not yet been furnished by the Air Ministry.

Miscellaneous (Receipts).

Expenditure in Persia.

11. In para. 7 of Section I of the last Report, I drew attention to an amount of £5,904, part of the expenditure incurred in raising and maintaining a force of tribesmen for police purposes in Persia in 1918–9, which had been written-off as irrecoverable. I stated that, in my opinion, this amount should equitably have been borne by the Imperial Government. The Government of India, as a result of my comment (with which they agreed), requested that the matter should be reopened with the Imperial Government. The Secretary of State in Council, who throughout the dispute had taken the view that the amount should not, in equity, be borne by Indian revenues, approached the Foreign Office, but that Department declined to reverse its previous decision.

Miscellaneous (Payments).

Secret Service.

12. £8,000 was placed at the disposal of the Secretary of State during 1929–30 for Secret Service. The amount actually expended was £6,945, and the balance in hand on 31st March 1930 was £1,920 18*s.* 7*d.*

The Secretary of State has furnished me with a certificate that the expenditure was necessary for the public service.

Loss on a loan.

13. An amount of £2,000 is included in this heading on account of an advance in aid of production of the film lecture "Romantic India," which has been written-off as irrecoverable. I first drew attention to this advance in para. 29 of Section I of my Report on the Account for 1924–5, and have commented on the fact that it was still outstanding in each of my subsequent Reports. The advance was made without security and was to have been repaid within a year with interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum; the total amount lost, therefore, is about £3,000. The debtor is an American citizen and attempts have been made from time to time to effect recovery from him, but he has invariably protested that he was unable to meet this liability; the evidence available, however, seems to suggest that this is not the case and that there has been mala fides on his part. In any future similar cases it would appear to be desirable that some form of security should be obtained.

Extraordinary Receipts.

Reparations.

14. During the year 1929-30 the Dawes Plan for the payment by Germany of reparations under the Treaty of Versailles was superseded by the Young Plan. This plan definitely fixes the amount payable by Germany and the number and amount of the annuities by which this sum is to be liquidated. India is allocated 37 annuities, amounting approximately to 9 millions sterling. To arrive at the total amount which may be expected to accrue to Indian revenues, there must be added the amount received before the introduction of the scheme, approximately £1,000,000, and about £1,500,000 the surplus in India of liquidated enemy property, which it is now agreed is to be retained by India. The total to be received by India on the basis of this arrangement may thus be taken to be about 11½ million pounds. Under the Young Plan the annuity year runs from 1st April to the following 31st March, while under the Dawes Plan it ran from 1st September to 31st August. The transition was effected by setting off the amounts distributed by the Reparations Commission during the last five months of the Dawes annuity year ending 31st August 1929 against the Young annuity due for the year ending 31st March 1930. Under the Young Plan the amount for distribution among the various parts of the British Empire, excluding the United Kingdom, for the year ending 31st March 1930, was Reichmarks 53,100,000 or £2,602,941 3*s.* 5*d.*, of which India's share was £237,530 15*s.* The receipts during the year amounted to £245,173 15*s.* 10*d.*, of which £24,087 4*s.* 2*d.* was the amount received under the Dawes Scheme for March 1929. The whole of the remainder, £221,086 11*s.* 8*d.*, was treated as on account of the Young annuity for 1929-30, leaving a balance due of £16,444 3*s.* 4*d.*, which has since been received.

As by arrangement between the creditor Powers, the division of the German payments resulting from the Young Plan is accepted as a final settlement of all questions relating to deliveries already made by Germany in execution of the Treaty of Versailles, no adjustment will be made of the reparation receipts prior to the introduction of the Dawes Scheme, and consequently the provisional distribution of such receipts referred to in para. 9 of Section I of the Report on the Account for 1927-8 must now be regarded as final.

Remittances (Receipts).

Repatriation of refugees from India.

15. In para. 16 of Section I of the last Report, reference was made to expenditure incurred in India and in this country on the maintenance and repatriation in 1921 of European refugees who entered India from Central Asia. Negotiations are still proceeding in regard to the amount of £3,426 17*s.* 5*d.* still outstanding.

Persian Gulf radio offices.

16. A moiety of the expenditure incurred in India in connection with the Persian Gulf radio offices is recoverable from the Imperial Government. In examining the Indian Schedules of expenditure for 1926-7, it was observed that no debits on account of pension contributions were included therein. I suggested that information should be obtained whether the Persian Gulf radio establishment was pensionable, and, if so, why no claim had been made in respect of pension contribution.

It having been ascertained that such contributions were properly recoverable, steps were taken to raise debits with effect from the year 1928-9, and the sum of £722 15*s.* has been recovered from the Foreign Office.

I have further suggested that, as the question was raised in audit in respect of the year 1926-7, claims should be preferred in respect of the years 1926-7 and 1927-8.

Adjustment of enemy debts.

17. The receipt of £278,894 7*s.* 11*d.* under Remittance is the refund in February 1930 by the Administrator of Austrian Property in the United Kingdom of the amount of £224,782 3*s*, the surplus proceeds of liquidated Austrian property in India, which was transferred to him in January 1924, plus £54,112 4*s.* 11*d.* simple interest on this amount from January 1924 to February 1930 at the average rate of interest earned during that period. The transfer in 1924 was made under the terms of the Anglo-Austrian

Convention of 1920 at a time when it was anticipated that the proceeds of Austrian property in England would not suffice to pay the whole of the claims of British nationals against Austria. As it was found eventually that these claims could be met in full, the amount transferred from India was not required and it was therefore refunded.

Appropriation Audit.

18. Provision for Voted expenditure, excluding that on Railways, by the Secretary of State in Council was distributed under eight Grants, only one of which, Grant 84, related exclusively to expenditure by the Secretary of State.

19. Under Grant 84 (Voted) there was a saving of £2,967, i.e. 2·4 per cent. of the total provision of £123,375. The percentage saving has steadily decreased since 1925–6, when the figure was 20 per cent. There were, however, considerable differences between grant and expenditure under many of the individual subheads, the more important being:—

E 4.	General Administration (India) - - -	saving 1,318
E 12.	Agriculture - - - - -	„ 4,000
E 14.	Miscellaneous Departments - - -	„ 1,181
E 17.	International Labour Conference - - -	„ 1,006
E 26.	Contribution, Overseas Mechanical Transport Fund	excess 1,500
E 37.	Other Charges - - - - -	„ 1,222

20. The excess of £150 on the final allotment of the Secretary of State under Grant 11 is covered by savings on the High Commissioner's allotment from the Grant.

21. Under "Non-Voted" considerable modification of the original appropriation was found to be necessary during the course of the year. Additional allotments of £900 and £150 were sanctioned under "India Office Establishment—A 1 Salaries" and "India Office Expenses—B 4 Miscellaneous expenditure" respectively but were not required. On the whole, however, the expenditure approximated reasonably closely to the final appropriations under the various subheads.

22. A new head of account, viz. "Gold Standard Reserve: Revenue Equalisation Fund" was opened under "Deposits and Advances" during the year in the following circumstances. Change in classification.

The Gold Standard Reserve, which was accumulated from the profits of the coinage of silver rupees and is designed primarily to maintain the external value of those coins, has been maintained since 1921–2 at a figure of £40,000,000, held partly in gold and partly in British Treasury Bills and other sterling securities. The assets are valued periodically, and it has been the practice since 1923–4 to transfer the surplus due to accrued interest and capital appreciation to "Revenue." The annual amounts so transferred varied between 1924 and 1929 from about 1¼ to 2 million pounds, and in order to avoid such wide fluctuation it has recently been decided that as from 1930–1 the amount to be taken to Revenue shall not exceed £1,600,000 (i.e. 4 per cent. interest on £40,000,000) plus half of any surplus in excess of that amount on the year's working. The other half will be funded to make good any deficiency in the event of the surplus falling below £1,600,000.

In 1929–30 the surplus amounted to £2,742,709 2*s.* 5*d.*, of which £2,300,000 was transferred to Revenue and the balance of £442,709 2*s.* 5*d.* set aside to form the nucleus of the Equalisation Fund.

SECTION II.—MILITARY SERVICES.

Capitation Rate on account of Indian regiments lent for service in the Colonies.

1. The pay, &c., of Indian regiments lent for service in the Colonies is recovered by means of a Capitation Rate calculated on data supplied by the Military Accounts Department in India. In 1929 it was discovered that an item in respect of messing allowance had been omitted in compiling the rate applicable to the quinquennium 1924–9, and that as a result about £1,700 has been short recovered in respect of the units serving abroad during that period.

As the general practice is to make no variations in, or special adjustment in respect of, this Capitation Rate when it has been agreed by both parties, it was found to be impossible to rectify this error, but the item has been included in the Rate for the succeeding quinquennium.

National Health Insurance Fund: Accumulated surplus.

2. Reference has been made in previous Reports to the question of India's share in the accumulated surplus of the Navy, Army and Air Force Insurance Fund, which was transferred to the Imperial Exchequer under the Economy Act of 1926, and in para. 9 of Section II of the last Report it was stated to have been agreed that the matter should be referred to arbitration.

After further actuarial investigation, however, it was found possible to settle the question at issue without recourse to formal arbitration, and the sum of £36,000, which was agreed as the amount due to Indian revenues, will be received in 1931–2.

Short recovery from the Imperial Government in respect of leave passage concession.

3. Indian Army officers were granted in February 1925 certain concessions relating to passages for themselves and their families. In the case of any such officers lent to foreign Governments a charge of Rs. 50 per mensem is made to cover the cost of the concessions. This rate was not fixed until 1928, but the method of recoupment had been decided some time earlier, and in June 1926 the Air Ministry were advised that a claim would be made on them in respect of officers employed by them in Iraq. When the rate was fixed it was communicated to the Air Ministry, who were informed that the necessary adjustment would be made with effect from the date of the concession, viz. February 1925. The Air Ministry, however, declined to accept liability prior to the date of warning—June 1926—and accepted liability only in respect of officers who entered their employ after that date. The claim to retrospection to February 1925 was waived by the India Office, but the Air Ministry were asked to reconsider their refusal to accept the charge as from June 1926 in respect of the officers in their employ at that time.

At this stage the correspondence came to my notice and I pointed out further arguments in support of the claim to retrospection to February 1925. While my remarks were under consideration a letter was received from the Air Ministry adhering to their decision to accept no responsibility for officers employed prior to June 1926. I thereupon suggested that this refusal to accept the compromise proposed by the India Office afforded an opportunity to press the full claim de novo, but this was negatived by the Secretary of State in Council. Some of the arguments supplied by me were, however, used to press the Air Ministry to accept the compromise, to which that Department ultimately agreed.

The cost of the passages involved between February 1925 and June 1926 amounted on the basis of the agreed rate to over £3,000, and as, to that extent, Indian revenues have received insufficient compensation for the employment by the Imperial Government of the officers concerned, it appears to me that in the spirit of section 27 (5) of the Government of India Act the case should be noted as one in which "money arising out of the revenues of India has been appropriated to purposes other than that to which they are applicable."

Aden.

4. The Military and Political Administration of Aden was transferred to the Imperial Government from 1st April 1927, from which date Indian revenues became liable in respect thereof for a contribution of £250,000 for three years and thenceforward of one-third of the actual cost subject to a maximum of £150,000 a year. In 1927–8 and 1928–9 the whole amount of £250,000 was charged to a military head, but in the Account for 1929–30 the sum of £9,000 has been charged under "Political" as representing India's share of the cost of Political administration at £3,000 a year for the three years ending 31st March 1930.

In para. 6 of Section II of the 1927–8 Report, mention was made of certain claims and counter-claims in respect of military charges for Aden. These consisted of:—

(1) A claim by the War Office against India in respect of the net overcharge in the Indian accounts of extra effective expenditure, for a number of years prior to 1st April 1927.

(2) A claim by India against the War Office, amounting to about £27,000, in respect of a moiety of the extra non-effective charges for the post-war period until 31st March 1927.

The claim under (1) was admitted by the India Office to be valid in principle, but that under (2) was disputed by the War Office, who held that it was barred by certain mutual undertakings between India and the Imperial Government in regard to the adjustment of arrear claims arising out of the circumstances of the war and post-war periods. A settlement of the dispute was eventually reached, under which India admitted the War Office claim under (1), in so far as it arose out of the accounts for 1925–6 and 1926–7, and abandoned that part of the claim under (2) which related to the period before 1925-6, amounting to over £25,000. The War Office, on their part, agreed that certain pensionary charges in respect of Indian troops maintained in India on behalf of the Imperial Government during the post-war periods, estimated to amount to about £40,000, liability for which they had previously contested, should be adjusted as a charge against the Imperial Government in the Non-Effective account.

The amount due to the War Office under (1) in respect of 1925–6 and 1926–7 was determined at £27,500 by the India Office and the War Office in consultation, but examination by this Department resulted in its reduction to £20,000 and adjustment on that basis was effected in 1930–1.

Incorrect issue of dependants' pensions.

5.—(i) Pensions issuable to the widows of officers who die from causes other than those arising from active service are contingent upon the means of the recipient. In this connection the question of eligibility was raised by this Department in certain cases, and as a result grants were withdrawn, withheld or reduced to the extent of about £160 per annum.

(ii) Pensions granted to relatives of officers killed in the Great War are also subject to a means limit. In a case which came under notice in this Department the pension proposed appeared to be in excess of the amount admissible, and as a result of further investigation it was reduced by £36 per annum.

(iii) Attention was drawn in audit to a case where a Royal Warrant compassionate grant of £16 made in respect of the son of a deceased officer should have been withdrawn on account of improvement in his pecuniary circumstances; the necessary action was accordingly taken.

(iv) In another case it was proposed that an educational allowance, up to a maximum of £35 per annum, should be granted to the widow of an officer in respect of her daughter. As the result of a suggestion by this Department further investigation was made, which showed that the regulations would not permit of the proposed grant.

Errors relating to commutation of pensions.

6. In two cases where officers had been allowed to commute part of their pension, it was pointed out by this Department that the capital amount issued had been computed on an erroneous age basis. Overpayments amounting to £88 were accordingly adjusted.

Pensions recoverable from the Imperial Government.

7. Attention was drawn in audit to the non-recovery from the Imperial Government of a wound pension of £100 a year granted to an officer in respect of service in the British Army prior to his transfer to the Indian Army. Arrears amounting to £281 were accordingly recovered and further issues are now being claimed currently as advised from India.

Payments to Imperial Government.

8. The principal payments made from Indian revenues to Departments of the Imperial Government for services arising out of the maintenance of British troops on the Indian Establishment are dealt with in the following paragraphs.

9. War Office: Capitation Rate for Effective Services:—

A provisional advance of £1,400,000 was made as in 1926-7, 1927-8 and 1928-9. These amounts are subject to adjustment when agreement has been reached as to the principle on which India's annual payment under this head shall be based. The Indian and Imperial Governments have agreed that the question shall be referred to an independent tribunal.

10. War Office: for gratuities on death, discharge, &c.:—

£54,000 was advanced on this account in respect of payments during 1929-30 and £3,035 2*s.* 11*d.* was paid in respect of the balance due for 1928-9. The accounts for 1929-30 are now under examination.

11. War Office: on account of clothing and necessaries in possession of regiments on their transfer to and from the Indian Establishment:—

The advance of £8,000 referred to in para. 20 of Section II of the last Report has been adjusted.

A further advance of £10,000 was made to the War Office in March 1930 to meet the approximate amount due from Indian revenues for the second half of the trooping season 1928-9 and the first half of that of 1929-30. Detailed statements relating to the expenditure incurred during the period in question have been received from the War Office, but are not yet available for audit.

12. War Office: Sea Transport:—

The amount claimed in respect of trooping in 1928-9 was £336,844 7*s.* 1*d.*, against which advances amounting to £361,000 had been made; the balance of £24,155 12*s.* 11*d.* over advanced to the War Office has been adjusted against the advances in respect of the 1929-30 season.

The accounts for 1929-30 are at present under audit.

13. War Office: Retired pay, pensions, &c., of British Forces for service in India:—

No final agreement has yet been reached in respect of the annual payments on this account from 1913-4 onwards, but it is proposed that India's liability up to 31st March 1919 shall be covered by the agreement with the Imperial Government regarding the claims referred to in para. 3, Section I, of this Report.

Further progress has been made in regard to the adjustment of the accounts for post-war years, those relating to 1921-2, 1922-3 and 1923-4 having been agreed with the War Office since the date of my last Report.

A further advance of £1,158,485 in respect of the year 1929-30 was made to the War Office.

14. Air Ministry: for Effective Services in respect of personnel of the Air Force serving in India:—

An advance of £106,250 was made, based on a provisional Capitation Rate of £50 on the numbers serving in India.

As in the case of the payment to the War Office for effective services, the payments made from 1st April 1926 are subject to adjustment. The question of the Air Force Capitation Rate is being dealt with in connection with that payable to the War Office, vide para. 9.

15. Air Ministry: for Non-Effective Services in respect of personnel serving in India:—

A further advance of £15,200 was made on this account during 1929-30. Previous advances have been made as follows: 1926-7, £45,000 (including arrear payments); 1927-8, £15,800; 1928-9, £14,800.

These advances are subject to adjustment when agreement has been reached as to the method of discharging India's liability for a share of the Non-Effective charges of Royal Air Force personnel in respect of service in India. An enquiry has been in progress for some years with a view to discharging this liability by a Capitation Rate, but no conclusions have yet been reached.

INDIA AUDIT OFFICE,
27th February 1931.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

REPORT of the AUDITOR OF INDIAN HOME ACCOUNTS upon the ACCOUNTS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE IN COUNCIL OF INDIA on account of the PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS, from 1st April 1929 to 31st March 1930.

MADRAS.

1. For the year 1929–30 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Madras was included in a single composite grant (No. XXXVI) for Home expenditure.

2. Under Voted there was a relatively large difference between grant and expenditure under the majority of subheads, the most noticeable being a saving of £910 out of the Budget allotment of £1,125 under "Land Revenue—Law Charges in connection with appeals from India (reserved)."

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
23rd January 1931.

BOMBAY.

1. The form of the Appropriation Account for 1929–30 conforms in essentials to the revised form prescribed by the Auditor-General. The main alteration in the new form is the insertion of two additional columns to record (a) modifications of the Voted provision by executive authority, which hitherto have been indicated in the footnotes to the Account, and (b) the excess or saving of expenditure compared with the provision—both Voted and Non-Voted—as finally modified. In addition the date on which modifications of the original provision were notified has been shown as a footnote to the Account.

2. For the year 1929–30 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Bombay was included in a single composite grant (No. 33) for Home expenditure.

3. Under Voted the net aggregate saving of £288 out of the Budget allotment of £975 was mainly attributable to the saving of £254 of the allotment of £825 under "General Administration—Subventions to Universities, Leave Salaries and Sundry Items (reserved)."

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
23rd January 1931.

BENGAL.

1. The form of the Appropriation Account for 1929–30 conforms in essentials to the revised form prescribed by the Auditor-General. The main alteration in the new form is the insertion of two additional columns to record (a) modifications of the Voted provision by executive authority, which hitherto have been indicated in the footnotes to the Account, and (b) the excess or saving of expenditure compared with the provision—both Voted and Non-Voted—as finally modified. In addition the dates on which modifications of the original provision were notified have been shown as footnotes to the Account.

2. For the year 1929–30 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Bengal was included in a single composite grant (No. 29) for Home expenditure.

3. Under Voted there was a saving of £1,407 out of the Budget allotment of £3,375. The largest individual savings were £619 and £511 under "Land Revenue—Law Charges in connection with appeals from India (reserved)" and "Medical—Leave Salary (transferred)" respectively.

UNITED PROVINCES OF AGRA AND OUDH.

1. The form of the Appropriation Account for 1929–30 conforms in essentials to the revised form prescribed by the Auditor-General. The main alteration in the new form is the insertion of two additional columns to record (a) modifications of the voted provision by executive authority, which hitherto have been indicated in the footnotes to the Account, and (b) the excess or saving of expenditure compared with the provision—both Voted and Non-Voted—as finally modified. In addition the dates on which the supplementary grant was voted by the Legislative Council and supplementary Non-Voted appropriations were sanctioned by the Finance Department have been shown as footnotes to the Account.

2. For the year 1929–30 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh was included in a single composite grant (No. 10) for Home expenditure.

3. Under the majority of the Voted subheads there was a considerable difference between grant and expenditure resulting in a net excess of £944 which was covered by a reappropriation of £1,083 from the High Commissioner's portion of the grant.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
23rd January 1931.

PUNJAB.

1. For the year 1929–30 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of the Punjab was made by means of a single composite grant (No. 37).

2. Under Voted the net aggregate saving of £415 out of the final grant of £3,030 was mainly attributable to the saving of £254 out of the provision of £750 under "Administration of Justice: Law Charges in connection with appeals from India, &c. (Reserved)."

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
23rd January 1931.

BURMA.

1. The form of the Appropriation Account for 1929–30 conforms in essentials to the revised form prescribed by the Auditor-General. The main alteration in the new form is the insertion of two additional columns to record (a) modifications of the voted provision by executive authority, which hitherto have been indicated in the footnotes to the Account, and (b) the excess or saving of expenditure compared with the provision—both Voted and Non-Voted—as finally modified. In addition the dates on which modifications of the original provision were notified have been shown as footnotes to the Account.

2. For the year 1929–30 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Burma was included in the appropriate Departmental Grants voted by the Legislative Council.

3. Under Voted the only appreciable difference between grant and expenditure was a saving of £328 under "Land Revenue: Sundry Items."

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
23rd January 1931.

BIHAR AND ORISSA.

1. The form of the Appropriation Account for 1929–30 conforms in essentials to the revised form prescribed by the Auditor-General. The main alteration in the new form is the insertion of two additional columns to record (a) modifications of the Voted provision by executive authority, which hitherto have been indicated in the footnotes to the Account, and (b) the excess or saving of expenditure compared with the provision—both Voted and Non-Voted—as finally modified. In addition the dates on which the supplementary grant was voted by the Legislative Council and supplementary Non-Voted appropriations were sanctioned by the Finance Department have been shown as footnotes to the Account.

2. For the year 1929–30 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of Bihar and Orissa was included in a single composite grant (No. 25) for Home expenditure.

3. Under "Land Revenue: Law Charges in connection with appeals from India" a supplementary grant of £669 was obtained, which, however, was not required. Otherwise there was no appreciable difference between grant and expenditure.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.

India Audit Office,
23rd January 1931.

CENTRAL PROVINCES AND BERAR.

1. The form of the Appropriation Account for 1929–30 conforms in essentials to the revised form prescribed by the Auditor-General. The main alteration in the new form is the insertion of two additional columns to record (a) modifications of the Voted provision by executive authority, which hitherto have been indicated in the footnotes to the Account, and (b) the excess or saving of expenditure compared with the provision—both Voted and Non-Voted—as finally modified. In addition the dates on which the supplementary grant was voted by the Legislative Council and supplementary Non-Voted appropriations were sanctioned by the Finance Department have been shown as footnotes to the Account.

2. For the year 1929–30 provision for Voted expenditure by the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government of the Central Provinces and Berar was included in a single composite grant (No. 31) for Home expenditure.

3. Under Voted there was an aggregate saving of £98 only out of the final provision of £1,365.

W. A. STURDY,
Auditor.
